HORACE HART, PRINTER TO THE UNIVERSITY

PREFACE

IN accordance with the chronological arrangement adopted by us in the publication of the Oxyrhynchus Papyri, the present volume is devoted to second century texts, with the exception of the theological and some of the classical papyri. The selection of documents here published in full or described probably represents less than half the second century material discovered in 1897, but it is our intention in future volumes to deal with successive centuries up to the sixth, and then to return to the older papyri temporarily passed over. In the spring of this year excavations at Oxyrhynchus were resumed, and another large find of papyri was made, including a certain number of the late Ptolemaic period. These, together with a selection of the more important literary texts from the new find, will be published in Part IV, which we hope to issue within a year.

In proportion to the space in the present volume occupied by the literary fragments our debt is the greater to Professor Blass, to whom is due the identification of several of the classical pieces, and to a large extent their reconstruction, together with many suggestions in the commentary. Mr. J. G. Smyly has rendered us much assistance, especially in connexion with questions of ancient mathematics; the help which we have received on special points from other scholars is acknowledged in connexion with the individual papyri.

NOTE ON THE METHOD OF PUBLICATION AND LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS

IN the following pages the same general method is followed as in preceding volumes. Of the new literary texts a few are printed in a dual form, a reconstruction in modern style being appended to a literal transcript. In most other cases, as well as in the fragments of extant authors, the originals are reproduced except for division of words, addition of capital initials to proper names, expansion of abbreviations, and supplements, so far as possible, of lacunae. In 413, however, accentuation and punctuation have been introduced for the sake of greater clearness, and this system has also been adopted with the majority of the literary fragments in the 'miscellaneous' section (IV). Additions or corrections by the same hand as the body of the text are in small thin type, those by a different hand in thick type. Non-literary texts are given in modern style only. Abbreviations and symbols are resolved, the latter being all of the common kind. Additions and corrections are usually incorporated in the text and their occurrence is recorded in the critical notes; in the few instances where it was desirable to reproduce alterations in the original, a later hand is distinguished, as in the literary texts, by thick type. Faults of orthography, &c., are corrected in the critical notes wherever any difficulty could arise. Iota adscript is printed when so written, otherwise iota subscript is used. Square brackets [] indicate a lacuna, round brackets () the resolution of a symbol or abbreviation, angular brackets < > a mistaken omission in the original; double square brackets [[]] mean that the letters within them have been deleted in the original, braces { }, that the letters so enclosed, though actually written, should be omitted. Dots placed within brackets represent the approximate number of letters lost or deleted. Dots outside brackets indicate mutilated or otherwise illegible letters. Letters with dots underneath them are to be considered doubtful. Heavy Arabic numerals refer to the texts of the Oxyrhynchus papyri published in this volume and in Parts I-II; ordinary numerals to lines; small Roman numerals to columns.

The abbreviations used in referring to papyrological publications are practically the same as those adopted by Wilcken in Archiv I. i. pp. 25-28, viz.:—

I. THEOLOGICAL FRAGMENTS

401. ST. MATTHEW'S GOSPEL, I-II.

7x9.5 cm.

THESE few verses from the end of the first and the beginning of the second chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew are contained on part of a leaf from a vellum book. Unless the text was in double columns, which would make the book a very unlikely shape, the leaves were unusually small in size; for though the columns are incomplete at both top and bottom only two or three lines are missing between the last line of the verso and the first of the recto. The handwriting, which is in well-formed slightly sloping uncials of medium size, may be assigned to the fifth or sixth century. It is somewhat faded, and a second hand has here and there rewritten letters and lectional signs with a darker ink, besides correcting mistakes made by the original scribe, who was not very careful. To judge from this fragment, the text followed by the MS. was a good one, having affinities with the Codex Sinaiticus. We give a collation with the text of Westcott and Hort and with the Textus Receptus.

1. The supplement at the end of the line hardly fills the available space.

5. Above and below the superfluous θ are short horizontal strokes by the second hand.

6. τεξετε is for τεζεται; the final ε has been partially rewritten by the later hand, but was also apparently the original reading.

7. καλεσουσι: καλίσουσιν W-H., with most MSS.

10. εγερθεις: so NBCZ, W-H.; διεγερθεις C²DEKLM, &c., T-R.

11. The spacing suits δε Ἰ[ω]σηφ (NKZΓΔ, &c.) better than δε ο Ἰ[ω]σηφ (BCDELM, &c., T-R.; [δ] W-H.

14-5. The vestiges are indecisive between ιον (NBZ, W-H.) and τον ιον αυτης τον πρωτοτοκον (CDEKLM, T-R.), since with either reading the letters ων would come where they appear to do in l. 14, and there is not enough at the beginning of l. 15 to show whether the word to which ν belongs was abbreviated or not.

15. Or perhaps καλεσε [το, which would suit the length of the line rather better.

22. The final ε of λεγοντες seems to have been accidentally omitted by the original scribe.

23. The correction of τεχθεις is by the second hand.

402. FIRST EPISTLE OF ST. JOHN, IV.

8 x 5.2 cm.

A fragment of a leaf from a papyrus book, written in a clear semi-uncial hand towards the end of the fourth or in the fifth century, and containing part of 1 John iv. 11-7. The usual contractions found in biblical MSS. occur, and a horizontal stroke at the end of lines is used apparently to indicate abbreviations. The text is curiously corrupt, considering its early date, and bears evidence of extremely careless copying.

 εν τω τω τετ[ε]λειωται

Recto. 1. ταπεινεν is corrupt for ηγαπησεν.

3-4. θεν οδεις ποποτε τηθεαται is the order of the MSS., but the supplement at the end of l. 2 is already long enough, and τουνει is an easy corruption of τον θν.

Verso. 4-5. Instead of και αυτος εν τω θεω, the reading of the MSS., the papyrus seems to have καλ δ θεος εν αυτω εστιν, i. e. a repetition of the preceding words with the substitution of εστιν for μενει. ις of ημεις is written above the line, owing to want of space.

7. The scribe seems to have mixed up the contractions χς and θς. θεος is the reading of the MSS.

8. κα- stands for και.

10. After εν αυτω N and B have μενει which is omitted by A, the other MSS. being divided. It is not certain that a letter is lost after αυτω, but since εν is required to fill up the lacuna in l. 11, and the horizontal stroke is used by this scribe merely as a sign of abbreviation (cf. l. 8), [μ]ε(νει) is more probable than ε-, i. e. εν.

403. APOCALYPSE OF BARUCH, XII-XIV.

PLATE I (recto).

Of the numerous theological works of an Apocalyptic character composed shortly before or after the beginning of the Christian era, one of the most interesting is the Apocalypse of Baruch, which like many other apocryphal works is preserved only in a translation from the Greek. To the recovery of a considerable fragment of the Greek original of the Ascension of Isaiah (P. Amh. I. 1), previously known in its entirety only from the Ethiopic version, now succeeds a small fragment of the Apocalypse of Baruch in the language from which the extant Syriac translation is derived, though whether the Greek text is itself derived from Hebrew is disputed. Prof. Charles, who has published the latest and fullest edition of that Apocalypse, is strongly in favour of a Hebrew original, but his reasons are not very convincing, and the present fragment illustrates the precarious character of arguments based on retranslations into a supposed original through a version which is itself not extant.

The papyrus is part of a leaf from a book, written in brown ink in a large slightly sloping uncial hand of a moderately early Byzantine type, probably not later than the fifth century, and perhaps as early as the end of the fourth. The high point is frequently used, and there is a tendency to increase the size of the initial letters of lines. The text, so far as can be judged from the very imperfect condition of the lines preserved, is not very good; one certain error (μαρτυρήσαντες for ἀμαρτήσαντες in l. 28) of the first hand has been corrected by another person, and μεσημβρία is mis-spelt μεσεμβρία in l. 4. The curious tendency to omit the definite article (cf. ll. 16 and 24), which produces a certain harshness, is, however, not likely to be due to the scribe. But in spite of its smallness the fragment is of much interest as affording for the first time a direct opportunity of testing the fidelity of the Syriac translation. The impression created by a comparison of the two versions is that the Syriac translator was much less accurate than, for instance, the Ethiopic translator of the Ascension of Isaiah. In one passage (ll. 6–8) he has expanded the three verbs of the Greek into six by adding a synonym in each case. In another he seems to have misapprehended the meaning of the Greek, and to have introduced an idea which is quite inappropriate to the context (cf. note on ll. 25–7).

The references at the side of the text and the translation of the Syriac version are taken from the edition of Prof. Charles, whom we have to thank for several suggestions in the reconstruction of the fragment. The first ten lines of the verso are the conclusion of a prophecy of Baruch against Babylon (i.e. Rome). The recto is part of a prophecy against the Gentiles by 'a voice from the height,' and is a passage which has caused commentators much difficulty, but which the Greek helps to explain.

2-5. 'But I will say this as I think, and speak against thee, the land which is prospering. Not always does the noonday burn, nor do the rays of the sun constantly give light.' The Syriac here agrees verbally with the Greek, for the equivalent of τὸ δαηνέες which is translated as an adjective by Prof. Charles, who supplies 'always' with the verb, is, as the Greek shows, to be constructed adverbially.

6-8. 'And do not thou expect to rejoice, nor condemn greatly.' The Syriac has 'Do not conclude or expect that thou wilt always be prosperous and rejoicing, and be not greatly uplifted and do not oppress' (the last verb emended by Prof. Charles to 'be not boastful'), thus duplicating all the three verbs of the Greek, but no doubt wrongly. καταδικάζειν is equally possible in ll. 7-8.

8-10. 'For assuredly in its season the wrath will be awakened against thee which now is restrained by long-suffering as it were by a rein.' This agrees with the Syriac. Prof. Charles translates 'which now in long-suffering . . .'; but the traces before μακροθυμίας are incompatible with εἰ, the second letter being either s or e.

10-6. 'And having said these things I fasted seven days. And it came to pass after this that I, Baruch, was standing upon Mount Zion, and lo! a voice came forth from the height and said to me "Stand upon thy feet, Baruch, and hear the word of the mighty God." Here too the Syriac shows no variation. For the omission of the definite article before ἰσχυροῦ cf. l. 24 καὶ τῶν ταφῶν.

18. οὐκ: the first letter may be σ, and the second ν but not τ. The Syriac version of vv. 10-1 has 'They were therefore chastened then that they might receive mercy. But now, ye peoples and nations, ye are debtors because all this time ye have trodden down the earth, and used the creation unrighteously.'

21-2. 'For ye were always being benefited but were always ungrateful.' The Syriac has 'For I have always benefited you and ye have always denied the beneficence,' which differs by the introduction of the first person, and the use of an active instead of a passive verb in the first half of the sentence. Prof. Charles notes that the order of the words in the Syriac is unusual, and a corruption may be suspected.

23-5. 'And I answered and said "Behold, thou hast shown me the methods of the times and that which will be." The Syriac differs slightly by having a singular word for τάξεις and by inserting 'after these things' after 'will be.'

25-7. It is clear that the Greek and Syriac here diverged from each other. The Syriac has 'and thou hast said unto me that the retribution which was spoken of by thee will be of advantage to the nations.' As Prof. Charles acutely remarks, the idea of a remedial chastisement of the Gentiles seems out of place, and something is probably wrong with the Syriac text. The verb found in the Greek, ὑνερχθήσεται, does not suggest anything like 'be of advantage to,' and taken in conjunction with πράξεις the meaning 'endured' is in every way more satisfactory. Of the two doubtful letters at the beginning of l. 26 the second could be π, η, or ε, but the first, if not υ, can only be ρ, and ρη or ρλοκ is very intractable, while a compound of φέρω is required. The phrase 'will be of advantage to,' to which Prof. Charles objected, may therefore be regarded as an error of the Syriac translator. In some other respects Prof. Charles seems to us to have slightly exaggerated the inconsistencies in chapters x-xiv; cf. p. 24 of his edition. καρπὸν τῶν ταφῶν does not seem an impossible description of the prophecy in ch. xiii, and if 'the retribution spoken of by thee' is first mentioned by the cities, not by God, nevertheless it occurs in a speech put by the 'voice from the height' into the mouth of the 'prosperous cities,' of whom the abrupt mention (cf. ibid. p. 22) is not so very surprising after a section devoted to Babylon and the 'land which is prospering.'

27-32. The Syriac has 'And now I know that those who have sinned are many and they have lived in prosperity and departed from the world, but that few nations will be left in those times to whom those words shall be said which thou didst say.' The Greek does not materially differ. In l. 27 there is room for a word not expressed in the Syriac, but $\mu\epsilon\nu$ (corresponding to $\alpha\lambda\gamma\alpha$ $\delta\epsilon$ in l. 30) would perhaps be sufficient. A phrase meaning 'in prosperity' is required at the end of l. 28; but it is difficult to find a word short enough if α is the article, so it should perhaps be regarded as the relative, when there will be no need for $\kappa\alpha\iota$. The erroneous reading of the first hand $\mu\alpha\rho\upsilon\pi\eta\sigma\alpha\nu\tau\epsilon\varsigma$ is corrected to $\alpha\mu\alpha\rho\eta\sigma\alpha\nu\tau\epsilon\varsigma$ by a different writer who used much blacker ink. In l. 31 $\lambda\epsilon\chi\theta\eta\sigma\sigma\omega\tau\alpha\iota$ is rather too long for the lacuna. Perhaps $\epsilon\rho\epsilon\iota$ $\tau\iota\varsigma$.

32-3. The Syriac has 'For what advantage is there in this or what (evil) worse than what we have seen befall us are we to expect to see?'

404. SHEPHERD OF HERMAS.

Fr. (c) 7.8 × 5.3 cm.

PLATE IV (Fr. (c) recto).

Three fragments of a leaf from a papyrus book, inscribed on both sides in a sloping uncial hand of the late third or fourth century, the surface of the verso being much damaged. No line is complete, and indeed very few complete words are preserved, so that all the greater credit is due to Mr. V. Bartlet for recognizing the scraps as belonging to the lost Greek ending of the Shepherd of Hermas (Simil. x. 3. 3-4. 3). They thus form a useful supplement to P. Amh. 190, Fr. (b) verso, another papyrus fragment of the missing Greek portion of the same work, and demonstrate with equal clearness that Simonides' version of the last leaf of the Athos codex was a forgery; cf. P. Amh. 190 introd.

The text of the present papyrus seems to have differed in many points of detail from those which were the basis of the extant translations of the last chapters of the Similitudines, and only a few lines on the recto can be restored with any approach to certainty, while the verso is for the most part illegible. Fragments (a) and (b) all but join each other; but there seems to be a narrow lacuna between the bottom of Fr. (b) and the top of Fr. (c), causing the loss of a whole line on the recto. In Fr. (c) the ends of ll. 18-22 are preserved, and since these are by no means even the number of letters lost at the ends of ll. 11-17 may vary from 0-3. We have reconstructed ll. 15-21 on the hypothesis that about 11 letters are lost at the beginnings. From the lines of breakage in Frs. (a) and (b) it is probable that the lacunae at the end of ll. 4-8 are of the same size as those in ll. 11-17, and that the lacunae at the beginning of ll. 2-6 correspond to those at the beginnings of ll. 15-22.

We are indebted to Mr. V. Bartlet for several suggestions in the reconstruction of the fragments.

1-22. The extant versions of this passage (Simil. x. 3. 2-5) are as follows: (1) Versio Vulgata: . . . et omnes habentes gratiam apud dominum. igitur si habuerint domum tuam puram, tecum permanebunt; sin autem pusillum aliquid iniquitationis acciderit, protinus a domo tua recedent. hae enim virgines nullam omnino diligunt iniquitationem. dico ei: Spero me, domine, placitum eis, ita ut in domo mea libenter habitent semper. et sicut hic, cui me tradidisti, nihil de me queritur, ita neque illae querentur. ait ad pastorem illum: Video, inquit, servum dei velle vivere et custoditum haec mandata, et virgines has habitatione munda conlocaturum. haec cum dixisset, iterum pastori illi me tradidit, et vocavit eas virgines et dixit ad eas . . .

(2) Codex Palatinus: . . . et cunctam habentes gratiam apud dominum. si ergo habuerint domum tuam puram, tecum permanebunt; sin autem in aliquo spurca fuerit domus tua, protinus recedunt a domo tua. hae enim virgines spurcitiā non amant. ei ego dixi: Domine, spero me placitūrum eis ita [ut] in domo mea libenter et semper habitent. et sicut hic, cui me tradidisti, nihil de me queritur, ita neque illae virgines aliquid de me querentur. deinde ait ad illum pastorem: Scio hunc mandata custodire, et virgines has in habitationem mundam collocaturum. haec cum dixisset, rursus eidem pastori me tradidit, et virgines illas vocavit dixitque ad illas . . .

(3) Versio Aethiopica Latine: . . . et habent gratiam apud dominum. et simul atque invenerint puram domum tuam, permanebunt apud te; si autem paululum immunda fuerit aliqua res, protinus derelinquent domum tuam. nam omnino non desiderant impuritatem illae virgines. et dixi ei: Confido, domine, me placitūrum eis ut laetantes habitent in domo mea semper; sicut ille cui me tradidisti nihil habet quo increpet me, sic illae nihil habebunt quo increpent me. et dixit pastori: Scio vilam velle servum domini, et servaturum esse haec mandata, et virginibus placitūrum in puritate. et postquam rursus tradidit me, virgines vocavit et dixit eis . . .

4. The word in this line ought to correspond to pusillum (ελαχιστον τι), iniquationis (ρυπαρον), or acciderit (γεννηται or συμβη), but the vestiges are very intractable. Those of the third letter suit a β better than anything else, but unfortunately no β occurs elsewhere in the papyrus. The fifth letter is very uncertain; λ is possible, but not ν. The last letter of the line is represented only by the bottom of a vertical stroke and may be ι. Neither ρυπαρον, μικρον, μικρον, συμβη nor λαμβανον are admissible.

5. Possibly αποχληρησινουσιν απο σου.

7-8. Perhaps πανταπειν ουκ αγαπωντων την ρυπαροτητα, but the substantive in l. 8 no doubt corresponded to the adjective in l. 4 which seems not to have been ρυπαρος.

11. Perhaps ταυτας εις τον αιωνα κατοικησαι.

15. οιδεα: the δ has been corrected from ι (δ). The papyrus thus agrees with the Codex Palatinus and Ethiopic version (scio) against the Vulgate (video).

18. εν καθαροτητι: so the Ethiopic in puritate; the Latin versions have habitatione munda or in habitationem mundam.

22. The word or words lost at the beginning of this line have nothing corresponding to them in the versions.

40-2. The corresponding passages of the versions (Simil. x. 4. 3) are as follows:—

(1) Versio Vulgata: qui novit igitur calamitatem huiusmodi hominis et non eripit eum, magnum peccatum admittit et reus fit sanguinis eius. facile igitur, &c. (2) Codex Palatinus: [qui novit igitur] angustiam eius et non redimit eum magnum peccatum admittit et fit reus sanguinis eius. (3) Versio Aethiopica Latine: qui autem novit adfectionem eius qui ita se habet nec salvat eum, magnum peccatum admittit et fit occisor eius. The papyrus differs from these considerably; not only is the plural (ωνων) found in place of the singular (reus), but the remains of l. 40 do not in the least support anything like magnum peccatum admittit. Apparently the papyrus omitted that phrase and in its stead had a participial phrase depending upon the preceding words which is not represented in the translations. γ of γεινοντα has been corrected, probably from β or δ.

405-406. THEOLOGICAL FRAGMENTS.

PLATE I (405 and 406 verso).

We here group together fragments of two different theological works, which we have not been able to identify, both containing quotations from the New Testament.

405 consists of seven fragments written in a small neat uncial hand, which is not later than the first half of the third century, and might be as old as the latter part of the second. The ordinary contractions $\overline{\theta}\varsigma$, $\overline{\chi}\varsigma$, $\overline{\omega}\varsigma$ occur; and it is clear that the use of these goes back far into the second century. Besides its early date (it is probably the oldest Christian fragment yet published), 405 is interesting on account of a quotation from St. Matthew iii. 16-7 describing the Baptism, which is indicated by wedge-shaped signs in the margin similar to those employed for filling up short lines, e.g. in Fr. (a) ll. 9 and 13.

406 is part of a leaf from a papyrus book and contains the quotation from Isaiah vi. 10 also found in Matthew xiii. 15 and Acts xxviii. 27. The citation appears here in its New Testament form, omitting the $\alpha\upsilon\tau\omega\upsilon$ after $\delta\sigma\omega$ found in the LXX version. The large and upright uncial hand is comparable with that of 25 and 224 and is probably to be assigned to the third century. Besides the ordinary contractions we have $\epsilon\sigma\tau\rho\nu\sigma$ for $\epsilon\sigma\tau\alpha\nu\rho\omega\mu\acute{\epsilon}\nu\sigma$ in l. 21.

16-22. Owing to the number of variations in the text of this passage (Matt. iii. 16-7) and the irregularities of the papyrus with regard to the ends of lines, as shown by Col. i, some of the restorations are rather doubtful. Both ουρανοι in l. 14 and ουρανων in l. 18 may have been contracted. In l. 16, if πνευμα was written out in full, τό and τοῦ, which are omitted by N and B, may have been also omitted by the papyrus; and that καί, which is found in some MSS. before ἐρχόμενον, was not in the papyrus is fairly certain. The supplement in l. 17 is rather short. The only known variant which would be longer is πρὸς for ἐν, found in several cursives. In l. 19 there is certainly not room for the best-attested reading οὗτός ἐστιν ὁ υἱὸς μου ὁ ἀγαπητός: either the papyrus agreed with D in reading σὺ εἶ τοῦτός ἐστιν, or else ὁ υἱὸς μου was omitted or placed after ἀγαπητός.

407. CHRISTIAN PRAYER.

14.5 x 15.7 cm.

A short prayer written in rather elongated and ornate, though not very regular, uncials, which we should assign to the end of the third or to the fourth century. On the verso is the title 'A prayer,' and below a brief memorandum of some amounts in cursive.

1. ο ποιησας κ.τ.λ.: the phrase is from Psalm cxlvi. 6; cf. Neh. ix, 6, Apoc. xiv. 7.

3. εξαλειψον κ.τ.λ.: cf. Ps. l. 9 πάσας τὰς ἀνομίας μου εξαλειψον, &c.

10. The meaning of χωρ() is doubtful; with λιτραί immediately following, it is unlikely to be the liquid measure found in the forms δέχωρον and τρέχωρον in B.G. U. 248. 26, 531. ii. 5. χωρ(εῖ) or χωρ(ε) is more probable.

II. NEW CLASSICAL FRAGMENTS

408. ODES OF PINDAR.

Fr. (a) 13 x 15 cm.

PLATE II.

FOUR fragments of a lyric work in Pindaric dialect written in medium-sized uncials, with a few corrections and marginal notes in various hands. On the verso are some money accounts in a second century cursive. The writing on the recto, which bears much resemblance to that of the semi-uncial contracts from Oxyrhynchus of the Domitian-Trajan period (e.g. 270), belongs to the early part of the second century or even to the end of the first. Sub-divisions of the poem are indicated by paragraphi, while an elaborate coronis apparently marks the beginning of a new poem, as in the Bacchylides papyrus; the high stop is employed, and occasional breathings, accents, and marks of elision and quantity occur. Fragment (b) probably belongs to the second column of fragment (a), and since this arrangement accounts for forty-eight lines in this column, it is unlikely that more than two or three, if any, lines are lost between those two fragments. The position of fragments (c) and (d) is obscure.

The authorship of the piece is made certain, as was perceived by Blass, by the correspondence of the last line of fragment (b) ν δελφίνος υπ[with the beginning of Pindar, Fr. 235 (Christ), a quotation in Plut. Quaest. Symph. vii. 5. 2 (cf. De soll. anim. 36) of a passage in which the poet compares himself to a dolphin:— δ Πίνδαρος φησι κεκινήσθαι πρὸς ῥῶδην ἄλλον δελφίνος ὑπόκρισιν τὸν μὲν ἀκρόνομος πόντου ἐν πελάγει αὐλῶν ἐκίνησεν ἑρατὸν μέλος. Another extant Pindaric fragment (200) occurs in ll. 58-9; cf. note ad loc. Dismissing the first twenty-two lines, of which the merest fragments remain, we have in ll. 23-42 most of the last antistrophe and in ll. 43-54 part of the last epode of one poem, and in ll. 54-69 part of the first strophe of the next. The subject of the antistrophe, which has suffered much damage through the obliteration of the ink in the latter parts of several lines, is the vengeance taken by Heracles upon Laomedon. Though the general thread of the construction in ll. 23-35 has yet to be discovered, their restoration is a by no means hopeless undertaking, for the vestiges of letters in the effaced parts are generally sufficient to verify the right conjectures when they are made. The second poem has in the margin at the beginning traces of what seems to have been its title, but these are too slight to give a clue to the subject. The first strophe contains an interesting tribute by Pindar to one of his predecessors in the field of lyric poetry, which may be compared with the conclusion of the recently discovered Persae of Timotheus.

In this, as in the other new classical fragments, many of the restorations of lacunae and suggestions in the commentary are due to Blass.

11. The supposed ΑΙ at the end of the line are really more like Ν.

12. μαντευμα[τ]ων is written in a semi-uncial hand in the margin between ll. 12 and 30, and so far as its position goes might refer to either. Probably it and the marginal adscript at the beginning of the new poem (l. 55) were due to the same person, who may be identical with the writer of the main text. The note below l. 69 is almost certainly in a different hand, and the corrections in ll. 31, 32 and 63 seem to be by a third person.

30. ΒΑCΙΑΗ[: either βασιλῆ[ος or βασιλῆ[ος]] &c can be read. ξενόδακτυς occurs in Eur. Herc. Fur. 391 as an epithet of Cynus, who was killed by Heracles. But here the 'king who murders strangers' is Laomedon; cf. l. 40.

32. The 'founder of Delos' is no doubt Apollo.

33. The doubtful Ε after ΠΑΥC may be Α.

34. βαρυσφάραγος occurs in Pindar, Isth. 8. 47, and ερισφάραγος is found in the Homeric Hymn to Hermes, but λ[ι]γυσφάραγος is new.

36-42. 'Remember that he set up an altar in the dells of holy Paros to thee, the king, and to his honoured father, son of Cronos, having passed over the isthmus to the other side, when he came a herald of fated doom to Laomedon.'

36. μνάσθῃ is for μνάσθῃ, Apollo being addressed; cf. l. 35 ἐκαβδλε. The subject of ἔσαστο is Heracles, who, according to Apollodorus ii. § 99, came to Paros when on his quest for Hippolyte's girdle, after which enterprise he went to Troy. παρὶ Κρονίῳ means Zeus; cf. Ol. 2. 13 Κρόνιε παῖ.

55 sqq. '... song and harmony ... were devised by one of the Locrians who dwell beside the white-crested hill of Zephyrium in furthest Ausonia, a rich city; he dedicated ... a single paean meet for Apollo and ...: I hearing his brief melody, plying an art of ceaseless words, am moved to song like a sea-dolphin ...'

55. Perhaps Ἰώνων, but Ἰαόνων would be the form expected. In the marginal adscript the doubtful μ in the first line might be δ or λ preceded by another letter, and the doubtful α might be ο, while a narrow letter such as ι may have been lost between them. For υμῖνος there is not space enough. Instead of κη in the third line και is possible, and the last word may be Ἀπόλλ(ων); cf. l. 64. Pindar wrote several ὑμνοι to Apollo; cf. Pausan. x. p. 858 καθέξασθαι τε τὸν Πίνδαρον καὶ ᾄδειν ὅποσα τῶν ᾠμάτων ἐς Ἀπόλλωνα ἔστιν.

58. The reference is to Xenocritus (or Xenocrates) who invented the Locrian mode (Λοκρίστι); cf. Westphal, Metrik der Griechen, I. p. 286. For the restorations of this line and the next cf. Pind. Fr. 200 quoted by the scholiast on Ol. x. 17 τραχέα δὲ εἰκότως λέγοντο (Locri) λοφώδης οὖσα καὶ ἐπιθαλασσίδιας· αὐτὸς γάρ φησιν· οἱ τ' ἀργιλοφον παρ Ζεφυρίου κολώνων.

60. ΑΟΥCYITE is rather long for the lacuna, and possibly ΚΟΛΩ|N|ANYITE|P should be read.

61. ANΘ. [: above A is what may be a mark of quantity, probably υ. Ε can be read in place of Θ.

62. For [δ]χημα cf. Pind. Fr. 124 ἐρατὴν ὄχημ' αἰοῦδαν.

63. For the form παῖθ'οινα cf. Bacchyl. 15. 8.

67. For ἐρεθίζομαι cf. Plut. De soll. anim. 36 δελφίνι Πίνδαρος ἀπεικάζων ἑαυτὸν ἐρεθίζεσθαι φησιν (ἀλίου δελφίνος ὑπέκρινεν κ.τ.λ.). The next words would be expected to be πρὸς αἰοῦδαν (cf. the quotation as given in the introd.), but instead of this the papyrus has ΠΡΟCAYTA|, the last letter being extremely doubtful. Possibly αυτῶν is corrupt for αἰοῦδαν: if not, it must refer to αἰοῦδαν in l. 56.

70. This note probably refers to l. 53.

409. MENANDER, Κόλαξ.

PLATES II and III.

A notable increase has been effected during the last few years in the fragments of Menander, the discovery of the Geneva fragment of the Γεωργός being rapidly followed by that of the Oxyrhynchus fragment of the Περικειρομένην. Another welcome addition is now made by the following considerable fragment of the Κόλαξ, a comedy previously represented only by a few short quotations, and some mutilated lines in P. Petrie I. iv. 1 assigned with much probability to this play by Blass (Hermes, xxxiii. p. 654, Rhein. Museum, lv. p. 102). The identification is established by the fortunate occurrence in the papyrus (ll. 42-4) of three lines quoted from the Kóλαξ by Stobaeus, Floril. 10. 21 (Fr. 294 of the Menander fragments in Kock's Fragmenta Comicarum); while another line and a half formerly placed among the ἀγῆλα δράματα (Kock, Fr. 731) occur in ll. 49-50.

As is well known, this play was utilized by Terence in his Eunuchus, a fact which he himself states in the prologue (ll. 30-2):

Colax Menandri est: in ea est parasitus Colax et miles gloriosus. eos se non negat personas transtulisse in Eunuchum suam, the 'parasitus' Gnatho representing Menander's Στρουθίας, and the 'miles gloriosus,' who in the Kóλαξ was called Βίας (cf. l. 32), appearing as Thraso (cf. Kock, Fr. 293, Plutarch, Mor. 57 a). But not much can be inferred from this concerning the plot of the Kóλαξ, since the Eunuchus was the product of a contaminatio of two Menandrian dramas, the second being the Εὐνούχος; and where Terence was following the one and where the other cannot be accurately determined. Unfortunately on this point the present papyrus, notwithstanding its length, does not bring much enlightenment. Throughout the first column the beginnings of the lines are lost; and though different speakers are occasionally distinguished, and the sense of a line or two may here and there be caught, it is impossible either to follow the course of the dialogue or evolve a connected idea of the action. In ll. 1-13 the speaker is possibly Struthias, the parasite, and a comparison with Terence, Eunuchus ii. 2, would then suggest itself; but the resemblance, if indeed there can be said to be a resemblance, was not more than a general one. A closer parallel is obtainable between ll. 11-3 and Terence, Eunuch. iii. 4, a speech by Antipho. Lower down in the column other characters appear and the names Doris and Phidias (ll. 18-9) are mentioned; perhaps therefore a change of scene occurred in the course of this column, and the transition may be marked by the space between ll. 13 and 14. Column ii, which succeeds without a break, is in a more satisfactory condition. Probably a new scene opens at l. 39, from which point as far as l. 53 we have a dialogue between two persons who are walking in the street followed by a slave carrying wine-jars (l. 47). One of them is infuriated by the sight of the parasite, Struthias, whom he declares (ll. 45-53) he would like to unmask in the open market-place. Below l. 53 is a coronis and a short line; and then another dialogue succeeds in which the speakers are the familiar young man (A.) and his tutor (B.; cf. l. 55 τροφίμῳ), the latter of whom makes a speech of some length upon the iniquities of the race of parasites (ll. 55-63). It would at first sight be natural to suppose that a change of scene occurred at l. 54, and that the short line is a stage direction. But what remains of l. 54 does not seem to suit this view, while on the other hand it can be easily connected with what follows; and, moreover, the speech of the tutor would succeed so appositely upon the outburst in ll. 45-53 as to give strong support to the hypothesis that the speakers in the upper half of this column are the same as in the lower. Line 54 must then be assumed to be defective. In the third column a different and apparently more dramatic scene opens, the transition to which is lost with the first few lines. This column is detached from the preceding two, but that it followed them immediately is rendered almost certain by the fact that this accords not only with the recto, where we have the correct amount of margin, but also with the verso, which has been used for an account. The break in the papyrus separates the figures of a column from the items to which they relate, and though the latter are too much defaced for the connexion to be established with certainty, the coincidence of the lines with the figures and the width of the resulting column, which exactly corresponds with that following it, suffice to make this relation of the fragments extremely probable. There is then hardly room for doubt that this was the next scene of the play; but although twenty lines remain, of which not more than a few letters or syllables are missing, the situation is very obscure. There is apparently only one change of speaker (l. 89); the soldier Blas, a leno, and a girl seem to be involved; but their relations are not made clear, and the Eunuchus seems to provide no definite clue. The mention of σπαριώται in l. 82, with the passage in the next speech (ll. 91-4) 'If he perceives it he will come bringing sixty comrades, even as many as Odysseus took with him to Troy, with shouts and threats,' may recall the scene (Eunuch. iv. 7) where Thraso with his comrades prepares to attack the house of Thais, a passage with which Blass also connects the Fayûm fragment referred to above; but it is difficult to work out the analogy.

The MS. is written in rapidly formed medium-sized uncials which we should assign to about the middle of the second century. This date is also indicated by the two marginal notes, one of which is of some length, written by the original scribe in a smaller and more cursive hand, and also by the accounts already mentioned on the verso, which are not later than the first half of the third century, and may belong to the end of the second. Changes of speaker are marked by double dots and paragraphi as in the Περικειρομένη fragment (211); stops are frequently added, the high point as a rule being used, though the middle (so apparently at the ends of ll. 6 and 35) and low point (l. 44) also occur, and accents, breathings, &c., are found here and there: most or all of these lection signs are by the first hand. The text is but mediocre in quality, for in addition to minor errors half a line may be missing at l. 54 (see above), and the blank space after l. 13 is suspicious.

4-8. Blass suggests the following restoration of this passage: [ἐπεὶ γὰρ ἐξέπλευσεν] ἐπὶ

10. π[ο]ητέον: cf. ll. 67 and 85. The Attic form is also preserved in the Περικειρομένη papyrus, 211. 2.

13. The blank below this line may indicate a change of scene (cf. introd.), but it might also mean that there was some omission at this point; cf. l. 54.

18. Δωρίς: there is no doubt about the reading. Either Δωρίς is an adscript concerning the speaker (cf. 211) which has been incorporated into the text or we must suppose the loss of a foot at the end of the line.

23. There is a blank space before K in which there are no traces of ink, though K is clear enough; but it is possible that the ink has scaled off.

28. διμοιρίτης: the meaning of the word is explained in the marginal note; it is equivalent to the Latin duplicarius.

31. The line probably ran νυνὶ δὲ ταῦτα πάντα ἀπ' ἡχῆς κ.τ.λ., as Blass suggests.

39-67. A (a young man). 'What . . . has swooped down on us and whence is it? . . . that he is a knave is evident.'

B (tutor of A). How?

A. No honest man ever grew rich quickly. For while he is putting by and living thriftily, the man who lays a trap for his patient watchfulness gets everything.

B. How unjust it is what you say.

A. I swear by the sun that if the slave were not following me carrying the Thasian jars and there were no suspicion of my being drunk, I would at once pursue him in the market-place crying: "Fellow, last year you were poor and an outcast, but now you are rich. Say what trade you have been working at; answer me this, whence have you got all this? Won't you be off . . . somewhere else? Why do you teach men wrong? Why do you declare to us that there is profit in evil-doing?"

B. There is one character, my boy, only one which has brought utter ruin upon the world, and so I tell you. This alone it is that has ruined all the cities which you have seen laid waste, as I have now discovered. All the tyrants, all the great rulers, satraps, captains, founders, generals—I mean those who have come to complete ruin—this alone has been their destruction, namely the miserable parasites who attend them.

A. That is a violent speech; but I am not sure what is the meaning of this.

B. Any one might be so mistaken as to suppose the man who was intriguing against him to be his friend.

A. But if the intriguer is powerless?

B. Every one has power to do evil.'

34. The supposed point after ΕΙ may be a vestige of another letter.

39. τί ἐξ αὐτῶν . . . would be suitable, but it would then be quite impossible to get two more feet into the remaining space, which seems in any case almost too short for the exigencies of the verse; but something may have dropped out.

42-4 = Stob. Flor. 10. 21. οὐδείς is also found in the Parisinus; οὐδείς Kock. αὐτῶ in l. 43 is the reading in Stobaeus, but αὐτός is a probable correction.

49-50 = Eustathius 1833. 58. Grotius' emendation of νῦν to νυνὶ is confirmed by the papyrus.

52. ἐκ τῆς [πόλεως] is an obvious restoration, but it seems impossible to get so much into the lacuna; ἀγορᾶς is also too long.

54. For a discussion of this passage see introd.

58. The vestiges would suit ΟΙΚΟΝ, and δὲ νῦν κατ' οἶκον is a just possible reading.

62. ΑΝΗΡΗΚΑΝ must be altered to ἀνήρκεν; the mistake was a natural one, with ὀλάκεν in the next line.

63. To find a restoration of this passage which at once suits the sense and the papyrus is not easy. οἱ πάρεσιν naturally suggests itself, but the letter after Ο is almost certainly Υ, not Ι, and before ΕΙCΙΝ the traces would be consistent with the tip of a letter like Α, Λ or Μ but hardly with Ρ. On the other hand, . . . εἰσιν seems a fatal obstacle to the alternative of making ἄδελφοι refer to the τύραννοι, &c., and reading οὗς . . . αὐτοῖς ἄδελφοι.

89. λῆμοι: 'starvelings' as in Poseidipp. Fr. 26. 12 (Kock, iii. 343) κυμνοπρίστας πάντας ἢ λῆμονες καλῶν. For [βλῶν] ἔχοντες ἐν ταῖς] χερσίν cf. the compounds ἀποχεροβλώτος and ἀποχερόβιος.

92. ἐξήκοθ': cf. Apollod. Epit. 5. 14 εἰς ταύτον (the wooden horse) Ὀδ. εἰσελθεῖν πείθει πενήκοντα τοὺς ἄριστους, ὡς δὲ ὁ τὴν μικρὰν γράφας Ἰλιάδα φησί, τρισχιλίου.

96. In the right margin opposite this line are traces of a marginal note, but it is hopelessly effaced. τῆ ἀδα is the name of the girl who is referred to by ἐμὴν in the previous line and is the subject of ll. 97-9. A paragraphus may be lost between ll. 95-6 and there is very likely a change of speaker at this point.

97. The final letter may be l, but some correction of the latter part of this line is in any case necessary. ἡ μὲ ἐλάμβανεν is a simple alteration.

102-6. Ἀστυνάκτος must have occurred in one of the lines lost at the top of this column, the note being added at the bottom to explain the reference. For Astyanax cf. Athen. x. 413 a Ἀστυνάξ δ' ὁ Μιλήσιος τρις Ὀλύμπια νικήσας κατὰ τὸ ἐξῆς παγκράτιον. Athenaeus tells a story of his eating a dinner which was intended for nine persons.

103. γ/: this abbreviation of γάρ is the same as that found in the papyrus of the Ἀθηναίων πολιτεία, like those for δέ and καί in l. 104.

104. Ἐρατοσθένης: i.e. Eratosthenes of Cyrene, the librarian at Alexandria under Euergetes I and Philopator. His Ὀλυμπιονίκαι is referred to by Athenaeus iv. 154 a, Diog. Laert. viii. 51.

105. The letter before των was the figure giving the number of the book.

106. τὴν περίδον: i.e. the four great public games; cf. e.g. Athen. x. 415 a ἐνέκησε δὲ τὴν περίδον δεκάκις.

410. RHETORICAL TREATISE.

PLATE IV (Cols. i-ii).

A treatise on Rhetoric in the Doric dialect is something of a surprise, but that such was the character of the work from which these fragments are derived admits of no doubt. The dialect, though occasionally corrupt, is the same as that found in the fragments of Archytas of Tarentum and other Pythagoreans, and in the anonymous Διαλέξεις Ἠθικαί, the composition of which is attributed to the beginning of the fourth century B.C. (cf. Mullach, Fragm. Phil. Graec. i. pp. 544 sqq.; ii. pp. 9 sqq.). To the same period and probably to the same school the present treatise is also to be assigned. The precepts inculcated by the writer are of a simple and practical character, and their principal object is the attainment of μεγαλοπρέπεια, which, as we also know from Quintilian (Inst. Or. iv. 61-3), was specially included among the narrandi (cf. l. 15 ἐν δὲ [ῥᾷ] διαγίγσει) virtutes by certain authorities. Poetical quotations are freely introduced, a circumstance which forms another connecting link with the Διαλέξεις; cf. Mullach, op. cit. i. pp. 546, 548.

The greater part of four consecutive columns is preserved, the first of these being practically complete. They are written in a neat, rather small, round uncial hand which we should place in the latter half of the second century A.D., though the contents of the verso, a series of epigrams (464) in a semi-uncial hand, appear to be of a considerably later date. The columns lean over rather markedly to the right. Quotations usually, though not always, project by a letter or two into the left margin, as in other papyri of this period (cf. e.g. 220). The text is not very good, and in several passages the corruption has gone considerably deeper than the mere debasement of the dialect.

1-20. ‘... And others will esteem you; and also if in speaking at the commencement of the address of ingratiation one appears to use common phrases and not written ones, and speaks of nothing as a matter of certain knowledge, but of opinion and hearsay, whether from the jury or others. Such are the points in the exordium which are useful as giving an impression of fairness. In the narration of facts, the following directions serve to produce an appearance of a superior and high-minded character.’

1. καὶ τοὶ δικαστῆρες perhaps preceded; cf. ll. 11-2.

4. ἐφόδων: ἐφοδος was a technical term in Rhetoric, corresponding to the Latin insinuatō; cf. Cic. De Invent. i. 15. 20 ‘insinuatio est oratio quaedam dissimulatione et circumfusione obscuri subiens auditoris animum,’ and ad Herenn. i. 7. 11.

5. καὶ is not wanted and is perhaps corrupt, and the construction of γεγραμμέναις is difficult. Something may have dropped out as in the previous line; cf. also l. 8.

22. The letter before ΟΝ must apparently be either Ε or Θ.

29. The doubtful Π may be Η and ἤ[μ]εν is a possibility.

31. Above the supposed Ε at the end of the line is what looks like a curved stroke in different ink which might represent Y or X; but it is perhaps meaningless. The only other abbreviation used in the papyrus is the horizontal line representing N.

38 sqq. The intelligible part of this column is mostly occupied with quotations. Lines 48-54 are from Iliad ix. 389, 404, 381, and 385, and ll. 55-7 from Il. iv. 443; καλλος ἐπίλοι is the ordinary reading in ix. 389 instead of εἶδος ἐπίλοι. We have not succeeded in identifying the citation from Sophocles in ll. 59 sqq.

71-85. 'Moreover take no pleasure in making indecorous or insolent statements, for that is mean and a sign of an intemperate disposition, while the avoidance of abuse is a mark of high-mindedness and an ornament of speech. Next to this, in all your narration you must have a good object and a good intent, whether you are . . . or expressing an opinion or desire.'

72. ἀδε[ως]: or ἀδε(ε')[ως] or ἀδε[ωσ].

80-1. ΔΙΑ[.]AC cannot be right, and δια[γ]η (= διαγη) is a simple correction, which is confirmed by δια[γ]ίο in l. 82.

93-107. ' . . . and blaming the wicked. For men will suppose that you resemble whomever you praise, or blame, or hate, or welcome. For most men approve of their like. Hence the saying "I never asked, knowing that he is like those whose company he enjoys."'

93. ἀνθρῶ[π]ίνους?

95-6. Something has evidently gone wrong with the text; Blass suggests ὁποῖως γὰρ θην αἰε[ί] κα. At the end of the line C might be read instead of IT.

98. XPHZOI must be a mistake, and probably more is wrong than the mood, for χρηζης in the sense of χρη 'converse with' does not seem very likely. Perhaps XPHZOI has got in here from l. 85.

103-7. The quotation is from Euripides' Phoenix, Fr. 803. 7-9 δοῖς δ' ὁμῶν ἥδεται κακοῖς ἀνὴρ οὐ πάποισ' ἡρώτησα κ.τ.λ.

114-23. 'This conduces also to persuasiveness; for to have forgotten produces credit for absence of malice and for spontaneity. Occasionally this is to be simulated. And almost all irony is high-minded.'

120. MIN is here a vox nihili; no doubt it represents some other word or words, though the sentence would run quite well if MIN be simply omitted. Blass suggests ἐστὶ δ' ὅκα μὴ εἰδῶμεν τὰ τοιαῦτα, 'Sometimes pretend not to have even a knowledge of such things.'

122. εἰρ[ω]ν[ι]κόν is used in the Aristotelian sense as opposed to ἀλαζονεία.

411. LIFE OF ALCIBIADES.

21.6 x 18 cm.

A leaf from a vellum codex of a historical work, written in double columns in a calligraphic uncial hand resembling that of the Codex Alexandrinus. The fragment was found with papyri of the later Byzantine period but is certainly not later than the sixth century, and more probably it is to be assigned to the fifth.

The leaf is a good deal worm-eaten, and the writing being on very thin vellum has a tendency to come through on to the other side. There are no lection-marks of any kind, nor are initial letters of lines larger than the rest. N at the end of a line is generally represented by a horizontal stroke.

The fragment, which despite its brevity covers the period from the mutilation of the Hermae to Alcibiades' arrival at Sparta, clearly belongs to a life of Alcibiades rather than to a general history. This fact, coupled with the use of such a phrase as ἐξορχήσασθαι τὰ μυστήρια (ll. 25-6), which is found in Lucian, Achilles Tatius, and other late writers, indicates that the work in question was a composition of the Roman period. Thucydides is the principal authority, several phrases from him being incorporated; but that he was not the exclusive source is shown by the mention of Πουλωνίων, whose name is recorded by Andocides (De Mysteriis, p. 7, Reiske) and Plutarch (Alcib. 19, 22), but not by Thucydides; cf. l. 57, where the papyrus comes into conflict with Thucydides. There is no reason to think that the writer borrowed from the much more detailed narrative of Plutarch, whom it is as likely as not that he preceded.

So brief an account of well-known events could hardly be expected to contain new historical information, but the papyrus is interesting as a specimen of one of Plutarch's rivals in the sphere of biography who must have enjoyed considerable vogue for a time. There are a few errors on the part of the copyist, but the style of the fragment is fairly good. The sympathies of the writer were obviously on the side of Alcibiades.

‘(The Athenians) considering that (the mutilation of the Hermae) was not only an (outrage) but a conspiracy to establish a tyranny, and recalling the brutality of the Pisistratidae, sought to discover the authors by large rewards for information. Alcibiades in particular they held in suspicion, judging from his pride and position that he was ambitious of a great career. An informer gave evidence in no way bearing on the Hermae, but accusing Alcibiades of having betrayed the mysteries at the house of Pulytion; whereupon Alcibiades came forward in the assembly and defended himself, demanding that the case should be decided before he became general. But his accusers resisted, urging the people not to delay the prospects of the (expedition) . . . , firstly because both Mantineans and Argives were joining in the expedition (owing to him) and were already present at Athens, and secondly because they knew that the Athenians, in their desire to start for Sicily, would acquit him. Such were the circumstances under which Alcibiades departed, after making many just protestations that they should pay no attention to slanders; and having sailed to Sicily he won over nearly all the cities settled there through their friendly intercourse and relations with him. But while he was still with the expedition at Catana, the events at Athens intervened; for his calumniators again accused him before the ecclesia of the mutilation of the Hermae, . . . the Athenians imprisoned amongst others Andocides the orator, and sent to fetch Alcibiades the ship called the Salaminia, which, on account of its great speed and because it was equipped at the public charge, was usually employed on sudden emergencies. Alcibiades however, on being summoned for trial, was aware that the Athenians had already condemned him in advance and would not wait for his defence, and (accompanied the Salaminia as far as) Thurii, where he took flight and sailed to the Peloponnese, voluntarily surrendering himself to the Lacedaemonians. There he subsequently made a public speech in defence of the injuries which he had inflicted upon the Peloponnese, alleging that they (the Lacedaemonians) had passed him over and honoured Nicias, and urging the Lacedaemonians to help the Sicilians at once on the ground that, if they failed to assist them speedily, the hopes of the Athenians would be realized. He inspired the Lacedaemonians with the strongest desire for war, and further advised them to make a fortified outpost of Decelea . . .

9-12. Cf. the digression of Thucydides upon the Pisistratidae at this point (vi. 54-9).
μηρυτροις μεγάλοις: cf. Thuc. vi. 27. 2.

16. υποψία(s): υποψία is less likely, both on account of the hiatus and because iota adscript is elsewhere omitted in this MS., as usual at this period.

23. περι των μεν Ερμων ουδεν: cf. Thuc. vi. 28. 1.

25-7. Cf. introd.

34. κατασχέω: cf. Thuc. vi. 29. 3 κατασχέω την άναγωγήν.

40-3. Cf. Thuc. vi. 29. 3 and 61. 5 ούχ ήκιστα τούς Μαντινάς και 'Αργείους βουλόμενοι παραμείναι, δι' εκείνου νομίζοντες πεισθήναι σφίσι ξυστρατεύειν, and Plut. Alcib. 19. The doubtful in l. 42 can be κ.

48. ουκ is a little short for the lacuna, in which there is room for one or two more letters.

57. σχεδον πωσας: this statement is in flagrant contradiction with the facts recorded by Thucydides, vi. 50-2, from which it appears that the Athenians met with little support. Cf. Plut. Alcib. 20 πλεύσας εις Σικελίαν προσηγάγετο Κατάμη άλλο δέ ουδέν έπραξε μετά-πεμπτος κ.τ.λ.

61. Above this line are some traces of ink, perhaps the number of the page.

62-3. Cf. Thuc. vi. 53. 1.

74. The vestiges do not suit [αλλ]ους [τε]. Possibly [και] αλλ[λ]ους, though this too is not satisfactory.

80. εισθε(ι): the correction seems necessary, for the perfect used as a present could not be true of the period at which this work was composed. The fact that the Salamina required an explanation is an indication of the late date. The division υπο|α is noticeable, for the MS. elsewhere follows the ordinary rules concerning division of words.

95. Θουριων: cf. Thuc. vi. 61. 6.

96. αποδρας εις Πιλοτανησον: cf. Plut. Alcib. 23.

101. υστερον: cf. Thuc. vi. 88. 9 'Αλκιβιάδης . . . περαιωθεὶς τότε εὐθὺς ἐπὶ πλοίου φορηγικῷ ἐκ τῆς Θουρίας ἐς Κυλλήνην τῆς Ἠλείας πρῶτον, ἔπειτα ὕστερον ἐς τὴν Λακεδαίμονα. There is some corruption in ll. 101-2, for των κακων has nothing to govern it. Unless the loss of some words be supposed, the simplest alteration is to read υπερ for υστερον.

105-7. Cf. Thuc. vi. 89. 2 (speech of Alcibiades) και διατελοῦντός μου προθύμον ὑμῖς πρὸς Ἀθηναίους καταλασσύμενοι τοῖς μὲν ἑμοῖς ἐχθροῖς δύναμις δι' ἐκείνων πράξαντες, ἐμὸν δὲ ἀνέμωλιν περιέβετε. Thucydides does not mention Nicias by name in this passage; for the circumstances see Plut. Alcib. 14.

107-20. Cf. Plut. Alcib. 23 ἐν μὲν εὐθὺς ἐξειργάσατο μέλλοντας και αναβαλλομένους βοηθεῖν Συρακουσίοις ἐγείρας και παροξύνας πέμψαι Γύλαππον . . . , ἕτερον δὲ κινῶν τὸν αὐτόθεν πόλεμον ἐπὶ τοὺς Ἀθηναίους, τὸ δὲ τρίτον και μέγιστον ἐπιτεχνήσας Δεκλείαν, the source of both passages being of course Thuc. vi. 89-92.

412. JULIUS AFRICANUS, Κεστοί.

PLATE V.

Two columns containing the conclusion of Book xviii of the Κεστοί of Julius Africanus, as is expressly stated in the title preserved at the end. This title clears up at once two moot points concerning the Κεστοί. Joseph Scaliger (Animadv. in Chron. Eusebii) in spite of the unanimous testimony of antiquity distinguished between Sextus Africanus the author of the Κεστοί and Julius Africanus the Christian chronographer and friend of Origen. This view has found little favour with subsequent critics, and is controverted at length by H. Gelzer in his recent book on Africanus. Its baselessness is finally proved by this papyrus, whose testimony must carry the utmost weight in view of the fact that it is separated by little more than a generation at most from the floruit of the author. The chronological work of Africanus was brought down to the year 221, and the Κεστοί are supposed to have been composed subsequently; while this MS. is anterior to the year 275-6, since on the verso is a document dated in the reign of the Emperor Tacitus. Secondly, a doubt has existed as to the number of the books of the Κεστοί, which is given by Photius (Bibl. 34) as fourteen, and Suidas (s.v. 'Αφρικ.) as twenty-four; Syncellus, who speaks of the work as ἐννέαβιβλος (p. 359 b), no doubt only knew it in an incomplete copy. The similarity of the figures fourteen and twenty-four naturally suggested that the difference was due to a clerical error, but there was no reason to prefer one to the other. We now know that there was an 18th book, and may accordingly accept the higher figure.

The Κεστοί are described by Suidas as οἰονεῖ φυσικά, ἔχοντα ἐκ λόγων τε καὶ ἐπαιδῶν καὶ γραπτῶν τιῶν χαρακτήρων ἰσσεις τε καὶ ἀλλοίων ἐνεργειῶν. A number of excerpts have survived dealing with military matters, the care of animals, and agriculture (Math. Vet., ed. Thievenot, pp. 275 sqq.), and on the latter subject large extracts are embodied in the Geoponica. The present fragment exhibits another side of this multifarious composition, being concerned with a question of literary criticism. The author produces twenty-seven lines, mainly consisting of a magical incantation, which were to be inserted in the passage in Book xi of the Odyssey where Odysseus calls up the ghosts. For these new lines definite authority is cited, references being given to MSS. in Palestine, Caria, and Rome; and a doubt is expressed as to whether this 'precious product' was cut out by the poet himself or by the Pisistratidae! We do not suppose that Homeric scholars will be inclined to accept either of those alternatives. They will perhaps be more likely to include this passage in the list of things which δ ἀνὴρ οὗτος ἐν τοῖς Κεστοῖς αὐτοῦ τερατολογεῖ καὶ δίδξεισι (Psellus, op. Math. Vet. p. xvi). Nevertheless it affords a valuable insight into the writer's methods and standards of criticism; and though we may not admire his judgement, there is no ground for suspecting his facts. Of especial interest is the statement (ll. 65-8) that he had arranged a library in the Pantheon at Rome 'for the Emperor.' According to Syncellus (loc. cit.) the Κεστοί were dedicated to Severus Alexander, from which Gelzer has inferred that Africanus was on a footing of friendship with the imperial house, a conclusion to which the new autobiographical detail of the papyrus gives strong support.

The MS. is written in well-formed round uncials of medium size, and being dated within such narrow limits, its palaeographical evidence is of much value. To suppose an interval of ten years between the writing of the literary text on the recto and the cursive document on the verso would be a very moderate estimate. The date of the former therefore is fixed with certainty in the period between the years 225 and 265 A.D. But notwithstanding its proximity in time to the author the text is far from being a good one; several lines of the incantation especially are clearly corrupt, and one of them is incomplete. In these circumstances little weight can be attached to the variants from the ordinary text in the quotations from Homer. The two columns are numbered at the top respectively 35 and 36; thirty-four columns had therefore preceded, and if, as is most probable, these all formed part of the same book, its total length would be about 1530 lines.

ξεστοςιη1-10 = Odyssey xi. 34-43.

4. καταθενηστων: so most MSS.; κατατενηστων Lud(wich) with Aristarchus.

5-10. These lines were athetized by Zenod., Aristoph., and Aristarch., and are printed in small type by Lud.

6. νεογενθε αωτον: νεογενθία θυμόν MSS. αωτον is unintelligible here.
 7. χ[α]λκηρεσσιν: the doubled σσ is also found in FGT; l. χ[α]λκήρεσιν.
 9. παρα: so T; περί other MSS., Lud.
 11-3 = Odyssæy xi. 48-50.
 11. [αυταρ] εγω: the same reading has been entered by the second hand in the margin of F; αὐτὸς δέ other MSS., Lud.
 13. καὶ ἀμειβομενος επος ἡδων: πρὶν Τειρεσίῳ πυθέσθαι MSS. The variation of the papyrus provides an introductory formula for what follows.
 14. Neither here nor in l. 21 was apparently anything written before a δει, which in both cases is preceded by a short blank space.
 15-7 = Iliad iii. 278-80, with ω for καὶ in l. 15, and τελειετε κ.τ.λ. replacing φυλάσσετε δ' ἄρκια πιστά.
 16. τί[μ]νεσθον: τίνυσθον (so Lud.) or τίνυνσθον is the reading of most MSS.; τίνεσθον does not seem to be found elsewhere.
 19. Cf. Il. vi. 467 ὁ πάς πρὸς κἀλπον ἐυχόμενος τιθήνης.
 22-36. For this incantation cf. the magical papyri, e.g. Wessely, Denkschr. der Wien. Akad. Ph.-Hist. Cl. xxxvi, xlii; Kenyon, Catalogue I. pp. 62 sqq. But the analogy does not extend beyond a general resemblance and the identity of a few names, e.g. Ἀνουβιε and Φθα. Ἀβλαναθω in l. 28 is a variant of the form common in the magical papyri Ἀβλαναθαλθα. εἰσι in l. 29 is a mistake for ἐπι. In l. 31 πατερ ἀρκτων can be read.
 39 = Il. xi. 741, with οἰδεν for ᾔδῃ.
 43 = Od. xi. 51.

44-68. . . . and so on. Whether then the superfluous part of the incantation stood thus and the poet himself passed over it on account of the dignity of his work, or whether the Pisistratidae, when they combined the various poems, cut out these verses judging them to be alien to the march of the poem, I should much like to know. I have myself set them down here as being a most valuable product of the epic art (?); and you will find the whole work preserved in the archives of your (?) old home, the colony of Aelia Capitolina in Palestine, at Nysa in Caria, and as far as the thirteenth verse at Rome, near the baths of Alexander, in the beautiful library at the Pantheon which I myself designed for the Emperor.'

44-6. This passage may be construed as it stands by taking εχον . . . το περιεργον as an accusative absolute, but the order is then very awkward, and τα αλλα ought not to mean the same as το περιεργον. A much simpler construction is obtained if τα αλλα is omitted; the words may have come in from l. 49.

53-4. We take εγρων as equivalent to ἄν ἔγρων, and suppose the loss of a conjunction after στε; δε may easily have dropped out after the preceding τε. Perhaps the sign in the margin opposite this line indicates that there was some omission.

55. ἐπει[τ]η, if right, is for ἐπει[τ]η, sc. τέχνης or ποιήσεως. Blass suggests ἐπ(ι)εικ[ω]ς, but there does not seem to be room in the lacuna for ω.

56. This is another difficult passage. The letter after τ in the mutilated word must be either ε or ο, and there is not room for more than one letter, which ought not to be a broad one, in the lacuna; την τ ε[μ]ην is therefore not suitable. Blass suggests την τε (or δε) [σ]ην, taking the person addressed in ε[ν]ήρεσις (l. 58; l. ε[ν]ήρησις) to be a Jew to whom this Κεῖνός was dedicated and the author of the work in question. This suits της αρχαιας πα[τ]ριδος, which would then mean 'your old native country'; though the supposition that the author required to be told where his own work was to be found is not quite satisfactory. To understand της αρχαιας πα[τ]ριδος as the native land of Africanus himself, unless the phrase is interpreted in the unnatural sense of 'the country in which I used to live,' referring to his settlement at Emmaus-Nicopolis, would of course involve the inference that he was of Syrian origin. This has already been maintained by Valesius (Adnot. in Euseb. H. E. p. 113) and others, though on grounds quite insufficient to override the statement of Suidas that Africanus was a φιλόσοφος Λίβυς. On the other hand Gelzer's argument (op. cit., Einleitung) in support of this testimony, namely that Africanus knew Latin, seems hardly more conclusive on the one side than Africanus' probable knowledge of Hebrew on the other.

60. [Ἀ]λλας Καπιτωλεως: the name of Jerusalem after its restoration by Hadrian.

64. Ἀλεξανδρου: i.e. the Emperor Severus Alexander.

65. Πανθειω: the famous Pantheon built by Agrippa and restored by Hadrian and other emperors.

413. FARCE AND MIME.

22.9 X 42.3 cm.

Both sides of this remarkable papyrus are occupied with literary compositions of an unusual type. On the recto are three columns, of which the two latter are almost complete, of a low comedy or farce, written in a good-sized semi-uncial hand, the dramatis personae being carefully distinguished and stage directions added. Adhering to the right of the third column about halfway down is an unscribed fragment of some size, showing that the work did not extend beyond half a column more at most. On the verso are, firstly, two columns in a much smaller and more cursive hand, preceded by a few letters of a third upon the projecting fragment already referred to, from what may best be described as a mime, which is mainly, at the least, a monologue. The second of the two complete columns is shorter than the other, and there are some 6 centimetres of blank space below it. Secondly, adjoining this to the right is another column of dialogue in the style of the recto, and with the same characters, written in a somewhat larger and more careful hand, but evidently by the same person who was responsible for the foregoing mime. This column was intended to supersede the latter portion of the first column of the recto; cf. note on ll. 30-6. To assign both sides of the papyrus to one scribe is out of the question, but we are not inclined to think that the two documents were separated by a considerable interval of time. The hand of the recto we attribute with little hesitation to the Antonine period; that of the verso no doubt falls within the second century.

As we have already seen, the MS. apparently was not continued more than a few lines beyond the third column of the recto, if it did not actually end at that point. This fact is quite in accordance with the internal evidence, for the impression given by the lower part of this column is that it is the exodium or conclusion of the whole piece. Metrical passages are introduced, a system of Sotadean verses in ll. 88-91 being followed after a short interval by a series of trochaic tetrameters (ll. 96-106); and there was an accompaniment of music and dancing (cf. ll. 88-9, 92-3). The close of the play is also probably indicated by the word καταστροφή in l. 95, which heads the concluding section. The scene is the coast of a barbarian country bordering upon the Indian ocean (cf. ll. 88-91), and the subject is the adventures in those remote regions of a party of Greeks chief among whom is Charition, the heroine of the drama. Such themes are familiar from the pages of the early Greek romances, and the plot of this piece seems to have run on lines very similar to theirs. Charition had not improbably been carried off in the usual way by pirates, and had so come into the hands of the barbarians, whose Greek-speaking king (cf. ll. 88 sqq.) is one of the characters of the play. She had apparently taken up her abode in a temple (cf. ll. 215, 225); and the present fragment describes her rescue by her brother and others who had arrived by sea, and who succeed in effecting their escape after making her captors drunk. Professor Crusius, to whom we are much indebted in the reconstruction and interpretation of this papyrus, acutely suggests that the position in which Charition found herself placed may have been similar to that of the heroine in the romance of Xenophon of Ephesus, Antheia, who in order to repel the advances of the Indian prince Psammis represented herself as dedicated to the goddess Isis (cf. l. 88 θεὰ Σελήνη, and l. 106 τὴν σὺν πρῶ[σπολον]), and lived for some time in that capacity under Psammis' protection (Ephes. iii. 11). A large number of characters are introduced. Besides Charition, whom the stage directions call A, her brother (Γ, cf. ll. 97-9), and the barbarian king, called βασιλεὺς, we have the buffoon (B) who largely supplies the comic element. This, as might be expected, is often of a coarse kind. B is of the Greek party and does not understand the barbarian language (cf. ll. 58, 66); but some non-Greek words are assigned to him in ll. 75 and 79-80. Another well-identified character is Δ, the captain of the ship (l. 101). The personality of others is less easy to ascertain. In the fourth column of the verso ε, who goes to fetch the ship, seems to belong to the brother's party, and is consequently to be distinguished from the speaker in ll. 70-1 and 74, who uses only the barbarian language, but is designated by a symbol which might otherwise be supposed to represent ε. It is, however, formed quite differently from the ε on the verso, and is more like the sign for ροο. Ζ, who figures only in ll. 31 and 71-3, is another barbarian. There remains κοι (), whose remarks are also with one exception (l. 104) in the barbarian tongue. We are indebted to Prof. G. Wissowa for the suggestion that the abbreviation is to be expanded κοι(νῇ), 'all' or 'altogether,' referring either to the body of the barbarians or of the Greeks as the case may be. This hypothesis satisfies all the conditions, and accounts for the appearance of $\kappa\omicron\iota$ () in l. 104, which would on any other view be a difficulty. In ll. 195 sqq. a party of barbarian women, who have just returned from a hunting expedition, is introduced. They are armed with bows and arrows, and nearly succeed in shooting the buffoon (ll. 207-8).

Apart from the distribution of the various parts the MS. includes a number of symbols and abbreviations which are to be interpreted as stage directions. The commonest of these are a τ with a dot and a horizontal dash above it (in l. 211 there is no dash), and a pair of short strokes curving towards each other at the centre (e.g. l. 11) which is sometimes followed by a straight stroke (e.g. l. 39). The τ (which we print simply as τ) is probably to be connected with the music, and might stand for $\tau(\nu\mu\pi\alpha\nu\iota\sigma\mu\delta\varsigma)$; cf. l. 92 $\tau(\nu\mu\pi\alpha\nu\iota\sigma\mu\delta\varsigma)$ $\pi\omicron\lambda(\acute{\upsilon}\varsigma)$, $\kappa\rho\omicron\sigma\sigma(is)$, ll. 69 and 95 where τ is similarly combined with $\pi\omicron\lambda$ (), and l. 87 $\tau(\nu\mu\pi\alpha\nu\iota\sigma\mu\delta\varsigma)$ ($\pi\epsilon\upsilon\tau\acute{\alpha}\kappa\iota\varsigma$?). The two curved strokes, which sometimes stand before or after τ (e.g. ll. 65, 72), but more commonly are by themselves, may also have a musical signification, or may refer in some other way to the accompanying action; their use is not like that of mere marks of punctuation. The word $\pi\omicron\rho\theta(\acute{\eta})$ which is repeatedly associated with the remarks of B, the buffoon, seems also to be of the nature of a stage direction; cf. l. 22 $\pi\acute{\epsilon}\rho\theta(era\iota)$ ¹. The speeches in the barbarian language are usually written continuously, like the Greek, without separation of words; but in one passage (ll. 61-4) the words are divided by points, while in others the insertion of one of the symbols described above serves a similar purpose. The language is no doubt to a large extent of an imaginary nature, but it may include some genuine non-Hellenic elements; cf. note on l. 83.

The mime of which two columns are preserved upon the verso of the papyrus is of a simpler character. The chief figure here is again a woman, upon whom the action centres throughout; most of the other actors are slaves. The motive of the first scene (Col. ii) is that of the fifth mime of Herondas, the $\zeta\eta\lambda\omicron\tau\upsilon\pi\omicron\varsigma$. The young mistress makes proposals to one of her slaves, Aesopus (l. 115), to which he declines to listen, whereupon she orders him to be put to death along with a female slave (? Apollonia, l. 120) whom she supposes to be the object of his affections. These cruel commands, however, are not actually carried out, for the male slave manages to escape, and his assumed paramour is only placed in confinement. In the next scene (Col. iii) the bloodthirsty mistress is engaged in plotting the death of an old man, to whom she appears to have been unhappily married. Her accomplices are two slaves, Spinther and Malacus, who also figured in the previous scene; and a 'parasite' acts as a go-between. The column ends in a rather obscure manner without her nefarious purpose having been accomplished, and the piece seems to have been left unfinished.

Whether at any point in these two columns the monologue of the mistress is interrupted by other speakers is a matter of some doubt. The sentences are in the original divided off by an oblique dash (see the critical notes); and at two points (at the end of l. 117 and in the middle of l. 185) the dash is preceded by three short horizontal strokes. Possibly this sign should be interpreted as an indication of a change of speaker, which would in either case suit the context. Thus in l. 117 κυρ' would = κυρλα, the natural mode of address from a slave to his mistress; and in l. 187 δέσποτα implies the entrance of a new character (the old husband?), to whom may be attributed the words οὐαί μοι. But if so the scribe was not consistent in the use of this sign, which should have been repeated when the previous speaker resumed; and if omitted in these cases, it may be absent entirely in some others where an interchange of speakers might be supposed to occur, e.g. l. 172 τὸ ποῖον, l. 178 αὐτὸς; μάλιστα, κ.τ.λ. But this is not necessary, and we do not feel satisfied that the other two passages cannot be explained on the hypothesis that the piece is a monologue throughout.

With regard to the date of the composition of these two productions, Crusius considers that the mime belongs to the Roman period, while the farce may be rather earlier, though not a product of the better Hellenistic age. Their literary quality cannot of course be ranked very high, but they are not devoid of merit. The situations disclosed in the farce shows some skill in construction, and when on the stage may have been amusing enough even without the coarser elements; while the mime, though without the accompanying action it is sometimes obscure, has considerable vigour and dramatic force. Not improbably these two pieces were once performed in the theatre of Oxyrhynchus, and they may be regarded as typical of the performances upon the provincial stages at this time. In short, they afford a most interesting glimpse into the music-hall of the period immediately following that which is represented by the Alexandrian Erotic Fragment (P. Grenf. I. 1).

7-8. πορδῆν ... εἰν διασῶθαι or, as Blass suggests, εἰν διαφύγω τὸν κίνδυνον? The buffoon, who is evidently the speaker, apparently vows to erect a silver statue of his patron saint Παρδῆ if he escapes from his perils.

10. οἶτοι are the barbarians, who are seen approaching.

13. The correction may be by the hand of the verso.

19. ἐρεγμὸν = ἐρνυμὸν; cf. Etym. M. ἐρεχμὸς καὶ ἐρεγμὸς· παρὰ τὸ ἐρεγγω ἐρεγγμὸς· ὅς λέγεται καὶ ἐρεγμὸς.

27. Φάλλιχον ποταμόν; cf. ll. 40 and 210. The name is formed from ψάλλω.

30-6. These lines are enclosed in the papyrus by a circular stroke which passes through l. 30, and there can be no doubt that it was intended that their place should be taken by Col. iv of the verso. This is indicated by the note at the bottom, which is in the same handwriting as the verso. The fact that in relation to the foregoing column the letters of the note are upside down is unusual, and τὸ ἐξω would be expected rather than τὸ εἰσω; but τὸ εἰσω would represent the point of view of the writer of the mime, and the practical identity of l. 30 with ll. 188-9 adds a conclusive proof that the column on the verso was meant to be inserted at this point. Line 30 is accordingly to be restored κυρία Χαρίτιον σύνχαϊρε, the speaker being ε as in l. 188; it may also be noted that the word αλεμμάκα found in l. 35 also occurs in l. 205 in the scene with the barbarian women, to whom αὐτάς in l. 33 probably refers. ἡ ὥς μὲν in the footnote is obscure; ἡ suggests that the longer passage on the back was an alternative draft.

31. θαῖσιλεύς?

188-230. 'F. Lady Charition, rejoice with me at my escape!

A (Charition). Great are the gods.

B (buffoon). What gods, fool? ***

A. Cease, fellow!

F. Wait for me here and I will go and bring the ship to anchor.

A. Go; for see, here come their women from the chase.

B. Oh! what huge bows they have!

A woman. Kraunou. Another. Lalle.

Another. Laitallanta lalle ...

All. Laspattia.

B. Ah! Lady, help!

A. Alemaka. All. Alemaka.

B. By Athena, there is no ... from us.

A. Wretch, they took you for an enemy and nearly shot you.

B. I am always in misfortune. Will you then ... to the river Psolichus?

A. As you like. (Drums.) B. ***

All. Minei.

F. Lady Charition, I see the wind is rising, so that we may cross the Indian ocean and escape. So enter and fetch your property, and if you can, carry off one of the offerings to the goddess.

A. Prudence, fellow! Those in need of salvation must not accompany their petitions to the gods with sacrilege. For how will the gods listen to men who try to win mercy with wickedness?

B. Don't you touch, I will fetch it.

F. Well, fetch your own things then.

A. I do not need them either, but only to see my father's face.

F. Enter then; and do you serve them . . . and give them their wine strong, for here they come.

198. oē is evidently an exclamation, like oā.

204. At this point the women begin an attack on the buffoon, who cries out to Chariton for help. Chariton accordingly intervenes with the word 'alemarka' (l. 205), which is repeated by the rest and apparently has the effect of restoring peace.

206. οὐκ ἤλω makes no sense and seems to be corrupt; there was perhaps some play on ἀλεμᾶκα in the previous line (cf. ll. 92-3). οὐ κηλείν might be read, but this hardly improves matters.

213. The marginal note seems to refer to this column, to which it is closer than to Col. iii of the mime; but the meaning is obscure. ἀγῶν(τα) or ἀγῶν(ισμα) would suit the upper part of the column, but is hardly apposite at this point.

216-25. Cf. ll. 42-9, where the same request is put into the mouth of the buffoon, Chariton again declining in words almost identical with those used here.

228-30. Cf. ll. 52-7.

38-106. 'B. I think that they are the daughters of swine; these too I will get rid of. (*Drums, * * **).

All. Ai arminthi. (Drums.)

B. They also have run away to the Psolichus.

C. Yes; but let us get ready, if we are to escape.

B. Lady Chariton, get ready if you can to take under your arm one of the offerings to the goddess.

A. Hush! Those in need of salvation must not accompany their petitions to the gods with sacrilege. For how will they listen to the prayers of those who are about to gain mercy by wickedness? The property of the goddess must remain sacred.

B. Don't you touch; I will carry it.

A. Don't be silly, but if they come serve them the wine neat.

B. But if they will not drink it so?

C. Fool, in these regions wine is not for sale. Consequently, if they get hold of this kind of thing they will drink it neat against their will (?).

B. I'll serve them lees and all.

C. Are you all aboard? All. Aboard. A. O unhappy me! A great trembling seizes my wretched body. Be propitious, lady goddess! save thy handmaiden!
- 42-9. Cf. ll. 216-225, note. μαλῶσαι is a new verb formed from μᾶλῃ, and a comic equivalent of βασιτάζειν (cf. l. 218). In l. 47 μελλόντων must be read for μέλλοντες.
53. ἄπει does not seem right, and there may be some corruption. ρ is quite uncertain, and perhaps ἄπει was written twice by mistake; but a broader letter would be expected. καίτερ would give a more suitable meaning.
57. The latter part of this line after παραγείνονται seems to be filled with stage directions. Above the doubtful ου of δεν is a stroke like an accent, which may indicate an abbreviation. ἀναπαισ () is perhaps for ἀναπαισ(τυχός).
67. This remark is addressed to one of the barbarians.
70. The words should perhaps be divided σκαλμα κατάβα (?) πτετραγονι; cf. l. 72 where πτε(ι)ραγονι recurs. On the speaker here and in ll. 71 and 74 cf. introd. p. 42.

75-80. The distribution of the parts in this passage causes some difficulty. B., the buffoon, elsewhere speaks Greek only, and appears not to understand the barbarian language. Yet in ll. 75 and 79 he is assigned non-Greek speeches, and the speaker who intervenes either at the end of ll. 75 or 76 may also be B. It will be noticed that in either case there is a β near the end of the line; but in both instances the letter following is closer than it should be if the β was meant to represent the character. If the attribution of ll. 75 and 79-80 to B. is correct, he may be supposed to be emboldened by the conviviality of the barbarians to address them in a meaningless jargon intended to imitate their language.

82. At the end of the line we should perhaps read $\sigma\upsilon(\epsilon)\eta\lambda$, as in ll. 83-5.

83. Assuming that it is worth while to attempt to bring the barbarian language in this piece into relation with any known speech, the key is possibly to be found in late Pali or old Prakrit. We owe to Dr. G. A. Grierson the suggestion that in the present passage, for instance, $\pi\alpha\nu\sigma\upsilon\mu\beta\eta\eta\tau\iota$ may represent $pāṇō amṛta$, 'drink' (or 'life') and 'nectar,' which suits the context remarkably well. Similarly he would connect $\alpha\lambda\epsilon\mu(\mu)\kappa\alpha$ in ll. 35 and 205 with the Pali $alam$ 'enough,' 'stop,' -ka being a substantival suffix which an ignorant Greek might use incorrectly. But we must leave the consideration of this question to Sanskrit scholars.

89. 1. $\delta\upsilon\epsilon\tau\omicron\upsilon\sigma\iota$?

90. $\xi(\epsilon)\rho\acute{o}\theta\rho\omicron\upsilon\sigma\iota$, though a new compound, seems certain; cf. $\lambda\epsilon\gamma\acute{o}\theta\rho\omicron\upsilon\sigma\iota$, &c. Some syllables are missing at the end of the line, and a substantive is required to complete the sentence; perhaps $\tau\acute{\upsilon}\pi\alpha\nu\omicron\upsilon$ followed by a long syllable.

91. $[\Sigma]\eta\kappa\iota\omicron\upsilon\varsigma$ (Crusius) is very attractive, though it hardly fills the available space. At the end of the line the doubtful λ may be ν .

93. $\delta\rho\chi\eta\sigma\iota$ reproduces the sound of the barbarian $\omicron\rho\kappa\iota\sigma[\]$.

94. B. is probably still the speaker.

96-106. The verses with which the scene closes are trochaic tetrameters, but the text seems faulty in places, and some alteration is required to reduce the metrical system to order. Thus ll. 98 and 104 are each a syllable short, and ll. 101-2 are considerably too long. Crusius suggests that in l. 101 δ $\kappa\upsilon\beta\epsilon\rho\eta\eta\tau\eta\varsigma$ is a gloss on $\epsilon\gamma\acute{o}$; and if these two words be omitted and $\pi\epsilon\rho\acute{o}\tau\omega\varsigma$ (for $\pi\rho\omega\tau\omega\varsigma$) and $\epsilon\gamma\acute{o}$ transposed, the metre is restored. Line 98 may be amended by reading η $\rho\alpha$ (or $\delta\rho\alpha$) $\pi\acute{\alpha}\nu\theta$, which also improves the sense. The iambic trimeter in l. 105 is unexpected, and a cretic may be lost at the beginning; but it is perhaps better not to demand exact regularity, especially since ll. 95-6 are also not trochaic tetrameters.

95. $\kappa\alpha\tau\alpha\sigma\tau\omicron\lambda\eta$ in the original is written after the manner of a title in larger letters, with little dashes above and below. It is probably equivalent to $\kappa\alpha\tau\alpha\sigma\tau\rho\omicron\phi\acute{\eta}$, as in Schol. on Aristoph. Pax 1204 $\tau\eta\eta\delta\epsilon$ $\kappa\alpha\tau\alpha\sigma\tau\omicron\lambda\eta\eta\tau\omicron\upsilon$ $\delta\rho\acute{\alpha}\mu\alpha\tau\omicron\varsigma$ $\epsilon\pi\omicron\iota\lambda\eta\sigma\epsilon\upsilon$ $\delta\mu\epsilon\iota\alpha\upsilon$ $\tau\omicron\iota\varsigma$ $\Lambda\chi\alpha\rho\epsilon\upsilon\sigma\iota$.

100. The first letter may be π .

116. The word before $\alpha\upsilon\tau(\)$ seems to be some part of either $\acute{\alpha}\rho\alpha\sigma\sigma\epsilon\upsilon$ or $\tau\alpha\rho\acute{\alpha}\sigma\sigma\epsilon\upsilon$.

117. $\kappa\upsilon\rho\iota$ may be either $\kappa\upsilon\rho\iota\epsilon$ or $\kappa\upsilon\rho\iota\alpha$ according to the view taken as to whether a change of speaker occurs at this point; cf. introd. It is not quite clear where the words added above l. 118 and in the margin were intended to be inserted. Crusius supposes that $\pi\acute{\alpha}\nu\tau\omega\upsilon$ $\omicron\upsilon\tau\upsilon$. . . $\sigma\upsilon\upsilon\upsilon\tau\epsilon\theta\rho\alpha\mu\mu(\acute{\epsilon}\nu\omega\upsilon)$ is resumptive of the previous conditional sentences, to which the apodosis is $\kappa\epsilon\acute{\nu}\omicron\varsigma$. . . $\epsilon\phi\acute{\alpha}\nu\eta$, the general sense being 'If women had the hard work to do that I have, you would be as little inclined to love as I.' $\sigma[\epsilon]$ after $\epsilon\iota$ $\delta\epsilon$ is quite doubtful; the fibres of the papyrus are displaced.

119. There is barely room for an α at the beginning of the line, and the supposed α of $\alpha\lambda\chi(\acute{\epsilon}\nu)$ is more like α .

120-152. 'So seize him, slaves, and drag him off to his fate; now bring out her also, gagged as she is. I bid you take them away to the two promontories, and bind them to the trees that lie there; then drag them far apart and take care that you keep each out of the other's sight, lest they die happy feasting their eyes upon each other; and when you have slain them, come in to me. I have said; and I will go within. What do you say? The gods have really appeared to you, and you were afraid? . . . Although he has escaped you, they shall not elude the desert guards. Now I wish to propitiate the gods, Spinther. Swear . . . say the sacrificial prayers. Since the gods are about to appear to us auspiciously, sing the praise of the gods in expectation. Knave, won't you do as you are told? What has happened . . .? Go in and see who it is. What does he say . . .? Look, lest the proud one too be within. I bid you remove this woman, and hand her over to the desert guards, and tell them to load her with iron and keep her carefully. Take her, drag her off, away with her! And do you search for him, and having slain him, cast out his body that I may see him dead. Come, Spinther and Malacus, with me. I will now go out and try to see with certainty if he be dead, that I may not again be carried away by strife. Thus will I address him (?). "Ah, see him here! Oh, poor wretch: would you be thus cast out rather than love me? How shall I mourn him as he lies deaf to my voice? . . . All strife is over! Cease . . . I will ease my ravished heart (?)."

130-1. The displacement of the fibres of the papyrus at the ends of these lines much interferes with their decipherment. At the end of l. 131 the letters $\kappa\epsilon\iota\sigma\iota$ are certain, and $\epsilon\kappa\epsilon\iota\sigma\iota$ seems almost inevitable, though the singular $\delta\epsilon\iota\phi\upsilon\gamma\epsilon\nu$ is awkward. It appears, however, from ll. 140 sqq. that only the male slave had escaped. In l. 130 $\delta\epsilon\phi\alpha\lambda\mu\epsilon\iota\sigma\iota$ would suit the context, though not the traces on the papyrus.

138. $\mu\alpha\upsilon\eta$ seems certain and is perhaps for $\mu\alpha\iota\eta$, but this is not very satisfactory. $\tau\iota\ \gamma\acute{\epsilon}\gamma\omicron\nu\epsilon\iota\ \nu\ \epsilon\kappa\epsilon\iota\eta$ cannot be read.

139. $\delta\ \epsilon\pi\epsilon\rho\eta\phi\alpha\nu\omicron\varsigma$ seems to mean the slave who had scorned his mistress's attractions, and who had evidently succeeded in effecting his escape; cf. l. 143 $\epsilon\kappa\epsilon\iota\sigma\iota\nu\ \alpha\nu\alpha\zeta\eta\tau\eta\sigma\alpha\nu\tau\epsilon\varsigma$.

147-152. It would at first sight appear from this passage that the slave had actually been caught and put to death, and that the sight of his dead body had filled his mistress with remorse. But the analogy of ll. 181 sqq. suggests that this lament may be only imaginary,—a forecast of what would be appropriate when the occasion came. $\mu\acute{\epsilon}\nu\omicron\upsilon\sigma\iota\ \sigma\acute{\omega}\sigma\iota$ in l. 187 is also in favour of this explanation.

152. The first word is very uncertain. The doubtful ρ is more like γ , and $\beta\eta\eta$ might be read for $\kappa\epsilon\eta$, but $\delta\epsilon\beta\eta\gamma\mu\acute{\epsilon}\nu\alpha\varsigma$ does not fill up the space. $\kappa\epsilon\kappa\lambda\alpha\sigma\mu\acute{\epsilon}\nu\alpha\varsigma$ is also unsatisfactory. At the end of the line $\alpha\rho\omega$ hardly seems right.

153-87. 'Spinther, whence that crest-fallen look? Come up to me here, knave, in order that I may strain some wine. Come in, come in, knave; come here! Where are you walking from? Turn in here. Where is the half of your tunic, the half of it, I say? I will pay you in full for everything. This is my resolve, Malacus: to kill them all and sell their property, and then to withdraw somewhere or other. Now I wish to get the old man into my power before he has any idea of this; and I conveniently have a deadly drug which I will mix with some mead and give him to drink. So go to the broad door and call him as though for a reconciliation; let us too go, and communicate the affair of the old man to the parasite. Ho slave! The case is this, parasite.—Who is this? And she? What is the matter with her then? Unveil her that I may see her. I require your help. The case is this, parasite. I have repented and wish to be reconciled to the old man. Go then and see him, and bring him to me, and I will go in and prepare your dinner.—I commend your speed, Malacus. Have you got the drug mixed and is the dinner ready? What? Malacus! here, take the mead. Unhappy man, I think the parasite is panic-stricken. Unhappy man, he laughs! Go along with him lest anything happen to him.—This has been done as I wished; let us go in and deliberate more securely about the rest. Malacus, everything has gone as I intended, if we also make away with the old man. Parasite, what has happened? Ah, how? Certainly, for I now have them all in my power. Come, parasite! What do you want then? Spinther, give me poison enough. Parasite, I am afraid I shall laugh. You are right. I say—what ought I to say? My father and lord, to whom are you leaving me? I have lost my freedom of speech, my glory, my light of liberty! You were my lord.—Thus let me mourn him (though I speak not truly).—Woe to thee, wretched, hapless, miserable, loveless one! Woe to you, woe to me! For I know who you are. Hateful Spinther, bring the block for this man! Who is this again?—They are still safe, master!

154. The letter before σ in $\delta\alpha\lambda\acute{\iota}\sigma\omega$ looks more like η than ι , but $\delta\alpha\lambda\acute{\iota}\sigma\omega$ must in any case have been intended.

166. A female character enters at this point, but there is no clue to her identity. $\chi\rho\epsilon\acute{\iota}\alpha\nu\ \sigma\sigma\upsilon\ \epsilon\chi\omega$ may be addressed either to her or the parasite.

173. $\pi\alpha\upsilon\delta\lambda\eta\mu\pi\tau\omicron\varsigma$ in the sense of $\pi\alpha\rho\acute{\iota}\kappa\omicron\varsigma$ appears to be a new word. $\pi\alpha\upsilon\delta\lambda\eta\mu\pi\tau\omicron\varsigma$ might equally well—perhaps better—be read, but is more difficult.

184. $\acute{\alpha}\phi\epsilon\varsigma$ is very doubtful and hardly fills the available space, but the letters at the beginning of this line, being over an erasure, are larger than elsewhere.

185–7. On the interpretation of this passage see introd. p. 44.

414. PHILOSOPHICAL FRAGMENT.

Fr. (a) 14.3 x 11.8 cm.

Several fragments from a work of a philosophical nature, written in a good-sized and well-formed hand which seems to be a rather early specimen of the oval sloping style. In the formation of the letters and general appearance this MS. bears a decided resemblance to 26, and probably falls within the second century rather than the third. Columns iii and iv are on a detached piece of papyrus, but very likely succeed Col. ii immediately. The subject under discussion is poets and the poetic faculty. There is no indication that the treatise was cast in the form of a dialogue.

3-13. 'A young man would not practise such a thing in the least. As for the poets I will state my opinion concerning them. I have often been told that it is useful to be acquainted with the poems which are legacies of the past.'

3. The stop after ηκιστα, which is naturally connected with α, is misplaced.

11-2. Blass suggests ποιημασιν [εν]τυχ]εν, but though there is a small lacuna after ποιημασιν l. 11 is already long enough.

52. The meaning of the sign in the margin opposite this line is obscure.

415. ISAEUS?

10.4 × 3.9 cm.

A fragment from a lost speech of an Attic orator, which, if the restorations proposed by Mr. Smyly in ll. 6-8 are correct, is to be identified with the oration of Isaeus against Elpagoras and Demophanes. Not more than about half a dozen letters appear to be missing at the ends of the lines. The handwriting is a small and neat round uncial, which may be attributed to the second century. All three kinds of stops occur (the middle point in ll. 10 and 15) and occasional accents, which may be by the original scribe.

6. The traces after εβουληθη would suit any round letter ε, θ, ο, σ or φ. The plural in l. 10 suggests that εβουληθησ[αν] should be read, in which case Δη[ι] in l. 7 must be another proper name.

9. The meaning of the semicircular signs placed below the line on either side of λαθειν ουδεν is obscure.

11-3. For the lacunae at the ends of ll. 11 and 13 Blass suggests γὰρ αὐτοῦς and οἱ αὐ.

416. ROMANCE ?

12 x 9.5 cm.

On the recto of this papyrus are parts of two columns of an alphabetical vocabulary, written in sloping third century uncials. The portion preserved deals with words beginning with στ, e.g. στειφος οι ομα[ι], στρεφει ελατ[ι], στρωμα εστα[ι], στ[ρι]βει αρτι, [στ]ιλθει δευρε[ι], Στηνια τι αυ[ι]. On the verso of this is the fragment printed below which seems to come from some romance. This is written in a late third or early fourth century semi-uncial hand, with stops and occasionally other lection signs. Paragraphi apparently occur below ll. 9, 12, and 15, showing that not more than a few letters are lost at the beginnings of the lines; possibly indeed there is nothing missing in front of ll. 4-5. But there is no sign of the termination of the lines to the right, and a connected sense is not attainable. Lines 8 sqq. describe a supernatural appearance of some deity.

21. The diaeresis and rough breathing over ι are somewhat doubtful. The breathing over ω in l. 18 is rather different.

417. ROMANCE?

14.3 × 9.7 cm. (Fr. a).

Parts of two columns, with some small detached pieces, from a prose treatise of a rather uncertain character. Col. ii, which contains twenty more or less complete lines, is concerned with a woman named Theano whose son was carried off from the Scythians by a certain Hippasus (?). Theano, after being assured in a dream by 'the goddess' that she would recover her son, went to Oropus with Eunice, apparently a friend. This looks rather like a fragment of some romance; or it might perhaps be the work of a scholiast or mythologer—though the characters are otherwise unknown to fame. The text is in a rather small round uncial hand strongly resembling that of 404, and probably dating from the earlier decades of the third century. The high and middle stops occur.

30. l. Αἰγαιῶνα. 32. α of θήγευσαι corr. from ι.

1-8. Cf. Schol. A on l. 263 . . . ὑβρίζειν ὅσαι τῶν Ἑλληνίδων παρήσαν γυναικῶν ὅθεν αἱ Λαπίθαι συστάθην μαχεσάμενοι διώκουσιν αὐτοὺς εἰς Μαλέαν ὄρος τῆς Πελοποννήσου. ἡ δὲ τινι ἀναστρεφόμενη μεταβαλόντι τὴν φύσιν εἰς ἵππον διεμίγη καὶ τὸν προεξηρημένον ἐγέννησε Πειρίθου δὲ ὀνομάσθη ἀπὸ τοῦ περιθεῖν ἵππῳ ὁμοιωθέντα τὸν Δία ἐν τῷ μίγνυσθαι τῇ μητρὶ αὐτοῦ. The papyrus omits the explanation of Pirithous' name, but is much more explicit regarding his parentage than the scholium, in which ἡ δὲ has nothing to refer to, while τινι makes no sense and is probably corrupt for Διῷ.

9-22. Cf. Schol. A on l. 264 ὁ Καυεὺς Ἐλάτου μὲν ἦν παῖς Λαπιῶν δὲ βασιλεὺς, πρότερον ἦν παρθένος εὐπρεπῆς, μγίντος δὲ αὐτῇ Ποσειδῶνος αἰτησαμένη μεταβαλεῖν εἰς ἄνδρα ἢ νεῆας ἄνθρωπος γίνεται γενναύτατος τῶν καθ' αὐτὸν ὑπάρξας. καὶ δὴ ποτε πῆξας ἀκύντιον ἐν τῷ μεσαστάτῳ τῆς ἀγορᾶς θεὸν τοῦτο προσέταξεν ἀρῶμεν. δι' ἣν αἰτίαν ἀναγκάστῃς ὁ Ζεὺς τιμωρίαν τῆς ἀσεβείας παρ' αὐτοῦ εἰσπράξατο, μαχόμενον γὰρ αὐτὸν τοῖς Κενταύροις καὶ ἄνωτον δῖτα ὑποχείριον ἵκποιρε· βαλόντες γὰρ αὐτὸν οἱ προειρημένοι δρυσὶ τε καὶ ἐλάταις ἤρεισαν εἰς γῆν. This is almost identical with the papyrus, but is more compressed in some parts and more expanded in others. As before, the papyrus exhibits the better text, (1) by avoiding the repetition of ἦν in the first sentence, (2) by having νεῆας in place of ἢ νεῆας which is detrimental to both sense and construction, and in the light of the papyrus should be corrected to νεανίας. Blass suggests εἶα | δε το καλλος for the lacuna in ll. 11-2, and τον [με]γαν ογκον for that in ll. 14-5.

In the epitome of Apollodorus I. 22 (ed. Wagner, p. 181) the story of Caeneus is related more briefly: ὅτι Καυεὺς πρότερον ἦν γυνή, συνελθόντος δὲ αὐτῇ Ποσειδῶνος ἤγειρατο ἀνὴρ γενεσθῆαι ἄνθρωπος· διὸ καὶ ἐν τῇ πρὸς Κενταύρους μάχῃ τραυμάτων καταφροῦν πολλοὺς τῶν Κενταύρων ἀπέλεσεν, οἱ δὲ λοιποὶ περιστάτες αὐτῷ ἐλάταις τύπτοντες ἔχασαν εἰς γῆν. The version of the papyrus may well represent another epitomizing of Apollodorus.

24. It is remarkable that the variant Φοῖβος Ἀπόλλων in place of Παλλὰς Ἀθήνη occurs in l. 400 not in l. 399, and that the story of the conspiracy of Hera, Posidon, and Apollo against Zeus follows as a kind of justification for the variation. As Apollo played an important part in the legend, this order is really more logical than that found in Schol. A, which first gives the story of the plot in connexion with l. 399 and then discusses the variant Φοῖβος Ἀπόλλων, which is ascribed to Xenodotus but rejected as inappropriate. The account in Schol. A is as follows:—Ζεὺς παραλαβὼν τὴν ἐν οὐρανῷ διοικῆσιν περισσῶς τῇ παρρησίᾳ ἐχρήτο πολλὰ ἀνιδίῃ διαπρασσόμενος. Ποσειδῶν δὲ καὶ Ἥρα καὶ Ἀπόλλων καὶ Ἀθήνῃ ἐβούλαντο αὐτὸν δῆσαντες ὑποτάξαι. Θέτις δὲ ἀκούσασα παρὰ τοῦ πατρὸς Νηρέως (ἦν γὰρ μάντις) τὴν διδὲ ἐπιβουλὴν ᾤσεν πρὸς αὐτὸν ἐπαγομένη Ἀλγαιῶνα φέβητρον τῶν ἐπιβουλευόντων θεῶν ἦν δὲ θαλάσσιος δαίμων οὗτος καὶ τὸν πατέρα Ποσειδῶνα κατεβράβευεν, ἀκούσας δὲ ὁ Ζεὺς Θέτιδος τὴν μὲν Ἥραν ἐν τοῖς καθ' αὐτοῦ δεσμοῖς ἐκρέμασε, Ποσειδῶνι δὲ καὶ Ἀπόλλωνι τὴν παρὰ Λαομέδοντι θηλέαν ἐψηφίσαστο τῇ δὲ Θέτιδι τὴν Ἀχιλλεῶς τιμὴν εἰς τὰ μετὰ ταῦτα ἐταμείωσαστο. ἰστορεῖ Διδύμος. The parallelism between this and the papyrus is marked, though the papyrus is somewhat shorter and varies the phraseology. The mention of Athena in the scholium, but not in the papyrus, is due to the slightly different point of view from which the legend is brought forward. If the scholium gives the actual words of Didymus, the papyrus would seem to be a secondary commentary based upon his notes; but on the other hand the papyrus may express Didymus' language more exactly, and the scholium be an expansion.

419. EURIPIDES, Archelaus.

9.2 x 4.6 cm.

A narrow strip containing parts of sixteen lines from the Archelaus of Euripides, written in round rather irregular uncials of medium size, which are of the second or third century. The identification of the fragment, which we owe to Blass, rests upon the coincidence of what remains of ll. 8-9 with a quotation from the Archelaus in Stobaeus, Flor. 7. 5 (Fr. 275, Nauck). Lines 1-12 are trochaic tetrameters, which are succeeded at l. 13 by a χορικόν. Several corrections have been made in the text, perhaps by the original hand, to which also the stops and occasional accents, &c., may be due.

420. ARGUMENT OF EURIPIDES' Electra.

PLATE VI.

A fragment of a brief account of the recognition of Orestes by Electra through the intermediary of an old man, and almost certainly part of a hitherto unknown hypóthesis of Euripides' Electra, covering ll. 341-584. The verso has been used for writing an account in a cursive hand of the late third century. The writing on the recto, which is of a common type (cf. Plate VI), probably dates from about the middle of the same century.

x-14. ('Auturgus wished) to introduce the heroes to his house to partake of a poor but . . . hospitality, and himself went off to fetch offerings suitable for his zeal. The old man who had brought up Orestes hearing of the matter came bringing for Electra such gifts as the country freely presents to rustic hirelings, and seeing Orestes and declaring the marks on his skin revealed him to Electra. He made no delay . . . but confessed . . .

2-3. ἀ[λ]λοτριων: no other reading seems possible, for not more than one or two letters are lost in the lacuna, but ἀλλοτριων is not satisfactory as the antithesis to πεικρατον. The reference is apparently to El. 362-3 καὶ γὰρ εἰ πέτης ἔφυν, οὗτοι τό γ' ἦβος δυσγενὲς παρίεμαι: cf. ibid. 420-32.

4. In El. 408-31 Auturgus is sent by Electra to fetch the πρεσβύτερος, and directs Electra to attend to the strangers. But this discrepancy can hardly outweigh the marked agreement in other respects between the papyrus and Euripides' drama.

II. σημαίνοντας: χαρακτήρ is the word used by Euripides, El. 572.

421-434. POETICAL FRAGMENTS.

We here group together a number of miscellaneous fragments in verse, which do not seem to be extant and which are too small to be of much value. Of these four (421-3 and 434) are in hexameters, three (424-6) are lyrical, seven (427-33) are in iambs, chiefly comic.

421 consists of the ends of nineteen hexameter lines written in a second century uncial hand with occasional breathings, accents, stops, and marks of quantity. The subject of the fragment is the parentage of Bellerophon and the gift of Pegasus (who is not mentioned by Homer). There are no indications that the poem was a late epic, and several phrases suggest Hesiod as the author.

422 contains parts of eleven much mutilated hexameter lines, written in rather large and well-formed uncials of the square sloping type, and dating probably from the third century. A battle scene is apparently being described; Heracles is mentioned in l. 9 and part of another name occurs in l. 4. The vocabulary suggests that the fragment comes from some Alexandrian epic.

423 is a strip from the bottom of a column, containing on the verso parts of thirteen hexameters in a large and rather rough uncial hand apparently of the third century. The recto of the papyrus is blank. The high stop occurs several times and marks of elision and accents were used. The subject of the fragment is obscure; a reference to the Nile is noticeable in l. 13, while Hermes is mentioned in l. 4.

424 contains a fragment of three stanzas in Sapphic metre, probably by Sappho herself, written in a heavy uncial hand of the third century resembling that of the Oxyrhynchus Sappho fragment already published (7). Accents and stops are found, the high point in ll. 6 and 10, the middle point in l. 5 (?). The form ἀρέπας (= ἐρέπας) in l. 9 is of some interest, since the α was hitherto doubtful for the Lesbian dialect; cf. Meister, Greich. Dial. p. 41.

425 is a short extract from some lyric poem copied out as a school exercise. This is indicated partly by the character of the handwriting, which is a large irregular uncial, partly by the fact that the papyrus is complete in itself; and the inferior spelling points to the same conclusion. Below the last line are a series of dashes. The excerpt is of the nature of an invocation such as might have come at the beginning of the poem, which does not appear from this specimen to have been of a very high-class quality. The metrical scheme is $\underline{\text{uu}} - \underline{\text{uu}} - \underline{\text{u}} \underline{\text{uu}}$. The date of the MS. is second or third century.

A more valuable fragment is 426, a long narrow strip containing parts of thirty-two lines from a lyric poem in dactylo-epitritic metre and Pindaric style, which is not improbably to be attributed to Pindar himself. Unfortunately the piece is so mutilated that little can be done in the way of restoration, though a few lines in the middle which concern Melampus are intelligible. The text is written on the verso of the papyrus in a rather uncultivated uncial hand which may be assigned to the third century; on the recto is part of a cursive document dating from the latter half of the century preceding.

427 is also a fragment of some importance. It consists of the latter parts of the three closing lines of a play, below which is the title Ἰανούς | ἡτοιγία. There can be little question that Blass is right in reading this [Ἀντιφ]άνους [Ἀνθρῶ]τοιγία, and that the papyrus furnishes another example of the dangers of rejecting definite ancient evidence on a priori considerations. A Θεογονία of Antiphanes is mentioned by Irenaeus (ii. 14), who gives a lengthy excerpt from it; this, however, was rejected by Meineke (i. pp. 3-8 sqq.), who maintained that it was derived from the Birds of Aristophanes, and Kock accordingly omits the extract given by Irenaeus from his collection of the Comicorum Fragmenta. But it can hardly be doubted after the actual occurrence of the title 'Αντιφάνους 'Ανθρωπογούλα that the testimony of Irenaeus concerning the Θεογούλα of the same writer is perfectly trustworthy; though whether they were two distinct works, or one work known by two names, remains uncertain. The text is written on the verso of the papyrus in a square or oval sloping uncial hand (cf. 420) of the third century; on the recto are parts of three lines in second century cursive.

428 contains the ends of nine iambic lines of a comedy, or possibly a tragedy, written in a small semi-uncial hand, which is more likely to belong to the second century than to the third. A short diagonal dash at the top of the line is used as a mark of punctuation.

429 is another comic fragment, containing the beginnings of fourteen iambic lines written in a large and handsome uncial of the square sloping type characteristic of the third century; cf. 420. On the verso is part of a document in cursive dating from the end of the century. A paragraphus below l. 9 marks a change of speaker. In ll. 10-2 a marriage is being arranged, which may indicate that the conclusion of the play was not far off. A very deep margin at the top of the column is noticeable.

430 consists of parts of eight lines in comic iambics from the top of a column, written on the verso of a second or early third century account. Marks of elision and high stops occur, but no breathings or accents. The writing on the verso is probably but little later than that on the recto.

431 consists of parts of twelve lines of a dialogue in comic iambics, written in an uncial hand resembling the square sloping type, but more probably second century than third. Changes of speaker are indicated by paragraphi and, when in the middle of a line, by blank spaces.

432 contains the beginnings of seventeen lines apparently from a comedy, written in a small uncial hand upon the verso of a second or early third century account. A correction in l. 15 and marginal notes opposite ll. 2 and 8 have been added in a more cursive hand, but probably by the original scribe. Changes of speaker are indicated by paragraphi and, when in the middle of a line, by double dots (cf. 409). The marginal notes seem from their position to refer to the speakers, but the names (Πηγορικ(ός) or βήγορικ(ός) and Ἀρίφ(ρων) or Ἀριφ(ρόδης)) are curious. The writing on the verso may be assigned to the third century. Between ll. 13 and 14 is a blank space sufficient for two lines.

433 contains the ends and beginnings of iambic lines from the upper parts of two columns. The MS. seems to have been of a magical character, giving directions for a series of spells or incantations, the objects of which are indicated by short marginal notes; cf. ll. 22, 28, and 33. The hand is a small semi-uncial which may be of the end of the second or more probably of the first half of the third century.

434 is apparently a fragment from a hexameter poem, perhaps a θρήνος or ἐπιτάφιος. Groups of a few lines (usually four) are separated by a shorter line, which may have contained a refrain. Parts of two columns remain, written in rather large coarse uncials, probably of the third century. On the verso is some more writing in a similar but more cursive hand.

435-444. PROSE FRAGMENTS.

Under these numbers are included a variety of small prose fragments which we have not succeeded in identifying. Two (435-6) are historical, three (437-9) of a philosophical character, the remainder, with the possible exceptions of 441 and 444, are oratorical.

435 contains parts of two columns written in an informal uncial hand probably towards the close of the second or in the first half of the third century. The Corcyraeans are mentioned in connexion with some one whose name began with $\Delta\eta\mu\sigma$, and who persuaded them to provide a talent (of silver); and there seems to have been some question of a marriage.

436 is a third century fragment from the bottom of a column, written in square sloping uncials (cf. 420 and 447) of good size. The general sense of ll. 5-10 is fairly clear, and the passage is evidently part of a description of some distinguished general, which might come either from a biographical monograph or from a more comprehensive historical work.

437 comprises parts of fifteen lines from the bottom of a column, the subject of which seems to be the practice of surgery, though it is not clear whether the fragment belongs to some professedly medical treatise or to a philosophical work of a more general character. The hand is a medium-sized sloping uncial probably dating from the third century.

438 consists of parts of twenty-three lines written upon the verso of a second century account in a semi-uncial hand, also of the second century. The first line, which is shorter and apparently in a more cursive hand than the rest and has a space below it, is more likely to be a marginal note than the title of the work, which seems to have been of a philosophical character, the author using the first person very frequently.

439 is written on the verso, the recto having only a diagonal stroke such as is found in accounts. Parts of fourteen lines are preserved, written in rather small third century uncials of the usual type; cf. 420. A breathing and elision mark occur. The fragment comes from a philosophical writer, apparently not Plato.

440. Two fragments which were found together and are apparently in the same hand; but whether they belong to the same MS. is doubtful, for the papyrus of (β) is somewhat thicker than that of (α), and (β) has on the verso parts of six lines written in a good-sized uncial hand, while the verso of (α) is blank. The writing on the recto is a third century uncial of a common type (cf. 447). (α), which was a carefully punctuated papyrus, is probably a fragment of an orator.

441 contains the ends and beginnings of lines from the upper parts of two consecutive columns, written in a small sloping hand probably of the third century. The use of the second person plural (l. 16) and the occurrence of the name Philip (l. 20) suggest a rhetorical composition; but it might also be inferred from the short line at l. 19 followed by a name in the genitive case that the MS. comprised a collection of $\alpha\pi\omicron\phi\theta\acute{\epsilon}\gamma\mu\alpha\tau\alpha$ or anecdotes.

442. A long strip containing the latter halves of lines from one column and a few letters from the beginnings of lines of the next. The piece seems to be in the oratorical style, but it is too mutilated for the drift to be caught.

443 is apparently a fragment of a private oration, and contains the beginnings of twenty-four lines written in a round uncial hand of a calligraphic type; it more probably belongs to the second century than to the third. The low and high points occur in ll. 4 and 6 respectively.

444 is a fragment mentioning Philip and the Macedonians, but whether it comes from a public oration or from a historical work is uncertain. The handwriting is a medium-sized uncial of the second century, probably of the early or middle part of it.

III. FRAGMENTS OF EXTANT CLASSICAL AUTHORS

445. HOMER, Iliad VI.

Height 30.5 cm.

PLATE IV (Fr. a).

OF the numerous Homeric papyri of the Roman period which have been discovered, very few present so many points of interest and importance as the following fragments of the sixth book of the Iliad, written in a medium-sized uncial hand with critical marks and occasional marginal notes, and containing parts of ll. 128, 134-7, 148, 173-94, 199, and 445-end. While the critical marks, which include the dipole, antisigma, and asterisk, are all due to the first hand, in the marginal notes two or three hands are probably to be distinguished, though owing to the paucity of the material for forming a judgement it is impossible to classify them with certainty. To the first corrector, whom we will call A and who employed a small semi-uncial hand, we should assign the notes on ll. 128, 148, and 449, together with all the superscribed variants. To the second (B), who wrote a small more cursive hand, belongs the note on l. 464; and to a third (C), who wrote a larger cursive, that on l. 478. The figure at the end, giving apparently the number of lines in the book, is cursively written but apparently by the first hand, and it is possible that either A or B (but not C), is also identical with the original scribe. The question is, however, not of great importance, for there is certainly no appreciable difference of time between the writing of the text and the addition of the scholia and interlinear readings. The first century is out of the question as the date of the papyrus, and both text and notes suggest the second century or the beginning of the third. Breathings and accents are occasionally, and elision-marks generally, used, and the punctuation is careful, the high point being employed, except in ll. 477 and 496, where the middle point occurs, indicating a slighter pause.

In its disposition of critical marks the papyrus as a rule accords with the Venetus A, but there are some divergences; cf. notes on ll. 183 and 189. The marginal notes are, however, very scanty compared with Schol. A, though such information as they give is of considerable value, since they are all concerned with various readings. Most of these notes record differences between the papyrus and the κοινή or generally accepted text, which is occasionally mentioned in the extant Homeric scholia, but not in connexion with these particular passages. Besides the readings ascribed to a definite source in the marginal notes, other variants are inserted between the lines without any indication of their origin. Since they are sometimes rare, sometimes the common readings, it is not probable that they were all derived from any one text.

The papyrus, which is remarkably free from errors and has more affinity with A than with any other extant manuscript, presents in spite of its extremely mutilated condition a number of important readings which are either altogether new (see notes on ll. 487, 494, and 523), or are known to have existed only from scholia (l. 187), or from quotations in other authors (l. 493). Of these, one (πάσι μάλιστα δ' ἔμοι instead of πᾶσιν ἔμοι δὲ μάλιστα in l. 493), is distinctly superior to the traditional text, and affords one of the rare instances of an emendation made in the text of Homer by a modern editor being confirmed by a papyrus.

In our commentary upon this papyrus we owe several suggestions to Mr. T. W. Allen, who has also very kindly placed his own collations at our disposal. Our collation is with the text of Ludwich.

128. The marginal note refers to the ancient variant οὐρανόν for the common reading οὐρανό. Schol. A has (reading οὐρανό in the text) οὕτως Ἀριστάρχος οἶον καταβέβηκας τὸν οὐρανόν. διὰ διὰ τοῦ ἦ γράφει, κατ' οὐρανόν. The reading of Aristarchus is found in several families of MSS.; whether the text of the papyrus had οὐρανον is uncertain.

148. The marginal note presents much difficulty. ὥρη was according to Schol. A the reading of Aristophanes, while the nominative ὥρη is found in nearly all the MSS. and is preferred by Lüd. The iota before αι αρχ(αιαι) apparently belongs to the main text (which therefore agreed with Aristophanes), not to the note, and since αι αρχ(αιαι) would most naturally refer to the reading of Aristophanes, we should expect the authority for the other reading ὥρη to be given by the intervening word or words. But it is not easy to interpret the meaning of ο ηκου". The reading of the first letter is by no means certain, for the ο is larger than the usual omicron of this scribe and might represent a β, and it is moreover placed underneath the χ of αρχ(αιαι), which is above the line. But the following η has been corrected from ο apparently, so that what seems to have happened is that the scribe first wrote αρχ οκου" and then converted the ο into η, inserting ο in the blank space underneath the χ. The obvious division ἡ κο(μῆ) is open to the objection that the ο after κ is not written above the line as in the marginal notes on ll. 128 and 478. Mr. Allen suggests δ ἡ κο(μῆ) ἰ(πο)σ(τέλλει), comparing the use of ὑποστολή in Anecd. Bek. II. p. 600 for the 'omission' of iota. The scholium would then mean that the ancient copies read ὥρη, but the common reading was ὥρη with no iota. This gives very good sense, but ν is hardly the kind of abbreviation of $\nu\sigma\sigma\tau\epsilon\lambda\lambda\epsilon\iota$ which would be expected on a papyrus of this period, and the construction of δ (sc. the ϵ of $\omega\rho\eta$) is somewhat difficult. $\mu\epsilon\kappa\omicron\upsilon\varsigma$ () as one word, however, suggests nothing but the first acorist of $\acute{\alpha}\kappa\omicron\upsilon\varsigma$, and though it is noteworthy that in Schol. A on this line $\acute{\alpha}\kappa\omicron\upsilon\epsilon\iota$ occurs ($\delta\lambda\iota\sigma\tau\omicron\phi\acute{\alpha}\nu\eta\varsigma$ $\gamma\rho\acute{\alpha}\phi\epsilon\iota$ $\tau\eta\lambda\epsilon\theta\acute{\omega}\nu\alpha$ $\kappa\alpha\iota$ $\epsilon\pi\acute{\iota}$ $\tau\omega\upsilon\varsigma$ $\phi\acute{\upsilon}\lambda\lambda\omega\upsilon\varsigma$ $\acute{\alpha}\kappa\omicron\upsilon\epsilon\iota$ $\kappa\alpha\iota$ $\tau\acute{\omicron}$ $\acute{\omega}\rho\eta$ $\mu\epsilon\tau\acute{\alpha}$ $\tau\omicron\upsilon\tau\omicron$ $\gamma\rho\acute{\alpha}\phi\epsilon\iota$ $\kappa\alpha\tau\acute{\alpha}$ $\delta\omicron\tau\iota\kappa\acute{\iota}\nu$), δ $\eta\kappa\omicron\upsilon\varsigma$ (or δ $\eta\kappa\omicron\upsilon\varsigma$ (av)) here makes no sense, and for δ $\eta\kappa\omicron\upsilon\varsigma$ (a), 'as I heard,' there is no parallel in scholia of this character.

174. For the dipole before this line cf. Schol. A η $\delta\iota\pi\lambda\eta$, $\acute{\omega}\tau\iota$ $\epsilon\pi\acute{\iota}\phi\omicron\rho\omicron\varsigma$ $\acute{\epsilon}\sigma\tau\iota$ $\pi\rho\acute{\omicron\varsigma}$ $\tau\omicron\upsilon\varsigma$ $\acute{\epsilon}\nu\epsilon\alpha$ $\acute{\alpha}\rho\iota\sigma\tau\acute{\alpha}\rho\chi\omicron\upsilon$. The papyrus adds an antisigma as well; cf. the explanation of this sign in a grammarian $\alpha\rho$. Dindorf, Schol. I. p. xlvii $\tau\acute{\omicron}$ $\delta\epsilon$ $\acute{\alpha}\nu\tau\iota\sigma\iota\gamma\mu\alpha$ $\kappa\alpha\iota$ $\acute{\alpha}\iota$ $\delta\iota\omicron$ $\sigma\tau\iota\gamma\mu\alpha\iota$ $\acute{\epsilon}\tau\alpha\iota$ $\kappa\alpha\tau\acute{\alpha}$ $\tau\acute{\omicron}$ $\acute{\epsilon}\xi\eta\varsigma$ $\delta\iota\varsigma$ η $\tau\acute{\omicron}$ $\alpha\upsilon\tau\acute{\omicron}$ $\nu\omicron\mu\alpha$ $\kappa\epsilon\acute{\iota}\mu\epsilon\upsilon\omicron\upsilon$.

176. A has the dipole against this line with comments \uparrow $\mu\epsilon$ $\acute{\epsilon}\rho\epsilon\acute{\iota}\nu\epsilon$ and $\sigma\eta\mu\alpha$.

178. A has a dipole against this line, but no comment.

181. The dipole before this line, like that before l. 186, has a dot above it and possibly is meant for a $\delta\iota\pi\lambda\eta$ $\mu\epsilon\mu\epsilon\tau\omicron\sigma\tau\iota\gamma\mu\acute{\epsilon}\nu\eta$, which should have a dot below as well. That sign was used to denote the readings or transpositions of Zenodotus, Crates, and Aristarchus. But since A has an ordinary dipole against l. 181 with the remark $\acute{\omega}\tau\iota$ $\acute{\epsilon}\nu$ $\sigma\acute{\omega}\mu\alpha$ η $\chi\eta\mu\alpha\sigma\alpha$, and none at all against l. 186, and since no variation of reading among the ancient critics is recorded in connexion with those two lines, it is more probable that the dipole with one dot has the same meaning as the plain dipole, or at any rate means something different from the $\delta\iota\pi\lambda\eta$ $\mu\epsilon\mu\epsilon\tau\omicron\sigma\tau\iota\gamma\mu\acute{\epsilon}\nu\eta$.

183. Here the Ven. A has a dipole with the remark $\acute{\omega}\tau\iota$ $\omicron\delta\delta\acute{\epsilon}\nu$ $\mu\epsilon\pi\acute{\iota}$ $\tau\eta\varsigma$ $\kappa\alpha\tau\acute{\alpha}$ $\tau\omicron\upsilon\varsigma$ $\Pi\acute{\eta}\rho\alpha\sigma\omicron\upsilon$ $\iota\sigma\tau\omicron\rho\iota\alpha\varsigma$ $\acute{\epsilon}\mu\phi\alpha\iota\upsilon\epsilon$. Possibly the dipole which is found in the papyrus before l. 186, where the Ven. A has none, has been misplaced and should have preceded l. 183. But there are several instances of divergence between the papyrus and A with regard to the dipole; cf. note on l. 189.

187. The reading of the first hand $\epsilon\pi\epsilon\rho\chi\omicron\mu\epsilon\upsilon\alpha$ is ascribed to $\acute{\alpha}\lambda\lambda\omicron\iota$ by Schol. A, but is not found in any MS. The reading of the corrector $\alpha\pi\epsilon\rho\chi\omicron\mu\epsilon\upsilon\alpha$ (ascribed to Aristarchus by Schol. V) occurs in the Lipsiensis and apparently in Mr. Allen's L 20. It is curious that the papyrus seems to ignore $\alpha\pi\epsilon\rho\chi\omicron\mu\epsilon\upsilon\alpha$, the ordinary reading and that ascribed to Aristarchus by Schol. A. It is now clear that the variant $\epsilon\pi\epsilon\rho\chi\omicron\mu\epsilon\upsilon\alpha$ (which is not even mentioned by Ludwig or Monro and Allen) rested on considerable authority.

189. The papyrus has no dipole before this line and l. 191 where they are found in the Ven. A.

194. Cf. Schol. A η $\delta\iota\pi\lambda\eta$ $\acute{\omega}\tau\iota$ $\mu\epsilon\mu\epsilon\tau\omicron\sigma\tau\iota\gamma\mu\acute{\omicron}\tau\iota$ $\tau\acute{\omicron}$ $\tau\acute{\epsilon}\mu\epsilon\upsilon\omicron\varsigma$ $\kappa\alpha\iota$ $\acute{\alpha}\phi\omicron\rho\iota\sigma\alpha\iota$.

199. For the dipole cf. A, which has a comment on the parentage of Sarpedon.

449. The scholiasts have no note on the reading $\epsilon\upsilon\mu\mu\epsilon\lambda\iota\omega$ on this line, but cf. Schol. A on B. 461 ($\acute{\Delta}\sigma\iota\omega$ $\acute{\epsilon}\nu$ $\lambda\epsilon\mu\acute{\omega}\nu\iota$) $\gamma\omega\mu\eta$ $\gamma\epsilon\mu\eta$ $\mu\epsilon\mu\epsilon\tau\omicron\sigma\tau\iota\gamma\mu\acute{\omicron}\tau\iota$ $\tau\acute{\omicron}$ $\gamma\alpha\rho$ $\acute{\upsilon}\gamma\epsilon\iota$ $\acute{\epsilon}\sigma\tau\iota\upsilon$ $\acute{\Delta}\sigma\iota\omega$ $\acute{\omega}\varsigma$ $\acute{\Delta}\tau\epsilon\rho\iota\delta\epsilon\alpha$. $\delta\iota\delta$ $\chi\omega\rho\iota\varsigma$ $\tau\omicron\upsilon\tau\omicron$ ζ , Schol. T $\acute{\iota}\delta\iota\delta$. . . $\acute{\epsilon}\nu$ $\gamma\epsilon\mu\eta$ $\sigma\acute{\upsilon}\nu$ $\alpha\upsilon\tau\acute{\omicron}$ $\acute{\epsilon}\lambda\eta\phi\tau\acute{\iota}\omicron\upsilon$ $\kappa\alpha\iota$ $\chi\omega\rho\iota\varsigma$ $\tau\omicron\upsilon\tau\omicron$ $\acute{\iota}\omega\tau\alpha$, $\acute{\omega}\varsigma$ $\tau\acute{\omicron}$ $\acute{\epsilon}\mu\mu\epsilon\lambda\iota\omega$ $\Pi\rho\acute{\alpha}\mu\omicron\varsigma$, $\acute{\omega}\varsigma$ $\epsilon\pi\omega\delta\iota\alpha\delta\acute{\iota}\varsigma$ $\acute{\epsilon}\nu$ $\tau\eta$ $\kappa\alpha\theta\acute{\omicron}\lambda\omicron\upsilon$ $\kappa\alpha\iota$ $\Pi\tau\omicron\lambda\epsilon\mu\acute{\alpha}\iota\omicron\varsigma$ $\acute{\epsilon}\nu$ $\tau\eta$ $\mu\epsilon\pi\acute{\iota}$ $\sigma\upsilon\gamma\kappa\alpha\lambda\omicron\phi\eta\varsigma$, and Schol. The papyrus had $\epsilon\upsilon\mu\mu\epsilon\lambda\iota\omega$ (genitive) in the text with most MSS. Mr. Allen informs us that besides A, his D, V 16, and P, and probably a few more have $\acute{\epsilon}\mu\mu\epsilon\lambda\iota\omega$, and this reading is indicated by the remark $\delta\omicron$ (τὴ) $\mu\epsilon$ (ε) τ (ἀ) $\tau\omicron\upsilon\tau\omicron$ ζ . The papyrus seems unique in calling $\epsilon\upsilon\mu\mu\epsilon\lambda\iota\omega$ dative, perhaps from false analogy with $\acute{\Delta}\sigma\iota\omega$ (σ. $\mu\epsilon\mu\epsilon\tau\omicron\sigma\tau\iota\gamma\mu\acute{\omicron}\tau\iota$), which in spite of the scholiasts is probably to be interpreted as dative.

The dash after ζ is apparently a mark of punctuation. Whether γ (ενεπ) (if that be the right expansion of γ in the text) $\epsilon\upsilon\mu\mu\epsilon\lambda\iota\omega$ means that $\epsilon\upsilon\mu\mu\epsilon\lambda\iota\omega$ is to be regarded as a genitive, equivalent to $\epsilon\upsilon\mu\mu\epsilon\lambda\iota\omega\varsigma$, or that there was a variant $\epsilon\upsilon\mu\mu\epsilon\lambda\iota\omega\varsigma$, is not made clear. ευμελειου, though it does not scan, is actually found in one MS.; but the first hypothesis is more likely, though ευμελειον would be expected.

456. Ἀργεὶ δούρα* Lud., the MSS. being divided. πρός (Lud.) is the reading of all the MSS. except one at Vienna (W) in which πρός is corrected to πρό, as here.

464. Over ν of καλυπτοί is a circular mark resembling the sign for a short syllable.

The marginal note here is in a more cursive hand than that employed in the other cases. The vulgate does in fact read τεθνεώς; cf. Schol. A on H. 409, l. 633, P. 161, &c., from which it appears that Aristarchus read τεθνήσας. So far ἄλλοι has been the only source assigned to the form τεθνεώς, which is read in the majority of the MSS.

475. θροισιν: θεοῖσι Lud.

477. Cf. A, where ενι is superscribed above ἀντιπρπέα, the reading of other MSS. and Lud.

478. After the lacuna following βη is a spot of ink at the top of the line, which we have considered to represent an elision-mark after τ. If this is correct, the note probably refers to the alternative readings βην τ' αγαθόν (the best-supported reading, so Lud.) and βην αγαθόν (so many MSS.) or βην αγαθόν τε (ascribed to ἄλλοι by Schol. A). Of these βην αγαθόν is that most likely to have stood in the text of the papyrus, since βην τ' is recorded in the margin and the reading βην αγαθόν τε ignores the digamma before ἴλιον, whereas in l. 493 the papyrus preserves a digamma which is ignored by the MSS. But it is possible that after βην there was no τ' and that the spot of ink represents a stop or is even accidental. Then the marginal note may refer either to βην τ in the text or to βον (or βον τ), a reading found in D, two Vienna MSS., and Mr. Allen's N 4. The fact that the scholia do not mention βον but comment on the position of τε is in favour of the view that the note here referred to a variation concerning τε, not βην.

479. διχ(ος) over the line refers to the variants γ' ὅδε (Aristarchus) and δ' ὁ γε (the reading of nearly all MSS.). It is quite uncertain which of the two was found in the text of the papyrus.

485. Above the last two letters of ονομαζε are traces of ink which apparently indicate something superscribed. The only variant known is ἀνόμαζεν, and the vestiges do not suggest either ν or a horizontal stroke meaning ν.

487. The π of προΐαφει has been corrected from α(?). The variant προΐαφει inserted above the line is not recorded in connexion with the present passage, but in Q. 110 there was an ancient dispute whether προΐαπτω or προΐάπτω was to be read.

490-2. For the asterisks before these lines cf. Schol. A on 490-3 τέσσαρσι στίχοις ἔξην ἀστερίσχοι παράκεινται οἱ νῦν μὲν ὀρθῶς κείμενοι καὶ πρὸ τῶν τῆς μνηστειροφονίας (φ. 350) ἐν δὲ τῇ α' βραβυλῇ τῆς Ὀδυσσεύας (356-9) οὐκ ἐστὶ. The papyrus omits the asterisk before l. 493.

493. πᾶσι μάλιστα δ' εἰμι τοι ἴλιωι: this reading, which is superior to that of all the MSS. (and Lud.) πᾶσιν ἐμοὶ δὲ μάλιστα τοι ἴλιω because it preserves the digamma before ἴλιω, is found in Epictetus, Diss. III. 22, 108, and had been restored in the present passage by Hoffmann and Bekker, comparing a. 359, λ. 353, and φ. 353. For another example of a conjecture in the text of Homer being confirmed by a papyrus see P. Grenf. II. p. 11, where in Ψ. 198 Nauck's conjecture ῥκα δὲ ἴρις instead of the MSS. reading ῥκα δ' ἴρις is found in a third century B.C. papyrus. It is noticeable that there, as here, the papyrus preserves a digamma which had been ignored by the MSS.

ἐγγεγασσιν: cf. A, where too ν is superscribed. ἐγγεγασσιν Lud.

494. At the end of the line φαιδμος Ἔκτωρ is the reading of all the MSS. and Lud. For the variant χειρὶ παχείη cf. Φ. 403, where Παλλὰς Ἀθήνη is found in the Ambrosianus and a Vatican MS. (cf. Schol. A ἐν ἄλλῃ Παλλὰς Ἀθήνη) in place of the ordinary reading χειρὶ παχείη. χειρὶ παχείη would suit just as well as φαιδμος Ἔκτωρ here, for φωνήσας could not refer to any one but Hector.

507-9. The papyrus omits the asterisks which are found in A against these lines, but has the dipole against l. 507, as in A.

510. ωμῶς: in the margin before this line is what looks like the top of a critical mark, of which the rest is lost. A has a dipole against this line.

518. The smooth breathing above the initial η is uncertain, but the vestiges suit that better than a circumflex. There is a dipole before this line in A.

521. The δ and μ of δαίμονι [have possibly been corrected.

523. ἀλλ' ἀκούειν: ἀλλὰ ἑκόν MSS. Cf. β. iii, where Rhianus read ἀκούοντα for ἀκούοντα. This error (ἀέκων for ἀέων) is not uncommon in MSS. ἀέων makes good sense here.

527. ο of εὐνοῦμαι is corrected from ι.

529. Below the coronis is a number, apparently referring to the lines in the book. If 525 is correct, Book vi in this papyrus was four lines shorter than in our texts. But in view of the carelessness of scribes in numbering successive hundreds of lines (cf. 223), not much reliance can be placed on the figure here, though cf. 448. 302, note.

446. HOMER, Iliad XIII.

18.4 x 4.3 cm.

PLATE VI.

A narrow strip of papyrus containing parts of ll. 58-99 of Iliad xiii. The scribe was unusually careless, and the fragment has no critical value; but palaeographically it is interesting, since a portion of a cursive account on the verso of the late second or third century supplies an approximate terminus ad quem for the date of the literary text on the recto. The latter, written in a square and upright uncial hand, may be placed near the end of the second century.

61. τωδας is a mistake for ποδας.

64. ποδιοιο is a graphical error for πεδιοιο.

66. εγνω προσθεν has been corrected from εγν[ω]ι προσθεν, probably by another hand.

68. The omission of l. 67 may have been caused by the fact that both it and l. 68 begin with the letters αι. But something has also gone wrong with the beginning of

l. 68, for it is impossible to get Λιαν ἐπει τις νοι into the lacuna, which is of the same size as that in the preceding and following lines.

71. μετοπισθεν: l. μετοπισθε.

73. The doubled σ in σστ[η]θεσαι is probably a mere accident, since the iota is already long by position; the passage is therefore hardly parallel to e.g. P. Brit. Mus. 732 II. xiv. l. 183 τριγληνα μοσχοειγνα (Journ. of Phil. xxvi. p. 49).

75. η: καὶ MSS.

80. Πριαμειδη: l. Πριαμυδη.

82. γηθοσυνη is of course another blunder, due to the termination of the preceding word.

83. οπισθεν: similar mistakes (for οπιθεν) occur in DG (οπισθεν) and Vrat. A (οπισθε).

84. νηυσιν: l. νηυσιν.

87. υπεκκτεβησαν: υπερκατέβησαν MSS. On the other hand in l. 89 the papyrus has υπερ κιακον (?) in place of the regular ιπ' εκ κακόν. The variation is no more than a graphical error.

89. υπερ κιακον: cf. the previous note.

94. No variant is known in this line, which should be τοὺς δ' γ' ἐποτρύνων ἔπεα πτερόεντα προσηύδα. It is quite impossible that twelve letters should have stood in the papyrus before π; perhaps the scribe confused the two omicrons and wrote τους οτρυνων.

447. HOMER, Iliad XXIII.

PLATE VI.

The following small fragment from the twenty-third Book of the Iliad, has, like the preceding papyrus, a palaeographical interest. The text on the recto, written in square slightly sloping uncials, represents a common type of literary hand (cf. especially 26); while on the verso is part of an account in cursive which is not later than the beginning of the third century, and more probably belongs to the second. It is, therefore, not at all likely that the MS. on the recto was written later than the latter part of the second century. A few accents &c. occur, apparently added by the original scribe.

448. HOMER, Odyssey XXII AND XXIII.

Height of Column 29.6 cm.

The following fragments are from a roll comprising Books xxii and xxiii of Homer's Odyssey. Of the twenty-second Book portions of seven consecutive columns remain, covering with some intervals ll. 31-317. Book xxiii is represented only by two small pieces from a couple of columns, nine intermediate columns being wholly lost. The text is on the verso of the papyrus, the recto having been previously utilized for a prose literary work which has been carefully cleaned off—unfortunately so effectively that the writing is quite illegible. The letters here and there traceable are formal rather heavy upright uncials of good size, probably not earlier than the third century, to which the hand of the verso may also be attributed. This is also upright and rather large, but lighter and more ornate. Accents, breathings (usually acute-angled), marks of elision, &c., and high stops have been added with some frequency, mostly by a second hand, which has also introduced some corrections into the text; the marks of elision, however, seem to be mainly due to the original scribe. The system of accentuation is generally similar to that found in 223, the long papyrus of Iliad v; in oxytone words, however, all the syllables except the last bear a grave accent (though not in xxii. 184 εὐρύ γερον), as in the Bacchylides papyrus, whereas in 223 only the penultimate syllable has the grave accent. As in 223, perispome words followed by enclitics become oxytone. In the case of diphthongs the second vowel is usually accented, while in 223 the reverse is the case, but the writer was not very careful, and it is sometimes a matter of doubt for which letter an accent was intended. A peculiarity is the method of writing the accents, which are as a rule nearly, and sometimes quite, horizontal.

The papyrus shows on the whole a good text, which is of interest on account of some agreements with X (Vindobonensis 133), or U (Monacensis 519 B), or both, against the rest of the MSS. Our collation is with the edition of Ludwich.

xxii. 35. υ of κυνες has been corrected, the scribe having begun to write a round letter.

37-8. These two lines are transposed in a number of MSS.

37. τε: so U (τε) Eust.; δε Lud. with other MSS.

44. The papyrus agrees with the majority of MSS. (so Lud.) in omitting the line πάπτηνεν δέ έκαστος δπη φύγον αλπύν ελεθρον found in DLW.

87. αμφοτεροαῖσιν: αμφοτεροισι MSS., Lud.

88. υς of αχλυσ has been corrected by the original scribe from ευ, i.e. he began to write αχλeus.

114. αν of αυτως is over an erasure of ω, by the first hand.

119. The correction is probably by the second hand.

128. εντος εισαι: so XU, "εντος" ή "ενδον εισαι" Eust.; εδ' άραρύια other MSS., Lud.

129. I. Οδυσεus: cf. 141, 281. The ε of δε]ων seems to have been deleted.

130. εστεωτ': so Lud. with H, and GP (ε); cf. Aristarchus Q. 701. Other MSS. vary between ισταωτ', ιστωτ', ισταάτ', and ιστεάτ'. The ρ (or φ) written in place of τ by the original scribe was a mere blunder.

αχου τη[ς]: άχουδ is not found here in any MS.; άγχ' αυτης is the ordinary reading.

141. I. Οδυσεus: cf. 129, 281.

186. δε λελυτο: The manner in which the correction has been made without the addition of any elision-mark indicates that the corrector read δε λελυτο (so FZ) rather than δ' ελελυτο (other MSS., Lud.); cf. xxiii. 192.

192. The omission of the line υιός Δαέρταο, πολύτλας δῖος 'Οδυσεύς is in agreement with the majority of the MSS.; so Lud.

233. ιστα]σο: so FDULWP; ισταο Lud. with H, cf. Did. K. 291.

245. The corrector has only actually crossed through the ε of τε, but no doubt the τ was meant to be included. ε of εμαχοντο has been corrected.

250. οιοι apparently has the rough breathing, as in FH; I. οιοι.

251. δ' after μη is peculiar to the papyrus.

252. α is a mistake for οι.

254. πεςσηι: πέσσησιν Lud.

255. εκελευσε: so X (-σεν); έκελευεν other MSS., Lud.

257-9. Lud. prints these lines in small type comparing Eust. τινές ώβέλυσαν ώς ταυτολογούτας.

264. κακοισι: κακοῖσιν MSS., Lud.

274. [τω]ν δ: ση. δ MSS., Lud.; cf. I. 251.

275. [βεβλ]ηκεν: so U and Bekker: βεβλήκει Lud. with other MSS.

278. ακρην: so U (first hand) and X; cf. Eust. θηλυκώς τε καὶ αρρενικώς λέγεται ρῶνός κατὰ τὰ αντίγραφα. άκρον Lud. with other MSS., Ariston. P. 599.

281. In connexion with the deleted first σ in Ὀδυσσῆα it may be noted that Ὀδυσσῆα is found in F, while the second hand has added a second σ above the line in H; cf. l. 129.

287. πολυκέρτομε : so M; φιλοκέρτομε other MSS., Lud.

302. The marginal γ as usual marks the 300th line; cf. 223, &c. Its position opposite l. 302 here is accounted for by the omission of ll. 43 and 191.

307. The second η of μηστῆρας has been corrected.

xxiii. 192. ὄφρα τέλεισσαι : so Bekker (second ed. 1858); ὄφρ' ἐτέλεισσα Lud. with most MSS. Cf. xxii. 186.

237. η in νηχομενοι has been corrected from ω .

449. EURIPIDES, Andromache.

Largest fragment 9×7 cm.

These fragments of a single column from the beginning of Euripides' Andromache provide what appears to be an early example of the use of the book form (cf. 459). The writing—a medium-sized not very regular uncial, probably of the first half of the third century—is on the verso of the papyrus, while on the recto in the centre of the page are the letters $\rho\eta$ or $\rho\iota$. with a short horizontal stroke above them and a lacuna sufficient for another line below. These letters may represent a number or perhaps a title, e.g. $\rho\eta$ 'ῥῆσις' Ἀνδρομάχης. Supposing this MS. to have been a codex the size of a page would have been about 28×14 cm. The text seems to have been a fairly good one. An otherwise unrecorded variant occurs in l. 27.

6. The papyrus omits l. 7 as found in the MSS. ἐμοῦ πέφυκεν ἢ γενήσεται ποτε, which the scholiast states was an insertion of the actors. The verse was rejected by Valckenaer and is bracketed by W(ecklein).

10. ρυφεντα: so AEP; ρύφέντα LB, W.
 17. ναίω πεδρ is the ordinary reading. The papyrus variant was considerably longer.
 24. αρσενα: the elision is not elsewhere neglected in the papyrus.
 27. τεχθεντος: a new variant; σωθέντος MSS.
 35. The accent and the fact that a wider space than usual is left between τά and κ show that the scribe did not understand τάκτως to be a crasis, which is of course necessary for the scansion.
 47. The scribe regarded ὑπεκπέμνω as two words.

450. EURIPIDES, Medea.

4.1 × 5.3 cm.

A fragment from the top of a column, containing parts of lines 710-5 of Euripides' Medea, written on the verso of the papyrus. On the recto are two or three mutilated lines of cursive, of the second or third century. The literary text on the verso, which is in a somewhat rapid, sloping uncial hand, may be assigned to the third century.

713. δομοις: the papyrus thus agrees with the MSS. reading; δομων Prinz-Wecklein.
 714-5. These two lines were excised by L. Dindorf and are bracketed by Prinz-Wecklein.

715. και αυτος: the reading is fairly secure; 1. κατηδε.

451. THUCYDIDES II.

7 × 3.4 cm.

A small fragment from the top of a column containing parts of 10 lines from the end of Chap. 73 and the beginning of Chap. 74 of Thucydides, Book ii. The text, which is written in a third century uncial hand of rather small size, shows a slight divergence from the usual order in l. 9. How exactly the lines were divided is not certain; the distribution proposed below is fairly satisfactory, though the lacuna at the beginning of l. 2 is somewhat overcrowded.

452. THUCYDIDES IV.

7 x 3.8 cm.

This is another scrap from Thucydides (iv. 87) written in medium-sized square uncials which we should assign to the end of the second or to the third century. The identification of the fragment—due like that of the preceding and following to Blass—was rendered the more difficult by the fact that αἰμνηστον in l. 11, which is the only uncommon word in the text, is a new variant found in no MS. Another otherwise unrecorded reading occurs in l. 3.

3. πλείους: πλείους M[G], πλείους H[ude] with other MSS.

8. βούλευσθαι... αγωνισ[ασθαι]: βουλεύεσθε... αγωνισασθε MSS, H. The infinitives in the papyrus may be due to a confusion of the construction or be merely a case of the common interchange of αι and ε.

10. It is not certain that ξαι began the line, since the papyrus is broken away immediately before the ξ; but the division of the lines proposed in the text works well on that hypothesis.

11. αἵμησ[τον]: αἰδιον MSS, H.

453. THUCYDIDES VI.

8.7 x 3 cm.

A fragment from Thucydides, vi. 32, written in an upright uncial hand of medium size which may date from the early part of the second century or even from the end of the first. The text coincides so far as it goes with that of Hude except for the use of σ in place of ξ in l. 9.

454. PLATO, Gorgias.

27.5 x 14.5 cm.

The recto of this papyrus contains part of a money account in Latin, written in a good-sized cursive hand of the second century. On the verso are parts of three columns containing pp. 507-8 of Plato's Gorgias, written in a medium-sized uncial hand of the middle or later part of the second century. Stops are occasionally found, a high point in ll. 62 and 87, and a point opposite the middle of the preceding letter in ll. 50 and 118, though whether these were really intended to represent a different pause is doubtful. There are a few corrections, sometimes in a different hand. Being the first papyrus of part of the Gorgias to be discovered, the fragment is of considerable interest, though the text is not very good. There are numerous minor variations from the later MSS., but most of these are clearly wrong; cf. notes on ll. 9, 18, 34, 40, 79, 105, and 116. It is noticeable, however, that in one passage (l. 51) the papyrus agrees with the text of Iamblichus and Stobaeus against the readings of the MSS., and that in another (ll. 113-5) it removes a slight difficulty where an error in the text had already been suspected. It is also a matter of some importance for the textual criticism of Plato that in two places (ll. 48 and 105) the papyrus supports the Vindobonensis against the other MSS.* The conjectures of various scholars in the part covered by the fragment gain no support from it, and even in a passage where ἄθλιοι clearly seems to have dropped out of the text before or after οἱ ἄθλιοι, the papyrus agrees with the later MSS. in omitting it; cf. l. 76, note.

We give a collation with the text of Bekker (1826); but for the readings of the MSS. and of Iamblichus and Stobaeus we are indebted to Prof. J. Burnet, who has very kindly placed his collations of this passage at our disposal. B = the Clarkianus, T = cod. Ven. Bibl. Marc. App. class. 4. 1, F = Vind. suppl. gr. 39.

20. ταντ αλη[θ]η ε[ι]ν[αι]: ταῦτα ἀληθῆ BF Stob.; ἀληθῆ ταῦτα T; ταῦτ' ἀληθῆ Bek.

27. παρασκευαστέον: so BTF Iambl., Bek.; παρασκευαστέον ἐαυτῶν Stob.

28. μη] δεισθαι: μηδὲν δεῖσθαι MSS., Bek. But 15 letters would be too much for the lacuna, which should contain 12 or 13.

30. η [αυτος]: so BTF Stob., Bek.; αὐτος Iambl.

34. ουτος ε[ιναι] ε[μοι]γε: εἶναι οὗτος ἐμοιγε MSS., Bek.

35. ο σκοπ[ος]: so BTF Iambl., Bek.; σκοπός Stob.

37. τα αυτου: so BTF Stob.; ταῦτοῦ Iambl.; καὶ τὰ αὐτοῦ Laur. 85, 6 and Bek.

40. δικαιοσυνη: this is repeated from l. 39 by an error for σωφροσυνη, the reading of the MSS.

μελλον[τι] μακαριω: μακαρίῳ μέλλοντι MSS., Bek.

44. ταντα[ς]: so TF Stob., Bek.; ταῦτα B Iambl. It is unfortunately impossible to say which was the reading of the papyrus.

46. The two dots indicating the ε of ληιστου are so high above the line that it is probable that the ε was a subsequent insertion.

47. αλ[λ]ω: so BTF Iambl., Bek.; ἄλλως Stob.

48. προσφιλ[η]ς ε[ι]η: so F Iambl., Stob.; προσφιλῆς ἀν εἴη BT, Bek.

51. γαρ: so Iambl., Stob.; & BT, Bek.; om. F.

52. δε: δ Bek.

63. ου: οὐδέ Bek.

66. η ιοτης: so BTF Iambl, Bek.; ιοτης Stob.

68. The MSS. have μέγα δύναται. Above the end of the line is a horizontal stroke which we have considered to be the cross-bar of τ (i.e. τ[ι]), inserted probably by the second hand.

76. οι|αθλοι: so MSS.; αθλοι οι αθλοι Bek., adopting the conjecture of Heindorf.

77. εστιν: εστι Bek.

79. προσθε|ν ω Καλλικλεις: πρόσθεν εκείνα δ Καλλικλεις MSS., Bek. There is room for one or two more letters in the lacuna, but not for κεινα.

105. ουδε σωσαι: so F; οὐδ' ἐκώσσαι BT, Bek.

113. τ εκβαλειν: τε εκβάλλειν MSS., Bek. αποκτενύαι (l. 115) has been altered by Badham to αποκτενύναι (ἀποκτενύναι Schanz) in order to balance εκβάλλειν. But εκβαλειν in the papyrus supports the aorist infinitive there.

116. τουτω|ν: πάντων MSS., Bek.

455. PLATO, Republic III.

PLATE VI.

A fragment of the third book of Plato's Republic, p. 406, written in a not very regular uncial hand of medium size. On the verso are parts of nine lines of a document in late third or fourth century cursive; the writing on the recto, which is somewhat late in style, may accordingly be assigned to the middle or latter part of the third century. Changes of speaker are marked by the usual double dots. There are practically no variants from the text of Bekker.

456. PLATO, Republic IV.

5.8 × 7 cm.

A small fragment from Plato's Republic, IV p. 422 D, written in a medium-sized uncial hand probably towards the end of the second or in the early part of the third century. A change of speaker is indicated, as commonly, by double dots. There are no variants from Bekker's text.

457. AESCHINES, In Ctesiphontem.

13.4 × 7.3 cm.

A column from a roll containing the speech of Aeschines against Ctesiphon, written in a round uncial hand of medium size probably in the second century. The part preserved corresponds with § 167, and shows an interesting text with several readings not found in any of the existing manuscripts; while a claim for the consideration of these is made by the fact that the papyrus agrees with the best group of MSS. in a crucial passage (ll. 13-5). Our collations of this and the other oratorical fragments are with the Teubner editions of Blass.

1. δι[κ]ειρουνσι: δι[κ]ειρουσι B(lass).

2. Considerations of space make τ[ι] (B. with ekl Dionys. Dem. c. 57) much more probable than τ[ι]νος or τ[ι]νος.

10. συστη[σ]ασθ[α]ι: συστήσαι MSS., B.

13-5. The papyrus here agrees with ekl (followed by B.). Other MSS. omit σὺ γὰρ ... ἀποστήσεις or read σὺ Θετταλὸς ἀποστήσεις.

18. παρέσ[τι]ν: πρόσεστιν MSS., B.

21. προσκαθ[ι]ς[η]σ[ει]: there is not room for εσθ in the lacuna after προσκαθ, and not more than four or five letters are wanted at the end of the line. It is therefore probable that the papyrus read προσκαθ[ι]ς[η]σ[ει] (Lobeck, Bekker, Franke, B.), προκαθ[ι]ς[η]σ[ει] (Zonar. 1169) or προκαθ[ι]ς[η]σ[ει] (V); προσκαθ[ι]ς[ει]ς (or -ειν) eis ekhl, προικαθεστήση δι, προσκαθεστήση other MSS. Above the line to the right of the θ is an oblique dash like an accent.

23. δε: δ B.

24. αγαν π[ρ]οσποι[η]σει: προσποιήση MSS., B., omitting αγαν.

25. σεαυτ[ον]: σεαυτ[ον] MSS., B.

458. AESCHINES, De Falsa Legatione.

Fr. (a) 7.3 × 4.6 cm.

Three fragments written in a good-sized uncial hand of a common third century type (cf. 447), comprising parts of §§ 21, 26-7, and 29-30 of Aeschines' oration De Falsa Legatione. The text contained several errors, which have been corrected in a small uncial hand, probably that of the original scribe.

(a) 1-2. ἡμῶς τῶν συμπερσβίων is the reading of the MSS. (except one which omits τῶν συμπερ.), but is omitted by B(lass), following Taylor.

4. φοβοῖτο is the reading of the MSS. and B.

7. The MSS. are divided between δέ, δὴ (so B.) and δὲ δὴ. What the papyrus read is uncertain; for in the corresponding lacuna at the end of ll. 4, 5, and 9 six letters are to be supplied, but in that at the end of l. 6 only four.

8-9. ἀφθονοῦς εχει]ν: om. ἔχειν B. with one MS.; the other MSS. have ἔχειν ἀφθόνους or ἀφθόνους ἔχειν, except one which places ἔχειν after ἐπηγγέλλετο.

(b) 1-2. αυτοῖς: αὐτῆς B. with most MSS.

5. φυγὰς μὲν οἷτος supplied above the line had obviously been omitted through homoioteleuton.

(c) 6-7. τὴν ὑμετέραν ἡδεκμένων is the reading of all the MSS. and B.

459. DEMOSTHENES, Contra Aristocratem.

20.5 x 14.3 cm.

A leaf from a papyrus book containing pp. 657-9, §§ 110-19 of Demosthenes' speech against Aristocrates. The hand is a small sloping uncial which we should attribute to the third century; this is, therefore, an unusually early example of a classic in codex form. Several alterations have been made in the text, some of which may be by the original scribe, while others seem to be by a second hand; to the latter probably are also to be attributed the occasional marks of punctuation, breathings, and elision signs. Neglect of the principle of elision is, however, very common in this MS., the divergences of which in this respect from the text of Blass are omitted from the collation given below.

5. ω [αὐδ]res: om. ω B(lass), with SO.

8. εἰς Ἀμφιπόλεως, the alternative reading here, is found in all the MSS.

9. ὡμιν or ἡμιν is read in the MSS.

10. ἀνευ δε: ἀνευ γάρ B., with the MSS.

16. το [α]π[ο]ν: ταῖσιν B.

20. At the end of the line βουλευσ[α]σθαι was apparently written for βουλευσασθαι. The papyrus is rubbed, but there does not seem to be room for the ν. βουλεύεσθαι MSS.

21. Considerations of space make it very improbable that the final α of αμα was elided, as B.

23. The numeral 16 in the margin marks the beginning of a new chapter or section; cf. P. Grenf. II. 11. ii. 4.

24. καὶ τα: om. καὶ MSS., B.

26. στασιαζοῖς is a mistake for στασιαζοί.

27. What was first written after ἀπαντα apparently makes no word; the scribe perhaps had πεμπων still in his mind.

29. ἐστιν: om. B., with the MSS. The correction ἐπειδὴ is in accordance with the usual reading; ἐπειδάν FS.

ἐχοι: so B., with most MSS.; ἔχει Ov; εἶχεν, which was first written here, is the reading of Wolf and Dindorf (εἶχε).

32. [ὅφ' αὐτ]ω: so krsv; [αὐτο]ν (B., with S &c.) would not fill the lacuna, and the vestiges suit ω better than ν.

40. ὅτε: so MSS.; B. omits ὅτε, with Dindorf.

41. ἐξείλ[ε]: ἐξείλεν B.

42. λεγε: om. MSS., B.

43. [τοῦ]το τοῖνυν: τοῦτ' B., omitting τοῖνυν with the MSS.

44. πείσθητε: so rsv; πείθησθε B. with pr. S, AY. κάκεινο, which is all that intervenes in the MSS. between πείσθησθε and εἰδότες, does not nearly fill up the available space.

48-9. The MSS. vary between Φιλοκράτην (SYO) and Ἰφικράτην, and all have ἡ-περ φασὶ πρὸς Δακ. It would be possible to read Φίλο at the end of l. 48, but then the lacuna at the beginning of the following line is not satisfactorily filled, and the position of the overwritten ςων is unaccounted for. Moreover the traces on the papyrus suit φασὶ much better; and we therefore suppose that this word was placed later in the sentence, its loss perhaps being compensated for by the insertion of τους before Λακεδαιμονίους, and that ἰφικρατὴν Εφιαλτοῦ (which is preferable on account of the space to Φίλοκρ.) was originally written at the beginning of l. 49, Φίλοκρ. των being subsequently inserted above the line by the corrector.

53. γ' αει which is inserted above the line is the reading of the MSS., which also omit ἀδικεῖν after βουλήσονται.

55. εαν: ἂν B.

56. τουτοι: so krsv; τούτων B., with other MSS. At the end of the line βουλησθε seems to have been written for βουλησεσθε; there is not room for βουλησεσθ.

57. τινα αν ει πασης αρξεν; this is the usual reading; τιν' αν πάσης ἄρξας B. (ἄρξας S in marg.).

58. ἀνθρώπων is bracketed by B.

60. δωρεας: δωρεϊds B.

63-4. The words και φιλον, which have here been crossed through, are omitted in S. They are accepted by B.

460. DEMOSTHENES, De Pace.

10.8 x 10.2 cm.

Parts of two columns from a copy of the περὶ Ειρήνης of Demosthenes (pp. 62-3, §§ 21 and 23), written in good-sized square sloping uncials (cf. 447), probably near the beginning of the third century or even somewhat earlier. An angular stroke is used to fill up a short line in l. 5. A noticeable variant from the ordinary text occurs in ll. 5-6.

2. The vestiges at the end of this line give no real clue to the letters, and it is impossible to determine whether the papyrus agreed with S in reading πέπρακται τι against the κάλλιστα πέπρακται of other MSS.

5-6. οὐδὲν ἂν αὐτοῖς εἰδοίκεν εἶναι is the reading of the MSS.

6. εβου[λοντο]: so V; ἡβούλοντο other MSS., Blass.

13. αυτοῖς: αὐτούς B.

14. The papyrus agrees with S (so B.) in omitting εἶναι, which is found in other MSS. after ἡγούντο.

17. There would be room for from three to five letters after δοσ[ιν], but it is difficult to see what could have been added here. Perhaps there was some correction.

22. [ε]νεχ: εἶνεχ' B.

461. DEMOSTHENES, De Corona.

7.5 × 5.5 cm.

This fragment from the top of a column contains part of Demosthenes' De Corona, p. 227, §§ 7-8, written in rapidly formed sloping uncials which are more likely to date from the third century than from the end of the second. An unknown variant occurs in l. 9, but the passage is mutilated.

4. διαφυλατ[τ]ων : φυλάττων B. with S pr. L.

7. προσδεξαιτο : προσδέξεται MSS., B.

8. The interlinear ε is by the original scribe ; αὐτῶν B.

9. The MSS. have ἴσον καὶ κοινόν, and κοινον is probably the word here inserted (by the first hand) above the line. The adjective first written certainly ended in -ιον, and the vestiges of the letter before would suit α, δ, λ, or ο : ? ομ[ι]ον.

462. DEMOSTHENES, De Corona.

17.7 × 8.6 cm.

Parts of two columns containing portions of §§ 25-8 (pp. 233-4) of the De Corona, written in a good-sized third century uncial hand resembling that of 223 and 420. There are a few variants, but the text of the papyrus is a poor one. An erroneous reading in l. 28 has been corrected in a different hand. Two kinds of stops (the high and low points) occur, and a wedge-shaped sign of varying size is used for filling up short lines.

463. XENOPHON, Anabasis VI.

Width of column 5 cm.

Part of Xenophon's Anabasis VI. vi. §§ 9-24, written in narrow and rather short columns; the lower portions of seven are preserved. The handwriting is a good and apparently rather early specimen of the square sloping style, and may be assigned to the end of the second or the first half of the third century. The middle point occurs irregularly and the common angular sign is used to fill up short lines. Our collation is with the edition of Gemoll (Teubner, 1900), supplemented by that of Dindorf (Oxford edition, 1855); for some additional information concerning the readings of D and E we are indebted to Mr. E. C. Marchant.

For purposes of textual criticism this papyrus is of considerable interest. The MSS. of the Anabasis fall into two well-defined divisions, a small group headed by the Parisinus (C), and a more numerous group, generally recognized as inferior to the other, but containing readings which all editors accept. The peculiarity of the papyrus lies in the fact that it combines lections characteristic of both classes of MSS. Thus, while agreeing in several cases with the superior family against the inferior, it shows six instances of agreement with the inferior class against the superior where the latter is plainly wrong. The same characteristic of partial coincidence with both groups was traced by Dindorf (Preface to the Oxford edition of 1855, p. viii) in the quotations from the Anabasis in Athenaeus. This however is a debateable point and need not be insisted upon. In any case the papyrus may be taken to represent not unfairly the tradition of the first few centuries of the Christian era; and it becomes very questionable whether modern critics have not carried their preference for one group of MSS. somewhat too far. Gemoll, for instance, makes it the principle of his recent edition only to have recourse to other evidence where the reading of C is patently erroneous. This is no doubt a convenient and practical method; but its defects should not be lost sight of.

3-4. τὸ πρῶμα ἐδοκεῖ is the reading of ABCE (so G(emoll)), the other MSS. having ἐδοκεῖ τὸ πρῶμα ἐκείνο. The papyrus thus follows the order of the latter, while agreeing with the former in omitting ἐκείνο.

5. ἑλλησεν: ἑλλησι MSS., G.

15. φησιν: so D; the papyrus may of course have had the ungrammatical φησίν found in ABCE, but it is unlikely.

16. τι: so BCE, G.; τινός D and the 'deteriores'.

18. ἐμάν[του]: so E and the 'deteriores'; G.; ἐαντοῦ ABC.

24-5. εἶπεν [Ἀγαθ]ίας: this is the order of ABCE; the other MSS. transpose the words.

30. ἐκβῶτε [με]: since a single letter after ἐκβῶτε would make an unusually short line, it is probable that the papyrus read [με, with ABCE. These MSS., however, have ἐκδῶτε (ἐκ δὲ B) for ἐκδῶτέ, which the papyrus rightly reads with the 'deteriores.' This is a good instance of the eclectic character of the present text. ἐκδῶτέ με G.

35. οτι: so ABCDEFH; δ other MSS.

38. [πολε]μειτε: so ABCE; πολεμήτε the 'deteriores'.

39. σῶζε[σθε]: the reading of the 'deteriores'; σῶζοισθε G. with ABC (σῶζοισθαι Δ).

40. ποι: ὅποι DFHIKTZ (so G.), ὅπου ABCE, ὅπη other MSS.

43. The papyrus certainly agreed with ABCDEHIKL in reading μοι, which other MSS. omit.

47. [κελεύ]ουσι: ἐκέλευσε ABCE, G.; κελεύουσι the other MSS. (κελεύουσιν L).

ειτε: so G., with the 'deteriores'; εἰ τι ABCE.

50. εαν: I. αν.

52. και: so D; η και other MSS., G.

57-8. The papyrus has omitted Δέξιππον δὲ οἶδα, which is found in all MSS. after οὔτα and is necessary for the sense. The error was perhaps due to the homoioteleuton of οἶδα and οὔτα, assisted by the fact that οἶδα had just preceded. It is noticeable that the omitted words are together just the length of one of the papyrus lines. We may then assume that the archetype followed the order found in ABCE οἶδα αἰρεθέντα: αἰρεθέντα οἶδα other MSS.

61. ηγησάμεθα: ἡγισάμεθα ACE.

69-70. ηγες η αλλος τις: ἡγῆ αλλος η τις A (ἡγῆ) BCE; ηγες η αλλος τις G., with the 'deteriores'.

71. και μη: so again the 'deteriores' and G.; η και ABCE.

IV. MISCELLANEOUS LITERARY FRAGMENTS

464. ASTROLOGICAL EPIGRAMS.

25.4 × 23.2 cm.

Late third century.

THE following series of epigrams is written upon the verso of the papyrus the recto of which contains the fragment of a rhetorical treatise in Doric dialect (410). They are in hexameters or elegiacs and of varying length, the longest preserved not exceeding six lines. Unfortunately the papyrus is both broken and rubbed, and the difficulties of decipherment are increased by the character of the hand, an irregular sloping semi-uncial of about the end of the third century, and by the badness of the Greek. Thus but one of the epigrams (ll. 12-6) is really intelligible, and that first requires some emendation. Enough however remains to show that the collection, or at least this part of it, was primarily astrological in character; see e.g. ll. 5, 13-6, 48, 58. Prefixed to each epigram is a short heading giving the subject of what follows, the prevailing topic being the family—healthy or unhealthy children (ll. 12-23), childlessness and its opposite (ll. 40-50, 57 sqq.). The literary merit of the composition is small. The several verses are often written continuously, and the lines are irregular in length. Marks of elision are occasionally inserted, and a stop occurs at the end of l. 46.

4. A letter may be lost before ομ[but this is unlikely.

5. κυων is probably for κύνων, the dogstar.

12. ζησιμτος cannot be read; perhaps ζην μέλλοντος.

15. φαλων: φαιων was probably the word intended.

16. The latter part of the line appears to be corrupt. [φαι is probably [φαι, with the common interchange of ο and υ. τοθα[is more difficult; the sense requires something like τὸ θανέν, which may be supported by another case of confusion between λ and ν in l. 15.

18. l. επικρατους; cf. Ptolem. Cenil. p. 216 d, &c. επικρατήτωρ αστήρ. επιμων at the end of the line is quite doubtful, the supposed μ being too cramped. Moreover something is wrong with the beginning of l. 19, which does not scan.

21. The meaning of the horizontal stroke above the final ι of εσαι is obscure. It is unlikely that ν would be represented in this way in the middle of a line.

26. Ωρον: cf. l. 37, where Horus apparently recurs; but the context is equally obscure.

31. φαιων is very likely a nomen proprium, i.e. Saturn.

38. ναισσηι is for νεόγηι.

50. νοει[ι]: cf. l. 6.

58. s of μαρτυς has been corrected from ρ.

60. κυνων is perhaps for κωνων; cf. note on l. 16.

465. ASTROLOGICAL CALENDAR.

Height 26.5 cm.

Late second century.

The recto of this long but imperfectly preserved papyrus contains a list of persons with their ages, written in second century cursive. On the verso is an astrological calendar in an uncial hand which we should also ascribe to the second century rather than to the third. There are parts of nine columns in all, but of these only the first is tolerably complete. We omit the second and ninth, and those parts of the other columns which are too fragmentary to yield any sense.

The scheme of the calendar is as follows. The year is divided into weeks of five days, instead of the more usual seven or ten. Each of these weeks of five days corresponds to the sixth part of one of the signs or constellations of the zodiac. Lines 10-44 refer to Pharmouthi 16-20; the details concerning Pharmouthi 20-25 probably began in Col. ii and were continued in one or more columns which may have been lost between Cols. ii and iii. Lines 60-98 refer to Pharmouthi 26-30, ll. 99-134 to Pachon 1-5. With l. 135 begins the account of Pachon 6-10, as is indicated by the remaining letters Παχων 5 εως 1; this continues up to l. 196. The account of Pachon 11-15 occupies ll. 197-212 and perhaps Col. viii as well. The same formula is followed in the entries concerning each group of five days. First comes a brief astronomical statement of the relation between the part of the month under consideration and one of the signs or constellations of the zodiac, probably, as Mr. Smyly has suggested (l. 11, note), the constellation which was rising just before dawn during that period. Next we have the name of the presiding deity who is sometimes male, sometimes female, and the interpretation of it, generally introduced by the phrase μηνύει λέγων ότι (e.g. ll. 13 and 200). This is succeeded by a detailed description of the τύπος of the divinity, who is represented as a statue, partly human, partly animal. Then follows an elaborate account of the omens, signs, portents, and favourable and unfavourable influences, characteristic of the period presided over by the deity in question, which is introduced by the words δηλοί σὺν, and concludes with a statement of the particular form of sickness (ἀρρώστημα) peculiar to the period. To this account of the presiding deity is in one place (ll. 159 sqq.) added a description of her son, which proceeds on the same lines as that of the goddess herself, and ends with directions for making medical prescriptions (ll. 190-6; cf. l. 195, note).

The papyrus, which bears distinct marks of its Egyptian origin (cf. the local references in ll. 25 and 222), presents a striking resemblance to an astrological fragment from Egypt now at Munich, recently published with a commentary by Boll (Archiv, I. pp. 492 sqq.). The Munich fragment, which is written on vellum and is several centuries later than the papyrus, also gives a list of deities with an account of the signs, events, and sicknesses associated with them, but is arranged on a somewhat different plan, the deities being connected not with particular groups of days, but with various stars or constellations, which are numbered so as to form a series. Both the Munich and Oxyrhynchus fragments recall in many details the technical phraseology of astrologers which is known from the Tetrabiblos of Ptolemy and the fragments of Porphyry; cf. the references given by Boll for the Munich fragment (Archiv, I. p. 498) with the parallel passages in the papyrus, which supplies more astrological and less astronomical information. Dr. Boll, to whom we are indebted for several valuable suggestions and references, observing that the god of the 11th–15th degrees of Pisces is the second, not, as might be expected, the third (l. 199), infers that a distinction is drawn in the papyrus between (1) the superior θεοί who preside over each ten days, but more especially over the first five, and of whom the first mentioned in each month seems to be described as the god of the month (l. 105), and (2) the inferior divinities called κραταιοί (l. 12) or ηγούμενοι (l. 20, note) who preside over the 6th–10th, 16th–20th, and 26th–30th days in each month. The superior deities he identifies with the Egyptian decans, whose fantastic names, known from Egyptian inscriptions, Greek and Roman writers, and magical papyri, have a resemblance to those of the divinities mentioned in the papyrus (ll. 13, 160, and 200), especially, as Mr. Smyly has pointed out (l. 200, note), in one instance.

With regard to the κραταιοί the only source of information hitherto known was a remark by Porphyry in the letter to Anebo (Euseb. Praepar. Evang. iii. 4), referring to Chaeremon (who wrote in the time of Nero) Χαιρήμων μὲν γὰρ καὶ οἱ ἄλλοι οὐδ' ἄλλο τι πρὸ τῶν ὁρωμένων κόσμων ἡγούνται, ἐν ἀρχῇς λόγῳ τιθέμενοι τοὺς Αἰγυπτίων οὐδ' ἄλλους θεοὺς πλὴν τῶν πλανητῶν λεγομένων καὶ τῶν συμπληρούντων τὸν ζῳδιακὸν καὶ ὅσοι τοῦτοις παρανατέλλουσι τὰς τε εἰς τοὺς δεκανοὺς τομὰς καὶ τοὺς ὠροσκόπους καὶ τοὺς λεγομένους κραταιοὺς ἡγεμόνας ὧν καὶ τὰ ὀνόματα ἐν τοῖς Σαλμενιχιακοῖς φέρεται καὶ θεραπείαι παθῶν καὶ ἀνατολαὶ καὶ δύσεις καὶ μελλόντων σημειώσεις. This description of the Σαλμενιχιακά, as Boll remarks, corresponds so clearly with the contents of the papyrus that the latter is to be regarded either as a fragment of the Σαλμενιχιακά or as derived from it through an intermediary author. The Salmenichiaka (or Salmeschoinaka), which according to Iamblichus were μέρος τι βραχύτατον τῶν Ἑρμιακῶν διατάξεων, must have been written not later than in the second century B.C., for the astrological treatises of Nechepto-Petosiris (about 100 B.C. according to Kroll) are based on them. The explanation of the remarkable title Σαλμενιχιακά is a difficult problem; cf. Boll in Zeitschr. f. Aegypt. Sprache, xxxix. p. 152, and his Sphaera, pp. 376 sqq.

This view of the early date of the Salmenichiaka is confirmed by a study of the papyrus. Though the scanty astronomical details probably afford no indication that the present arrangement of the text is earlier than the end of the second century (cf. l. 11, note), there are other grounds for supposing that it is based on much older material. It is noticeable that there is nowhere any reference to the Romans, or even to any titles or institutions peculiar to the Roman period in Egypt; while the frequent mentions of βασιλείς suggest a Ptolemaic background.

The text contains numerous errors, and the archetype from which the scribe was copying seems to have been in parts illegible or imperfect, for he sometimes leaves blank spaces indicating a lacuna; cf. l. 24, note.

11. ὑδροχόφ: 1. ὑδροχόου, cf. l. 198 ἰχθύων. 'From Pharmouthi 16-20. From 16th-20th of Aquarius, which (sc. ζῳδιον) is the month Pharmouthi.' The interpretation of the astronomical data in the papyrus turns upon the question whether by ὑδροχόου, ἰχθύων κ.τ.λ. the signs or the constellations of the zodiac are meant¹. We are indebted to Mr. J. G. Smyly

for the following valuable note upon the passage. His explanation of the relation of the zodiac to the Egyptian year is not only new but serves to clear away many difficulties and apparent inconsistencies arising from the various references to it. 'It is clear from l. 100 that Pisces began with Pachon 1; thus the compiler of the calendar identified the months of the Egyptian year with the signs or with the constellations of the zodiac: Thoth = Cancer, Phaophi = Leo, Athur = Virgo, Choiak = Libra, Tubi = Scorpio, Mecheir = Sagittarius, Phamenoth = Capricorn, Pharmouthi = Aquarius, Pachon = Pisces, Pauni = Aries, Epeiph = Taurus, Mesore = Gemini. At first sight this would seem to indicate a tropical solar year beginning with the summer solstice on Thoth 1, the months being determined by the signs of the zodiac through which the sun was passing. There is, however, very little evidence for an Egyptian year which began at the summer solstice and much for one beginning at the heliacal rising of Sirius, and in the second century these dates differed by nearly a month, the solstice taking place on June 24 (Julian) and the rising of Sirius on July 20 (Julian). It is therefore much more probable that the year in question was a sidereal year regulated by the heliacal rising of Sirius (cf. the circumstance that in all the lists Sothis was the first decan of Cancer), and that the month in relation to the zodiac was determined not by the sign through which the sun was passing, but by the constellation which was the last to rise before dawn. The decans would thus be ἀστροκοινοῦντες at the birth of the days over which they presided, and this suggestion is confirmed by the fact that in P. Brit. Mus. 98. 15 the decans are called λαμπροὶ λς ἀστροκόποι. If the calendar refers to a year of this kind the five intercalary days must have been taken into account, as well as a sixth intercalary day every fourth year; but these days were always regarded by the Egyptians as outside the year, and did not interfere with the convenient but inaccurate practice of dividing the ecliptic into 360 degrees, each of which corresponded to one day. Moreover the difficulty is considerably diminished if, as is probable, the decans are regarded not as fractions of the circle of the ecliptic, but as stars or groups of stars rising just before dawn. In this calendar the intercalary days would not have been under the presidency of any of the thirty-six decans or their κραταροί, but each of them would have been dedicated to one of the five great gods of the Osirian circle, Osiris, Aroueris, Typhon, Isis and Nephthys, who were said to have been born on those days. It has long been a matter of dispute whether this year, supposing it to have existed, was divided into months bearing the same names as the months of the ordinary annus vagus. The papyrus seems to indicate that this was the case; but its late date prevents the evidence from being conclusive, for it may well have been drawn up by someone who was acquainted with the two traditions that the Egyptian year began with Cancer and also that it began with Thoth 1, and who combined his information by identifying the two years.

It is just possible to explain the papyrus from the usual point of view that the month is determined by the sign of the zodiac through which the sun was passing, but this involves very great difficulties. In the Pseudo-Geminii Calendarium (Wachsmuth's ed. of Lydus, p. 183) we find τὸν δὲ ὑδροχόον διαπορεύεται ὁ ἥλιος ἐν ἡμέραις λ. These thirty days correspond to Jan. 23–Feb. 21 on the Julian calendar, and since Pharmouthi 16–20 on the same taining 30 degrees of the ecliptic; they are measured from the spring equinox, which is determined by the intersection of the equator and the ecliptic. The position of this point among the stars is not fixed, but slips slowly backward along the ecliptic; this is the precession of the equinoxes. With a most unfortunate lack of imagination astronomers since the time of Ptolemy have called these divisions by the same names as the constellations, which often gives rise to great confusion unless we know definitely which is referred to. Thus at present the vernal equinoctial point, though retaining the name "First point of Aries," is not in the constellation of Aries, but owing to the precession has shifted about 30° into the constellation Pisces. The constellations of the zodiac however (apart from variations in size) very nearly coincided with the signs in the second century of our era.

calendar correspond to April 11-15 the sun cannot have been in Aquarius during those five days if the papyrus was drawn up according to the Alexandrian (i.e. Julian) calendar. But especially in astrological calculations in papyri of the Roman period the calendar κατὰ τοὺς ἀρχαίους is frequently found (cf. P. Oxy. II. p. 138), and if we suppose that that reckoning was employed by the writer of this papyrus, we find that the sun was in Aquarius during Pharmouthi 16-20 from A.D. 196-291. Similarly with regard to the corresponding entry concerning Pachon 11-15 (l. 198), the sun would on the calendar κατὰ τοὺς ἀρχαίους be in Pisces during those five days from A.D. 168-268. These dates are only approximate because the time at which the sun enters the signs of the zodiac varies (in the Julian calendar) from century to century.

12-42. 'The presiding deity of that season, his name is Nebu, of which the interpretation is that he is the lord of wars and of reason. He is represented by an upright statue with the face of a vulture, wearing a diadem upon his head, and with the face of a serpent behind, having two wings and the feet of a lion and holding four swords, both faces being of gold. He signifies that the governor will . . . evils; there shall be war, dislike and battle, and he will take counsel with the people as a friend. And during his rule there shall be a rebel and there shall be war, and many cities of Egypt will perish on account of the rebel, for the signs of the time are of war and dislike and battle, and there shall be destruction (of many?). In this time many shall live by stealth (?), and some shall live by singing and dancing, and some by chanting in the temples, and some by singing at banquets with sweet voices and they end well. This deity causes by reason the conqueror to be conquered and the conquered to conquer, and many live by receiving gratuities and registering and collecting from men what they have drunk up, and some live by . . . as servants. He causes men to be lame because one foot . . . The sickness in this season is in the intestines and bowels, and there shall be many deaths.'

16. βασιλῶν: cf. the description of the 35th decan quoted in l. 200, note. For the Ionic (?) form cf. l. 11 μεῖς and l. 30 ζώσσονται.

20. δ' ἡγοῦμένος: Boll refers this to the presiding deity; cf. the κραταῖοι ἡγεμόνες in the passage from Porphyry quoted in introd. But δ' ἡγοῦμένος seems to be the subject of ἐστὶν . . . κοινολογούμενο(ς) in l. 22, and though the corruption in l. 21 renders the whole passage uncertain, an earthly ruler seems to suit the context better.

24. (αὐ)τοῦ: before τον is a blank space indicating a lacuna in the archetype or some letters which the scribe could not read. Similar omissions occur in ll. 152, 160, 161, 174, 175, 176, 183, 184, and 198.

28. Perhaps [καὶ πρὸς] λαλῶν. In the next line there is not room for λαλῶν, but it may have been abbreviated. The reading λαλῶ is however very uncertain; and we should rather expect a verb referring to singing or dancing.

35-7. The meaning seems to be that men will be forced by tax-collectors to disgorge what they had already spent.

60-72. 'He is represented by an upright statue with the face of a . . . , and of a young pig behind, having a . . . before upon his face, and holding four swords in his hands and . . . His tongue and face are fire. He signifies that this season causes many to make their living by the mouth. And many shall be advocates and others magicians and many singers of gods and kings and many interpreters of languages and many . . . and changing from place to place.'

60. [μηνύει λέγων ὅτι οὐτός] is to be restored before [ἴστω on the analogy of ll. 13-4.

100-1. The lacunae are restored on the analogy of l. 198-9.

105. αἴθων is perhaps the name, or the beginning of the name, of the goddess, and, if μηνός (Σηρόθων be read, may be connected with Σοαφή, the name of the 35th decan in the MS. of Hermes Trismegistus quoted in the note on l. 200.

107-20. 'She is represented by an image in real lapis lazuli of a woman seated upon a throne having one eye like that of . . . and one like that of Typhon, her face being of gold and her hands adorned (?) . . . , having a diadem upon her head. She signifies that this time causes hidden writings to . . . many foolish men, being unskilful in mind. For this season also produces men ignorant of writing, and again those who know writing very different in character from this kind and from the hieratic (?) writings.'

110. ἡνυφῶς: possibly the genitive of Τυφῶς or Τυφῶνός was intended.

112. Perhaps στήθεϊ, ἐστῆλοισμένη then meaning 'folded.'

120. Boll suggests ἐρατικῶν.

145-65. 'In this season men fall upon women, and many children are born, and there shall be one male child of them which shall be of service to him, but the rest shall die, even the male children. This season causes men to have intercourse with their own female slaves, and they beget children, and these shall rule the lives of their fathers and of the free women. This god causes women to be childless and other children to be begotten and these to rule their lives. The sickness in this season is in the shoulders (?) and . . . The son of the goddess, his name is . . . torsense. εὐτοουουφί, which means terrible speaker. He is represented by a statue with a lion's face, the hair of a god, holding a sceptre in his left hand, and in his right . . . , with the tail of a crocodile.'

146. There is not room for καταφέρο[ντα].

147. αὐτῶ, if it is not superfluous or a mistake for αὐτοῖς, sc. τοῖς ἀνδράσι, seems to refer to the presiding deity.

154. ἑτέρα: i. e. born of other mothers; cf. Eur. Medea 639 ἑτέροις ἐπὶ λέρποις. The contrast is between the fruitfulness of the slaves and the barrenness of the free women.

156. Probably τῶν δ' αἰμῶν or τῶν δ' ἐφ' αἰμῶν. παντοῖα() in l. 157 is corrupt.

164. οὐρὰ κοροκόδλου: cf. Boll, Sphaera, p. 295.

171-83. 'This is the favourable time for chief-priests. It produces many sacred scribes of gods and kings and gives long life to each. It causes a king to bestow many favours even upon his former adversaries and upon . . . , and cities also to bestow favours; it makes men behave well and aim at virtue especially with regard to the god. It causes the king . . . from the other kings who give him great support, as has been said in connexion with another season . . . '

This section is obscured by the frequent omissions of words or letters. εσθαι in l. 175 may be (χαρίζεσθαι (cf. l. 177), though τοῖς would then be expected rather than πρὸς τοῖς.

180. τοῦ θεοῦ: θεοῦ is more probably general than the particular deity presiding over this period.

195. ως is the termination of ὁμοίως: cf. l. 191. For the insertion of these medical recipes in ll. 190-6 cf. the descriptions of the decans quoted in note on l. 200.

195-6. Probably δδς ἐφ' ἡμέρας | δ.

198. Cf. note on l. 24. A blank space is left between ἐστίν and Παχών.

200. Ter[...ισαδ.]ε[.η]: Mr. Smyly suggests Ter[ιμα]ισαδ[.ε.]η, comparing the descriptions of the decans in the sign Pisces as given in a MS. of Hermes Trismegistus De Mensibus ad Asclepium (Pitra, Analecta sacra et classica, v. 2. 279), a passage which corresponds in a remarkable degree with the descriptions of the decans in Pisces found in the papyrus:—

τέταρτος καὶ τριακοστὸς δεκανὸς ἰχθύων πρῶτος. οὗτος ὄνομα ἔχει Τετιμᾶ καὶ ἔστιν ἄνθρωπος ἐστολισμένος ὅλος ἱμάτιον κυανέου, ἔχει δὲ καὶ χοῖρου δοράν, περιεζωσμένος ἀπὸ τῶν μαστῶν ἕως τῶν ἀστραγάλων, ἔχων δὲ ἐν τῇ δεξιᾷ χειρὶ ὑδρίσκην, τὴν δὲ εὐώνυμον ἔχων κεχλασμένην παρὰ τὸν μηρόν. κυριεύει δὲ τῶν ποδῶν οἷς καὶ ἐμπήπει ἀποστήματα. γλῦψον οὖν τούτων ἐν λίθῳ βηρύλλῳ καὶ ὑποθεῖς βοράνῃν περιστερεῶνα κατακλείσαν ἐν ᾧ βούλει καὶ φάρι.

πῆμπος καὶ τριακοστὸς δεκανός. οὗτος ὄνομα ἔχει Σοαφὶ μορφὴν δι' ἀνθρώπου. ἔστι δὲ γιγνὸς περιβόλαιον μέγας ἔχων ὡς ἀπὸ τῶν ὤμων ἐς τὰ ὀπίσω καὶ ἐν μὲν τῇ δεξιᾷ χειρὶ ἔχων ὑδρίσκην, ἐν δὲ τῇ ἀριστερᾷ προσφέρων τὸν λιχανὸν δάκτυλον ὡς ἐπὶ τὸ στόμα καὶ ἐπὶ τῇ κεφαλῇ ἔχων βασίλειον. γλῦψον οὖν κ.τ.λ.

ἕκτος καὶ τριακοστὸς δεκανός. οὗτος ὄνομα ἔχει Σωρῶ, ἔστι ἀφανὴς καλούμενος δράκων σπειροειδῆς, πώγων ἔχων ἐπὶ δὲ τῇ κεφαλῇ βασίλειον. γλῦψον οὖν κ.τ.λ.

The name of the second decan in Pisces according to the papyrus is very likely connected with the name of the first decan according to Hermes, while the description bears great resemblance to that of the third. Similarly the name of the first decan of the papyrus (Σαφών?; cf. note on l. 105) may well be connected with Σοαφί, the second in Hermes' list.

222-9. 'This deity causes long old age, until a man be bent by old age; he produces hunchbacks or makes men bent by sickness, he causes dwarfs to be born and monstrosities shaped like a beetle, and persons with no eyes and like a beast and dumb and deaf and toothless . . .'

466. DIRECTIONS FOR WRESTLING.

13.5 × 18.3 cm.

Second century.

This papyrus consists of a series of short sections giving directions for performing certain bodily gestures, and in each case ending with the verb πλέξον. As Mr. Smyly suggests, the purpose of these directions no doubt relates to the different grips in wrestling. That instructions in the palaestra were given in this way is shown by two curious passages, Lucian, Asinus 9-10 (pp. 576-8) and Anth. Pal. xii. 206. αὐτός in ll. 25 and 30-1 means 'your opponent,' and αὐτῇ in l. 19 probably refers to the hand.

The papyrus, which we should ascribe to the second century, is written in a good-sized uncial hand with a tendency to link the letters together by short horizontal strokes. Parts of three columns are preserved, of which we print the first two, keeping the punctuation of the original.

12.3 x 8.1 cm.

About A.D. 100.

The subject of this fragment is some process in which silver seems to have been the principal element, but the treatment described is obscure. The text is in a round uncial hand of the end of the first or early part of the second century, and the fragment comes no doubt from some treatise of a scientific or pseudo-scientific character.

468. MEDICAL FRAGMENT.

9.6 x 8.7 cm.

Early third century.

This fragment contains the upper part of a column of a medical treatise, written in a well-formed square uncial hand of medium size, probably in the first half of the third century. The subject under discussion is δυσουρία, the symptoms and treatment of which are also described in various passages of the ancient writers on medicine.

469. GRAMMATICAL RULES.

8.5 x 10.5 cm.

Early third century.

This papyrus, which contained on the recto official correspondence (in which the form ναυβίας occurs) written in a fine almost uncial hand of the second century, had been cut down so as to form a long narrow strip before the verso was used for writing a series of grammatical rules in several columns. Of these one column is completely preserved, and there are the beginnings of lines of the next, written in an irregular semi-uncial hand of the third century. The rules, which are of an elementary character, deal, so far as the fragment goes, with the conjugation of the contracted (or, as they are called, 'perispome') verbs.

470. MATHEMATICAL TREATISE.

16.7 × 19 cm.

Third century.

A leaf, of which the top is lost, from a papyrus book written in double columns on a page, and containing apparently descriptions of astronomical instruments. The writing is a medium-sized semi-uncial of the third century. The high stop is found, and a comma-shaped sign is used occasionally for filling up short lines. For the interpretation of this papyrus we are indebted to Mr. J. G. Smyly.

Lines 1-31 are the end of a description of a πεσσευτήριον, of which instrument Eustathius (ad Od. p. 1397) says καὶ ὅτι Πλάτων τὴν τῶν πεσσῶν εὕρεσιν Αἰγυπτίοις ἀνατίθησιν ἐν Φαίδρῳ λέγων αὐτοὺς πρῶτον ἀριθμὸν εὕρεν καὶ γεωμετρίαν καὶ ἀστρονομίαν ἐτι δὲ πεττεῖαν τε καὶ κυβείαν καὶ δὴ γράμματα καὶ ὅτι οἱ τοῦ Πλάτωνος ὑπομηματισμοὶ οὐ τὴν παρ' Ἑλλήσι πεττεῖαν σημανθῆναι φασὶ ὑπὸ Πλάτωνος ἀλλὰ τὴν τοῦ λεγομένου πεττευτηρίου. καταγράφεσθαι γάρ τι πλινθίων ὥσπερ ἐν τῇ πεττευτικῇ παιδιᾷ δι' οὗ τὰ κινήματα τοῦ ἡλίου καὶ τῆς σελήνης ἐτι δὲ καὶ τὰ ἑλλειπτικὰ πραγματεύονται οἱ Αἰγύπτιοι. The details are rather obscure; and the difficulties of the technical phraseology are increased by the inaccuracies of the papyrus, which throughout contains frequent errors especially with regard to numbers. These have strokes, either horizontal or slanting, over them, but no distinction is maintained between ordinary numerals and fractions. A mention of a βιβλος occurs in l. 24, which probably refers to the books of Hermes (cf. note ad loc.), perhaps the authority upon which the present treatise is based.

Lines 31 to the end are concerned with the construction of a ὀρολόγιον or time-piece, shaped something like a flower-pot. The figure, which in l. 35 is called a δμήσκος, appears to be a frustum of a right cone, of which a vertical central section is a quadrilateral, having two sides horizontal and parallel, and the other two inclined at equal angles to the horizon. In the present case the length of the upper line is 24 δάκτυλοι, that of the parallel lower line or base (πυθμῆν) is 12, and the vertical depth is 18. The operations performed in ll. 38-46 are (1) add together the lengths of the top and base, (2) divide by 2, (3) multiply by 3, result π , (4) find $\frac{\pi}{3}$, (5) find $\frac{\pi}{4}$, (6) multiply $\frac{\pi}{4}$ by $\frac{\pi}{3}$, result γ (for the nature of the last process cf. l. 45, note). The lines lost between ll. 46 and 47 probably contained a statement that if a series of horizontal lines were drawn across the original figure at distances of 1 δάκτυλος from each other, there would be 19 such lines and 18 figures of the same kind as the original (since the height of the figure is 18 δάκτυλοι). The lengths of the lines will form an arithmetical progression, each line being $\frac{1}{3}$ δάκτυλος shorter than the preceding, i.e. they diminish κατὰ δέμοιρον (l. 48). These quadrilateral figures are all subjected to the same process as the original, but the writer displays considerable ingenuity in varying his expressions. Probably the vessel was filled with water, and time was calculated by the nearly uniform descent of the surface caused by the water running through a small hole in the centre of the base.

3-5. The numbers are very unintelligible as they stand. If ξ be read for ζ in l. 4 and ξ δέ for ξδ in l. 5, there may be some reference to the sixty dark nights and the sixty bright days in the space of two months. Cf. the αἰνigma of Cleobulus (Diog. Laert. i. 90), φέρεται δ' αὐτοῦ ἐν τοῖς Παμφίλῃς ὑπομήμασι καὶ αἰνιγμα τοῖον

5. κυνὸς προσηγορίαν: there seems to have been a series of summations of consecutive numbers, of which a specimen is given in the following lines:—15 + 16 + 17 + etc. + 30 = 360. In the Codex Cizensis of Nicomachus Gerasenus is a series of προβλήματα ἀριθμητικά of which the first is headed τοῦ κυνός. δοθέντων ἀπὸ μονάδος ὁποσωνοῦν ἀριθμῶν ἐφεξῆς εὔρεῖν ὅσος ἐστὶν ὁ σύμπαρ, 'Given any number of consecutive figures starting with unity to find their sum.' This problem is generally assigned to Diogenes Cynicus (κυνός). Perhaps arithmetical progressions went by this name.

9-15. 'up to the place in the πεσσευτήριον which is called Phoror, which is the house of Horus, and extends for 30 complete χῶραι, making up the number of days from conjunction to conjunction.' The real period from conjunction to conjunction is about 29½ days. Without knowing more about the construction and use of the πεσσευτήριον it is difficult to say what οὐ μεταφέρουσιν ψῆφον in l. 17 means. The reason assigned in ll. 18-20 is that on the day of conjunction the moon reflects no light from the sun. 'Ἄρου οἶκος is a translation of Φορώφ which = Egyptian Per-Hor 'house of Horus.'

24. βιβλος: the reference is very likely to the books of Hermes; cf. Clem. Alex. Strom. vi. 4 μετὰ δὲ τὸν ψῆδον ὁ ὠροσκόπος ὠρολόγιόν τε μετὰ χεῖρα καὶ φοίνικα ἀστρολογίας ἔχων σύμβολα πρόβασιν. τούτων τὰ ἀστρολογούμενα τῶν Ἑρμοῦ βιβλίων τέσσαρα ὄντα τὸν ἀριθμὸν αἱ διὰ στόματος ἔχων χρή, ὧν τὸ μὲν ἔστι περὶ τοῦ διακόσμου τῶν ἀπλανῶν φαινομένων ἀστέρων, τὸ δὲ περὶ τῶν συνόδων καὶ φωτισμῶν ἡλίου καὶ σελήνης, τὸ δὲ λοιπὸν περὶ τῶν ἀνατολῶν. The mention of the ὠρολόγιον and the σύνοδοι and φωτισμοί of the sun and moon affords a noteworthy point of contact with the papyrus.

25. Φερνούφειος: apparently another division of the πεσσευτήριον like Φορώρ in l. 11.

31-46. 'The calculation of the construction of time-pieces is thus given. Make a δμήσιος with an upper line of 24 δάκτυλοι, a base of 12 δάκτυλοι, and a depth of 18 δάκτυλοι. If we add the 24 δάκτυλοι to the 12 δάκτυλοι of the base the result will be 36 δάκτυλοι; $\frac{1}{2}$ of this is 18, multiplying, on account of the round surface, by 3 we obtain 54; $\frac{1}{3}$ of this is 18, $\frac{1}{2}$ is 13 $\frac{1}{2}$; 18 multiplied by 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ makes 243.'

45. ἡ ποιεῖ ἡ ἐπὶ ἐν (ἡμισυ) Σμγ. The last process consists of the multiplication of the two preceding figures ($\frac{x}{3}$ and $\frac{x}{4}$), though it is incorrectly performed here as in the corresponding passages of the various γρᾶμμαι. In the first γρᾶμμή (l. 57) $23\frac{2}{3} \times 17\frac{3}{4} = 420\frac{1}{12}$, for which the papyrus has $300\frac{1}{12}$ (cf. note ad loc.); in the second (ll. 64-5) $23 \times 17\frac{1}{4} = 396\frac{3}{4}$, for which the papyrus has in l. 65 $315\frac{1}{2} \frac{1}{8}$, but cf. l. 66, where the total 396 $\frac{3}{4}$ is reached; in the third the product is lost; in the fourth (l. 71) $16\frac{1}{2} \times 21\frac{3}{8}$ (as is expressly indicated by the papyrus) makes $352\frac{1}{2}$, for which the text has $51\frac{1}{2}$; in the fifth (ll. 77-8) $21 \times 15\frac{3}{4} = 330\frac{3}{4}$, for which the text has $370\frac{3}{4}$; in the sixth (ll. 83-4) $20\frac{1}{2} \times 15\frac{1}{4} = 310\frac{1}{12}$, for which the text has $300\frac{1}{12}$.

The whole process may be explained in this way.

Let AB and CD be two successive γρᾶμμαι. Half of AB + CD is the length of EF drawn halfway between the two lines. This is multiplied by 3 διὰ τὴν περιφέρειαν (l. 43): if the writer took the ratio of the circumference of a circle to its diameter to be 3 instead of π , the result will be the circumference of the circle described on EF as diameter. This is divided by 3 (i.e. by π), giving the diameter again. The diameter is then multiplied by a quarter of the circumference (in modern language $2r \times \frac{2\pi r}{4} = \pi r^2$, where r is the radius), giving the area of the circle. If now the writer made the specious but incorrect assumption that the volume of the frustum of the cone contained between the planes AB and CD was equal to that of the cylinder of equal height standing on the circle described on EF as diameter, then since the distance between AB and CD is 1 δάκτυλος he would have regarded his result as the volume expressed in cubic δάκτυλοι. The error arising from this assumption is comparatively small in the present case. If the instrument in question were a water-clock, a knowledge of this volume would be of great importance.

46. ποιεῖ οὕτως 28: the meaning of this number, which corresponds to the revised totals in ll. 66, 73, 79 and 85 after a certain deduction has been made from the totals obtained previously (cf. l. 45, note), is obscure.

48-57. 'The first line is therefore 24 δάκτυλοι in length; twice this number is 48, subtract $\frac{2}{3}$, the remainder is $47\frac{1}{3}$, half of this is $23\frac{2}{3}$, this multiplied by 3 makes 71, $\frac{1}{3}$ of this is $23\frac{2}{3}$, and $\frac{1}{4}$ is $17\frac{3}{4}$, total $420\frac{1}{12}$.' On the relation of this figure to the original one see intro.

50. There is not room for δάκτυλων written out, but the word may have been abbreviated. The process of doubling the upper side and then subtracting $\frac{2}{3}$ is equivalent to adding together the lengths of the two opposite sides; cf. ll. 38-40.

54. The reading of the first two letters is very doubtful, but the sense is made certain by a comparison with the parallel passages in ll. 75 and 81. ἐπὶ τὸ τρίτον, as the arithmetic in the parallel passages (cf. l. 45, note) shows, is a mistake for ἐπὶ γ, i.e. multiplication by 3. This abnormal use of an arithmetical term is immediately followed by another, δεύτερον instead of διμοιρον for $\frac{2}{3}$, and the occurrence of these irregularities is traceable to the incorrect verbal interpretation of the figures γ and β. The method of expressing $\frac{2}{3}$ in l. 56 ($\frac{2}{3} + \frac{1}{2}$) is also unusual.

57. τιβ : l. ικ'ιβ', cf. l. 45, note. The confusion of υ and τ is easy and the space left between τ and ι points to an omission.

58-66. 'The second figure consists of $23\frac{1}{2}$ δάκτυλοι, twice this makes $46\frac{1}{2}$, subtract $\frac{2}{3}$ for the contraction, the remainder is 46, $\frac{1}{2}$ is 23, 3 times this is 69, $\frac{1}{3}$ of this is 23, $\frac{1}{2}$ is $17\frac{1}{2}$, this multiplied by 23 makes $396\frac{3}{8}$, subtract $\frac{1}{8}$, the remainder is $396\frac{1}{8}$.'

The process up to l. 64 is the same as in the previous figure. The numbers in ll. 64-7 are clearly very corrupt, but if ιγ in l. 64 be corrected to κγ the result becomes intelligible. $17\frac{1}{2} \times 23$ gives $396\frac{3}{8}$, i.e. τγββ'ιβ', which has been corrupted to τιε (ἡμισυ) ιε'; but after subtracting the last fraction the total in l. 66 is nearly correct; cf. l. 45, note.

62. [τῆς] συ(σ)τολῆς: this means that $\frac{2}{3}$ δάκτυλος is subtracted because each γραμμή is both shorter than the one preceding and larger than the one following by $\frac{2}{3}$ δάκτυλος.

69. About eight lines are lost at the top of the column, which may be restored διπλωσον γίνεται μεγ', ἀφέλε β', λοιπαὶ μδβ', ὡν τὸ ἡμισυ κβγ' ἐπὶ γ εξ', τὸ γ' κβγ', τὸ δ' ιεβ'ιβ', ἐπὶ κβγ' γίνεται τοδ'ιβ'. δ κβ, διπλωσον μδ, ἀφέλε β', λοιπαὶ μγγ', τὸ ἡμισυ καβ' κ.τ.λ.

70-1. The figures, as usual, are very corrupt; $16\frac{1}{2} \times 21\frac{2}{3} = 352\frac{1}{3}$, instead of which the text has in l. 71 $5\frac{1}{2}$. The correct figure τιβ'ιβ' seems to have been transferred to l. 70 and there to have been corrupted into the meaningless ταισβ. Though the final β is not certain, τὰ ἴσα cannot be read, even if it made sense. The figures $41\frac{1}{2}$ in l. 73 are a continuation of the original error $51\frac{1}{2}$ for $352\frac{1}{3}$; cf. note on l. 45.

73. At this point the writer becomes more concise; ε means the fifth γραμμή, which is $21\frac{1}{2}$ δάκτυλοι in length. The usual operations are performed correctly as far as l. 77. In l. 78 μα is an error for κα, and $370\frac{3}{4}$ should be $330\frac{3}{4}$; cf. note on l. 45. The number at the end of l. 79 should probably be $329\frac{1}{2}$.

80-1. 'The sixth (γραμμή) is $20\frac{2}{3}$ (δάκτυλοι), which become $40\frac{2}{3}$ when the $\frac{2}{3}$ has been subtracted.' This is a short way of saying that when all the operations up to the subtraction of the $\frac{2}{3}$ have been performed, the result is $40\frac{2}{3}$ ($20\frac{2}{3} \times 2 = 41\frac{1}{3}$; $41\frac{1}{3} - \frac{1}{3} = 40\frac{2}{3}$).

82. The superfluous ἐπὶ before κγ' is obviously due to the occurrence of ἐπὶ κγ' in the next line.

84. $15\frac{1}{2} \times 20\frac{2}{3} = 310\frac{1}{6}$, for which the text has either $310\frac{2}{3}$ or $300\frac{1}{6}$; cf. l. 45, note.

85. The seventh γραμμή is 20 δάκτυλοι long. κδ ιε is a corruption of κ followed by διπλωσον or διπλασιασθέντος.

87. ιε is an error for ιθ.

V. SECOND CENTURY DOCUMENTS

(a) OFFICIAL.

471. SPEECH OF AN ADVOCATE.

30.5 x 46.5 cm.

Second century.

THIS long papyrus, written in a semi-uncial hand and elaborately punctuated like a literary work, contains part of a speech of an advocate directed against a person whose name is apparently Maximus. The precise point at issue is not clear. There are accusations concerning money-lending, and some question connected with the holding of the office of gymnasiarch arises, but the greater part of the speech consists of an outspoken denunciation of the relations of Maximus to a certain boy. That Maximus was or had been a very high official is shown by several passages; cf. the references in l. 54 to the regal state assumed by him, in ll. 66-72 to the crowd of clients, in ll. 95-7 to petitions made to him and his power to confiscate property, and in ll. 124-30 to his journeys throughout Egypt. These allusions suit no one so well as the praefect himself, and the view that Maximus had been praefect of Egypt is supported by l. 22, where ἐπιπρχεας is the most probable reading. On this hypothesis the κύριος whose τύχη is appealed to by witnesses in l. 65 and before whom this speech was delivered, was more probably the reigning emperor (cf. l. 32, where κύριος means the emperor) than the praefect in office. Whether however this speech was really delivered or is a composition in the style for instance of 83 (cf. Bauer, Archiv, I. pp. 29 sqq.) may be doubted. It is difficult to imagine the circumstances under which such violent accusations would actually be made, and unfortunately the identity of Maximus is far from clear. The only second century praefect known to have borne that name is Vibius Maximus (A.D. 103-7), but the papyrus probably belongs to the age of Hadrian or the Antonines.

Out of six columns the first (not printed) has only the ends of a few lines, while the sixth has lost the ends of lines, and the second and fifth are disfigured by considerable lacunae. Two kinds of stops, the high and low point, are employed and one or two accents and breathings occur. The papyrus has been subjected to much revision, additions to or recastings of the main text being appended at the bottom of Cols. ii-v by a different hand. The position at which the alterations were to be made is indicated in one or two instances by critical marks.

2. The critical mark opposite this line perhaps indicates that the adscript at the bottom of the column was to be inserted at this point. But from internal evidence the adscript would seem more appropriate to ll. 21-32, where the γυμνασιάρχης is referred to. There is also a v-shaped mark opposite l. 7.

2-110. 'I will add a fact, my lord, which will, I expect, excite your wonder and disbelief until we read the documents. He condemned people to pay interest for a period at which in some cases they had not yet even received the loan. What does he say? Owing to your absence you were ignorant of the letters written to you about this? These letters will still better and more clearly exhibit Maximus' exactness and care in this matter. For the last memorandum confirms (the question of) his slave (?) and his love for the youth. . . . Up to the 19th year of the Emperor Berenicianus will be gymnasiarch and in the 26th Anicetus will hold that office. What reason had you for (suppressing?) all this? Will you say that you were deceived or that you took bribes? It is best to acknowledge only the lesser fault. But we assert not that you took a reward but that you gave one. For why did a boy of 17 years dine with you every day? Each of these witnesses whenever he was invited to join the banquet (it was not easy when once you had assumed regal state to obtain such favours from you) saw the boy at the party, both with his father and alone, and each saw the shameless look and shameless goings to and fro of the lovers. . . . Why did he greet him every day? They bear evidence swearing by your Fortune, my lord, that while they were waiting to salute him and gathered at the door they saw the boy coming out of the bed-chamber alone, showing signs of his intercourse with him. For when once accustomed to his shame this handsome and rich youth gave himself airs and became so impudent that he sported with and clasped the hands of Eutyclus the chamberlain in the presence of every one and laughed long and freely in the middle of the clients. He was not stupid, and even showed off to the borrowers what he had been doing. Why then did not you with your modesty and extreme austerity stop him? If a poor man wearing cheap clothes asks you a favour, you order his property and that of his wife and friends to be confiscated, and the man who took his seat at the theatre without wearing white garments you delivered to death, whereas a still beardless . . . and handsome youth you kept all day in the praetorium and did not send him any longer to the schools and the exercises proper for the young . . . you travel about the whole of Egypt with the youth. Did not a boy of 17 years accompany you to the judgement-seat in the public court? Why then was he by your side both at Memphis and at Pelusium and wherever you were? . . .

18. τὴν δούλην αὐτοῦ is very obscure; an abstract substantive to balance ἔρωτα would be expected. l. δουλείαν?

20. The vestiges do not well suit ἀραιβομένων.

41. σεσιώθηκα?

62. δα[]ειαν: the second letter might be ο, but it is difficult to escape from δα[]ειαν, which however yields no sense.

472. SPEECH OF AN ADVOCATE.

30.5 × 35.5 cm.

About A.D. 130.

This papyrus contains the concluding part of a speech in defence by an advocate. The first column, which consists only of ends of lines, is not printed, the second and third are practically complete. The orator's client was a woman called Hermione, against whom various charges of attempted poisoning, and fraud in connexion with a supposed mortgage, had been brought by a man whose name does not appear here, but was Sarapion, if, as is almost certain, 486 is concerned with the same dispute. An epistrategus is mentioned in the first column, and it is probable that the proceedings took place about A.D. 130 before Claudius Quintianus at the trial mentioned in 486. 8 and 26, from which passages we learn that the epistrategus referred the case to the praefect. The handwriting of the papyrus is very like that of the Petition of Dionysia (237), written in the reign of Commodus, and this copy of the speech may have been made some years after it was delivered.

'For it was from his house that he came out saying that he had been poisoned, and when he came out of Hermione's house he neither told any one that he noticed anything nor had the least suspicion, but it was from the house of himself and his son and future heir that he came forth saying that he had been poisoned. He had indeed reasons for administering poison to himself which many others have had in preferring death to life; for he was ruined by creditors and at his wife's end: but if any one really plotted against him, his son is the most likely person. Why he brought the accusation is now clear. He may indeed have had other troubles during the period of his stewardship, but the case shows that he was jealous of her without her knowledge and called himself her husband, but since she did not vouchsafe him this title, he suffered like a lover and did not wish her to outlive him. If they say that the slave Smaragdus has disappeared being himself accused of having stolen the mortgage—he only asserts that a mortgage was made in order that it might be stolen; for it is impossible for that to have been stolen which neither ever existed at all nor could exist, nor can a mortgage have been drawn up, since neither the buyer knew how to write nor the present defendant Hermione, nor does a stranger when another woman is registered as mortgagee himself issue a deed of mortgage. So from whom could he say that he had received the mortgage? From whichever quarter he did so, it was invalid. And if a slave has run away, this is no argument against his master. Moreover the division also helps to show that there never was any mortgage. For persons who are registered as mortgagees have only their name inserted in deeds and do not claim the property which has been registered in mortgage, but the buyer has clearly claimed the property and been in enjoyment of it ever since she bought it, while he since he sold it has no longer been enjoying it, but administering the property of the mother as a steward and attacking my clients. If they say that a joint agreement was made between the daughter and Hermione for 150 jars, to be produced from these vineyards which she (Dionysia) bought, we assert that all this has nothing to do with the plaintiff. For if the daughter did make an agreement with the mother, this does not afford them an excuse for calumnies. That however did not happen at the same period, but nearly a whole year afterwards, and the provision of 150 jars is nothing as security for 4 talents, for they are the interest upon only 1 talent. Again, if there had been security given to the supposed seller, would the daughter have pledged herself to the State by another deed when she was liable to be deprived of the property whenever he chose? The facts about the provision are as follows: Hermione had three children, Aphro . . . , Dionysia . . . Dionysia entreated her mother not to leave her with only what had already been used up, but to give her something since she was dependent upon only a single resource, whereupon Hermione pays her $1\frac{1}{2}$ talents. But Dionysia, in order that her mother may not in her lifetime be deprived of that sum, pays instead of interest every year this provision, and this very statement is contained in the mutual agreement.'

9. ταύτη: in the translation we have connected this with δῆλον, but it may be dependent upon ἐπὶ τῇ, sc. Hermione.

10. προνοίας χρόνος means the period when the accuser was acting as προνοητής of Hermione; cf. l. 28.

11. αὐτήν: Hermione is the last person mentioned by name, but seeing that she was old enough to be the mother of three children, it is perhaps more probable that the person meant is Dionysia, who is the ἀγοράσασα of l. 18; cf. l. 31 and 486. 4.

15. πίστω: for the point at issue in connexion with this supposed document cf. 486. 4-8 and 22-4. Dionysia claimed to have bought a vineyard from the accuser's father, while the plaintiff asserted that it had been only mortgaged to her, and accused Smaragdus, the slave of Dionysia or Hermione, with having stolen the bond of mortgage.

25. οὐκέτι: the context requires οὐπω. Perhaps οὐκέτι has been introduced from l. 27.

28. τῆς μητρὸς means Hermione, as distinguished from 'the daughter' (Dionysia); cf. l. 30.

36. These four talents seem to have been the sum which, according to the accuser, Dionysia had borrowed from Hermione and advanced to him upon the security of the vineyard, and the 150 jars of wine were according to him interest upon the money borrowed by Dionysia. To this the orator replies that the 150 jars were paid by Dionysia to Hermione as interest upon a talent and a half given her by Hermione.

473. DECREE IN HONOUR OF A GYMNASIARCH.

21.4 × 29.6 cm.

A.D. 138-160.

A resolution, dated in the reign of Antoninus Pius, of the magistrates and people of Oxyrhynchus, together with the resident Roman and Alexandrian citizens, to honour a gymnasiarch by setting up a statue, a full-length portrait, and three shields. Owing to the loss of from 30-40 letters at the beginnings of lines, the name of this individual is not known. The enumeration of his public services mentions his 'unstinted provision of unguents,' his contributions to the fund for theatrical displays (cf. 510), and his restoration of the baths and 'greater thermae'; cf. P. Amh. 70, a letter of the magistrates of Hermopolis concerning the expenses incurred by gymnasiarchs.

Though writing a large and handsome semi-uncial hand, the scribe seems to have committed several errors.

1. ο of τιτου corr. from ι. 7. τω corr. from προ or vice versa.

2. For the supplement cf. B. G. U. 362. v. 1-2. λαμπροτάτης here is uncertain, for such honorific adjectives are not elsewhere applied to Oxyrhynchus before the third century, when it had a municipal constitution like other μητροπόλεις of nomes.

3. εἰ : εἰρα: probably ἐν τῇ χ'εἰρα, i. e. χρεῖα.

ἀλειμμάτων: cf. φιλοτίμως ἀλείφοντι in an inscription in honour of a third century gymnasiarch published by Milne, Journ. Hell. Stud. 1901, p. 284. . . . λημμα in P. Amh. 70. 7 is no doubt ἀλημμα or ἀλειμμα.

5. μειζόνων θερμῶν: Ἀδριανὰ θερμὰ at Oxyrhynchus are mentioned in 54. 14, but were probably distinct from the μεζονα.

7. The beginning of this line seems to be corrupt.

8. For ἀσπίδια in conjunction with ἀνδριάντες and ἀγίλαμα cf. B. G. U. 362. x. 6.

474. CIRCULAR TO OFFICIALS.

A.D. 184?

This papyrus contains copies of three letters written by a high functionary, Plautius Italus, to various officials. The first (ll. 1-8) is addressed to the strategi and basilico-grammateis of several nomes, which were apparently enumerated in ll. 8-9, and directs their attention to the following letter (ll. 10-30) from himself to the strategus of the Tanite nome, reprimanding him and the basilico-grammateus for speculations. This is succeeded (ll. 31-41) by another letter to the same set of officials as those addressed in the first, forbidding in more general and peremptory terms the practice of diverting the imperial revenues to the 'salaries' of the principal revenue-officers of the nomes. The third letter is complete, but a large portion of the first two is hopelessly illegible owing to the staining of the papyrus. The circulars were issued on December 16 in the 25th year of an unnamed emperor, who must however be Commodus or Caracalla, since none of the others reigned so long. The handwriting, which suggests the second century rather than the third, is in favour of the earlier date. What position Plautius Italus held is not certain. If the reigning emperor was Commodus, it is possible that he was the praefect in A.D. 184, but this is not very likely, since Longaeus Rufus was praefect in May 185 (237. vi. 15, cf. P. Amh. 107), and Veturius Macrinus in July 181 (De Ricci, Proc. Soc. Bibl. Arch. 1902, p. 67) and perhaps in May 183 (B. G. U. 847). December 16, 216, falls in the praefecture of Valerius Datus (De Ricci, l. c. p. 100). It is more probable that Plautius Italus was διοικητής or perhaps ἴδιος λόγος. Since his letters are addressed to officials of nomes in the Delta as well as of, presumably, the Oxyrhynchite nome, it is hardly possible that he was an epistrategus.

13. 1. διοικείται. 36. 1. ἀνελομένους. 38. 1. χρωμένους. ν of μεν corr. from τ.

20-7. The sense of this sentence, which stands between two imperatives, is very obscure. ἐκέινος in l. 22 and αὐτοῦ in l. 24 refer presumably to the basilico-grammateus, who is also the subject of ἐπέσχεεν. After σοι in l. 22 three or four letters may be lost. καὶ οὐδὲν—περιγεγραμμένον seems to be a parenthetical remark. The unauthorized payment to the basilico-grammateus in l. 26 is further explained by ll. 35 sqq., since l. 38 probably refers back to the second letter.

31-41. '(Copy) of another (letter). Plautius Italus to the strategi and basilico-grammateis of the hereinafter-mentioned nomes, greeting. On examining the accounts of the money revenue I discovered that certain of the strategi and basilico-grammateis had paid themselves salaries for some period on their own responsibility, in defiance rather than obedience to the proclamations. Thereupon I sent them a suitable admonition, and I now make this second order applying to all that the imperial moneys are not to be touched without leave.'

41. κυριακοῦ χρήματος: i.e. the revenue of the κυριακὸς λόγος, on which see P. Meyer in Festschr. zu O. Hirschfeld p. 139. His view that κυριακὸς λόγος = fiscus (διοίκησις) as opposed to ἴδιος λόγος is true in most instances, but a notable exception occurs in P. Catt. v. 17 (cf. Archiv, III. 1), where the bona vacantia of a soldier who had died without heirs are appropriated by the idilogus Julianus εἰς τὸν κυριακὸν λόγον.

475. REPORT OF AN ACCIDENT.

A.D. 182.

A letter from the strategus Hierax to one of his ὑπηρέται, enclosing a copy of a report sent him by a certain Leonides with regard to the death of a slave, who had been killed by falling from an upper story while watching an entertainment given by dancing-girls. The strategus orders the ὑπηρέτης to view the dead body in company with a public physician; cf. 51-2 and 478.

Take a public physician and view the dead body referred to, and having delivered it over for burial make a report in writing. Signed by me. The 23rd year of Marcus Aurelius Commodus Antoninus Caesar the lord, Athur γ.

To Hierax, strategus, from Leonides also called Serenus, whose mother is stated as Tauris, of Seneptha. At a late hour of yesterday the 6th, while a festival was taking place at Seneptha and the castanet-players were giving their customary performance at the house of Pluton my son-in-law . . ., his slave Epaphroditus, aged about 8 years, wishing to lean out from the bed-chamber(?) of the said house and see the castanet-players, fell and was killed. I therefore present this application and ask you, if it please you, to appoint one of your assistants to come to Seneptha in order that the body of Epaphroditus may receive proper laying out and burial.’ Date and signature of Leonides.

477. REGISTRATION OF AN EPHEBUS.

15.7 × 11.3 cm.

A.D. 132-3.

This interesting papyrus is an application addressed to Marcus Claudius Serenus, exegetes and holder of a variety of titles, and to other Alexandrian officials, from Ammonius, a citizen of Alexandria, who wished his son to be registered among the ephebi of the following year. At Athens the δοκιμασία and enrolment of ἐφηβοί took place at the age of 18, when they were received into their tribe and deme, and attained their legal majority, though they did not obtain full civic rights until the age of 21. At Alexandria it appears from a Tebtunis papyrus of the reign of Trajan that admission to the ranks of the ἐφηβοί was possible at a much earlier age, when the assumption of legal rights would be out of the question. We also learn from the same document that the ἐφηβοί were registered in numbered συμμοριαί.

'To Marcus Claudius Serenus, neocorus of the great god Sarapis, ex-chiliarch, late praefect of the first cohort of the Damascenes, chief of the cultivators, priest and exegetes, and to the Caesarii and the other prytaneis, from Ammonius son of Theon son of Sarapion, of the Althaeian deme of the Propapposebastian tribe, who became an ephebus in the 5th year of Domitian. I wish to enroll among those becoming ephebi in the coming 18th year of the Emperor Caesar Trajanus Hadrianus Augustus my son Nilammon by my late sister Thaubarion, citizen, and therefore request you to instruct the officers concerned, on receipt of my declaration on oath that the foregoing statements are true, to write to the proper officials to deal with my case on my (proving the descent) of my aforesaid son Nilammon, and to (communicate with) the cosmetes and gymnasiarch . . . to enroll him among the ephebi . . .

3. ἐπάρχῃ σπέρις πρώτης Δαμασκητῶν: cf. B. G. U. 73. 2-3. &c.

4. ἀρχιγεωργῷ: a novel and, in this context, unexpected title; but the reading seems clear. Cf. 518. 11, note.

5. Κασαρείοις: if these are officials the title is apparently not otherwise known. A Caesarian tribe (? at Alexandria) occurs in 378, but if members of one particular tribe were being addressed, the Propaposebastian (l. 7) would be expected, though cf. 513. 1, note.

7-8. On the tribes and demes of Egyptian πόλεις see Kenyon, Archiv. II. 70 sqq.¹, who clearly shows by the aid of a British Museum papyrus that these doubled epithets connected by δ καί refer respectively to the tribe and deme of the person to whom they are applied. Προπαποσεβάστειος (cf. 497. 20) is known as the name of an Alexandrian φυλή from an inscription published by Jouguet in Bull. Corr. Hell. xx. 398. Cf. 513. 1, note.

19-20. Perhaps ἀναῖνται τὰ πρὸς τῇ ν . . . ἀρχιγεωργῶν or some such phrase.

22 sqq. The cosmetes and the gymnasiarch are no doubt the officials at Oxyrhynchus. The wish of the petitioner was that after the completion of the formalities at Alexandria the local magistrates should be communicated with, and the status of the boy thus established.

478. SELECTION OF BOYS (ἐπιεργίαι).

A.D. 132.

An application addressed, as usual at Oxyrhynchus in such cases, to the βιβλιοφύλακες, by Dionysῶς, a freedwoman, requesting that her son, who had reached the age of 13, might be placed on the list of privileged persons who paid a poll-tax of only 12 drachmae, and stating the grounds of the claim. The evidence of this papyrus was utilized by us in a discussion of the whole question of ἐπιεργίαι in P. Oxy. II. pp. 217 sqq., to which the reader is referred. Since the publication of that volume the subject has been treated at length by P. Meyer (Heerwesen der Ptolemäer und Römer, pp. 109 sqq.), who however had not the Oxyrhynchus documents before him, and could only refer to them in an appendix (op. cit. pp. 219 sqq.), and by Wessely (Sitzungsb. der Akad. der Wissensch. in Wien, Bd. CXLII. ix), who gives an elaborate recapitulation of the evidence in the light of the Oxyrhynchus papyri. The results of the latter are on the whole in agreement with our own—more so indeed than he himself.

¹ The mutilated name of a deme at Antinoë on p. 72 (V. 1) is to be restored Γενεῖαρχος, as is shown by a third century Oxyrhynchus papyrus.

owing to some misunderstanding of our position, appears to realize. That the general sense of ἐπίκρισις is 'examination,' 'decision,' requires no special demonstration, and the term of course is, as we remarked (P. Oxy. II. p. 220), a relative one. But in connexion with the poll-tax ἐπίκρισις and its cognates acquired a technical signification, being used of the process by which persons of a certain status were partially or wholly relieved of liability to that impost. P. Meyer however goes much too far in asserting that ἐπιτεκρινόμενος implies total exemption from the poll-tax, a view which he somewhat perversely tries to maintain (op. cit. p. 231) in the face of our statement of the evidence derived from the present text. It is abundantly clear from ll. 9-10 and 31 below, that persons who enjoyed the privilege of paying less than the regular amount of the tax went through a process of ἐπίκρισις, and were just as much ἐπιτεκρινόμενοι as those who were entirely exempt.

'To Hadrian and Zoilus, keepers of the archives, from Dionysous freedwoman of Dionysia daughter of Dionysius also called Chresimus son of Dionysius, of Oxyrhynchus, with her guardian Eudaemon son of Menoetes, of the same city. In accordance with the orders concerning the selection of boys 13 years of age when their parents on both sides are inhabitants of the metropolis rated at 12 drachmae, I declare that my son Ptolis son of Phaon son of Ptolis registered in the quarter of the Square of Thoëris (interlinear note "the Kmelemus (?) quarter, as he says") has reached the age of 13 years in the past 16th year of Hadrianus Caesar the lord, and that his father Phaon son of Ptolis son of Phaon, his mother being Athena, was an inhabitant of the metropolis rated at 12 drachmae as shown by a uniform poll-tax list of the 13th year of Hadrianus Caesar the lord at the said quarter, and is now dead, and that the father of my aforesaid patroness Dionysia (interlinear note "he does not agree"), Dionysius also called Chresimus son of Dionysius, of the same city, was similarly rated at 12 drachmae by the selection of the 7th year of the deified Trajan in the Lycians' Camp quarter, and died at an advanced age; and I swear by the Emperor Caesar Trajanus Hadrianus Augustus that the foregoing statement is correct. The 17th year of the Emperor Caesar Trajanus Hadrianus Augustus, Tubi 13. I, Dionysous, freedwoman of Dionysia daughter of Dionysius also called Chresimus, have presented the declaration and sworn the oath. I, Eudaemon son of Menoetes, have been appointed her guardian and wrote for her as she was illiterate.'

10-2. It is noticeable that the further qualification specified in the parallel passage of 258, $\xi(\pi)\tau\alpha(?)$ ($\xi\tau\eta$ ἐπὶ τοῦ αὐτοῦ ἀμφόδου, is here omitted. But not improbably the interlinear notes on ll. 15 and 28 have some reference to such a restriction.

15. The adscript added below this line by a different hand is a note by an official remarking some inconsistency between this statement of the ἀμφόδου in which Ptolis lived and his own assertions. The question had an important bearing on the consideration of the claims for exemption, for it appears from 258. 9 that a certain permanence of residence was required; cf. the previous note. A similar interlinear insertion occurs in l. 28 in connexion with the evidence on the mother's side.

22. δι' ὁμολόγου λαογραφίας: the meaning of this is obscure. So far as the present passage goes ὁμολόγος might here have its ordinary sense of 'corresponding,' the meaning being that the poll-tax list of the year referred to corresponded with the statement in the text that the father of Ptolis was a μητροπολίτης δωδεκάδραχμος. But this interpretation is not satisfactory in another case of the use of the phrase in B. G. U. 618. 13 ἐκ(?) μὲν ὁμολ(όγου) λαογρ(αφίας) ἄνδρες δ—for so no doubt the passage should be read on the analogy of the present papyrus—, which occurs in a list of individuals who were responsible for work on the embankments. The term ὁμολόγος is also applied to persons, when it perhaps has a technical signification—e.g. B. G. U. 560. 20 γεωργοῦντες ὁμολόγοι ἄνδρες, P. Brit. Mus. 259. 190-1 ἐπὶ τὸ αὐτὸ (the preceding list being specially concerned with the poll-tax αὐ(τ)ο(ς)) χλ. . .] ὅν ὁμολόγοι ἄνδρες) χλ. . ., P. Brit. Mus. 260. 142-3 καὶ τῶς α (ἔτει) Οὐδισπασιανῶ ἀπὸ ἐξέου(?) καὶ . . .] οὖν τοῖς πατράσι ἐν ὁμολ(όγου) ἀνελ(ημένοι), and ὅτε ἐν ὁμολ(όγου) (or ὁμολ(όγῳ)?) λαογρ(αφίᾳ) in a Vienna papyrus described by Wessely in his Studien z. Palaeogr. und Papyruskunde, I. pp. 9-11. Wilcken (Ost. I. pp. 253-5), who quotes Cod. Theodos. xi. 24. 6. § 3 qui vicis quibus adscripti sunt derelictis et qui homologi more gentilitio nuncupantur ad alios seu vicos seu dominos transierunt, supposes that ὁμολόγοι were a particular class of cultivators; but though that explanation would suit B. G. U. 560. 20 it clearly cannot be brought into harmony with the passages in which ὁμολόγος is connected with λαογραφία. There is more to be said for Wessely's view, who supposes the ὁμολόγοι to be domiciled strangers subjected to the poll-tax, and refers in support of his theory to the extract from the Cod. Theodos. given above. This explanation would well accord with P. Brit. Mus. 260. 142-3 and the Vienna papyrus, in which Jews are concerned. But how is it to be applied to the ἀμύλογος λαογραφία here, in which μητροπολίται δωδεκάδραχμοι figure? A better interpretation of ἀμύλογος in all these passages has been suggested to us by Mr. Smyly, who would translate it 'assessed at the same rate,' i.e. in the present case at 12 drachmae. This explanation would account for the variations in the use of the term, the meaning of which is relative to the context in each instance.

26 sqq. This passage combines with B. G. U. 324 to show that slaves were placed on the same footing with regard to liability to the poll-tax as their masters; and we here learn that liberated slaves at least could even transmit their privileges to their children.

28. For the insertion above the line see note on l. 15.

35. ἐν ὑπερετίῃ: i.e. above the age of 60, when men ceased to be liable to the poll-tax. The word ὑπερετίς appears to be not otherwise known.

479. CENSUS-RETURN.

A.D. 157.

An unaddressed notice from a woman, Demetrou, expressing the wish that her grandson should for the future be registered at her own house. The year in which this papyrus is dated was not a regular census-year; the document was therefore supplementary of a previous return, and necessitated by the change of residence on the part of the boy in question, who was now living with his grandmother instead of his parents.

This and the following papyrus are examples of the periodical returns of house-property similar to P. Oxy. 72, 247-50; cf. P. Oxy. II. pp. 177-9. It is noteworthy that 482 is dated in A.D. 109, or just ten years later than the present document; and there is thus evidence for a series of four general registrations of real property separated by periods of approximately ten years, namely those in A.D. 80, 90, 99, 109, while another occurred in A.D. 129; cf. 584.

8. αἰ of αὐριου corr. from ε.

15. Second τ of τετελε[υτηκὸτ]ος corr. from λ.

2-29. 'I hereby register in accordance with the decree the half-share belonging to me at the present date at the metropolis in the quarter of the Square of Sarapis . . . of a house and yard and other fixtures and entrances and exits, which share has devolved upon me from my father Heras son of Heras and Tnepheros, of the same city, who died before the registration of the 9th year of Domitian, leaving me his only son and heir.' Date and signature of Heras written for him by Amoitas.

6-7. The scribe apparently thought that the letters Σα at the end of l. 6 were not sufficiently clear, and so rewrote them in the margin of l. 7. The word before ἡμῶν is very probably νότου. θεοῦ μεγίστου is hardly possible, and that formula is moreover unusual in reference to a θρόνος.

15-7. πρὸ τῆς . . . ἀπογραφῆς: the implication is that the property had been registered in the 9th year of Domitian (A.D. 90) in the name of the son; and we may also infer that no general registration had intervened between that occasion and the date of this papyrus. Cf. on the latter point 248. 32, where there is a similar mention of the ἀπογραφὴ of the year 63-4 in a return of A.D. 80; though the conclusion that no general registration had occurred between those two dates is in that case more doubtful.

482. PROPERTY-RETURN.

A.D. 109.

A return of property, probably addressed to the βιβλιοφύλακες, written ten years later than the preceding papyrus. Cf. 636 and 637, which are similar returns made probably in the same year, and 481 introd. On the verso in a different hand is a list of persons with their respective fathers', grandfathers', and mothers' names, headed Ψάβθεως καὶ (τοῖκοι?).

'(I register), apart from what I have previously registered and sold, now at the present time the third share which belongs to me at the village of Senemeleu of two shares out of four shares out of five shares of a joint house and the court adjoining it on the south side and other fixtures and entrances and exits and appurtenances, situated in a cavalry soldier's quarters, which share has devolved upon me with other property from my late father Diogenes son of Ptolemaeus son of Ptolemaeus, his mother being Tekosis daughter of Harthoönis, of the said city, in accordance with the will which he drew up in his lifetime through the record-office at the said city in the month Tubi of the first year of the deified Nerva, which will was unchanged at his death. And I swear by the Emperor Caesar Nerva Trajanus Augustus Germanicus Dacicus that I have given no false information.' Date.

2. καὶ πέπρακα: the point of this is that when land was about to be alienated, notice had to be given to the βεβαιοφύλακες; cf. 483 and 237. viii. 37, note.

6-9. This passage is a good illustration of the minute subdivision of house and land property, the fraction of the whole house owned by the writer being only $\frac{2}{5}$.

18. ἐν ἱππικῷ σταθμῷ: cf. 508. 24, where a ἱππικὸς κλήρος is mentioned (on the distinction between σταθμός and κλήρος see P. Tebt. I. p. 45), and 504. 9, where ἐκ τοῦ ἱππικοῦ followed probably by some word like λογισηρίου occurs. These instances show that the old military organization of κάντοι in the Fayûm (cf. P. Tebt. I. pp. 545 sqq.) still survived to some extent in the Roman period; cf. P. Meyer, Heerwesen, p. 106 and note on 483. 5.

483. APPLICATION FOR LEAVE TO MORTGAGE.

A.D. 108.

An application, addressed to the βιβλιοφύλαξ by a certain Achilles, of a similar character to B. G. U. 184 and 379 and P. Brit. Mus. 299 and 300; cf. P. Oxy. II. p. 180, where part of this papyrus is quoted. There is however this difference between those documents and 483, that in them the applicant wished to part with his land, while here he apparently wished only to mortgage it; cf. I. 11 of the Florence papyrus published by Vitelli, Athene e Roma iv. 73 sqq., and 588. 483 is also noticeable for containing at the end a letter from the βιβλιοφύλαξ to the agoranomi authorizing the drawing up of the contract required.

‘(To Sarapion, keeper of the public records, from Achilles. . . . Wishing to mortgage to) . . . through his . . . , priest of Zeus, Hera and . . . , the (6 arouae) of catoecic land which I own near the village of . . . in the eastern toparchy in the holding of Zenodorus . . . (on condition that the repayment is made) by the 5th intercalary day of the month Caesareus of the 22nd year of Trajanus Caesar the lord, at the interest of 1 drachma for each mina per month dating from next month, Pharmouthi, which I will pay off at the conclusion of each twelvemonth, I present this application in order that you may instruct the agoranomi of Oxyrhynchus, who are also recorders, to execute the deed in the proper way. And I swear by the deified Augusti and by the Fortune of the Emperor Caesar Nerva Trajanus Augustus Germanicus Dacicus and my ancestral gods that the aforesaid arouae are my own property and free from all liability either public or private up to the present day. The 11th year of the Emperor Caesar Nerva Trajanus Augustus Germanicus Dacicus, Phamenoth dies Augustus. I, Achilles son of Didymus, have presented the application and sworn the oath.

Sarapion, joint keeper of the records with Theon, to the agoranomi of the metropolis, greeting. Achilles has the 6 arouae on the register. Execute the deed therefore, as is fitting.’ Date.

3. ιερέως Διὸς καὶ Ἡρας καὶ . . . : very likely these deities are in a Graecized form the triad commonly worshipped at Oxyrhynchus, Sarapis, Isis, and Thoēris (e.g. 46. 8). Sarapis and Zeus were often identified (cf. Milne, Journ. Hell. Stud. 1901, p. 277), and Isis might well be identified with Hera, whose worship is rarely mentioned in Egypt (Milne, l. c., p. 289). Thoēris was perhaps identified with Athena; cf. 579.

5. Ζη[οδόρου]... κλήρ[ο]ν: cf. 47. 18. Our contention (P. Oxy. I. p. 102) that the persons who gave their names to κλήροι were the original grantees has recently been disputed by P. Meyer (Heerwesen, p. 107), who wishes to make them the owners immediately preceding the actual ones. This view that e. g. ἐκ τοῦ Μενουτίου κλήρου (45. 10) means no more than τὰς πρότερον Μενουτίου is not only very unlikely in itself and ignores the preposition ἐκ which indicates that the Μενουτίου κλήρος was larger than the area in question, but it altogether fails to account for the following facts (1) the uniformly Greek character of the names, (2) the absence of women, (3) the frequent insertion of nationalities (e. g. Δημητρίου Μιλησίου 270. 17, του Λυδίου 265. 40; cf. 506. 24 Πτολεμαίου Πέρσου ἱππικοῦ κλήρου), (4) the common occurrence of the same κλήροι, e. g. that of Drimacus (250, 265, 344). On the other hand all these facts point to the Ptolemaic origin of the persons who give their names to κλήροι, which, seeing that the Ptolemaic organization of catocic land still survived to some extent (cf. 482. 18, note), is in no way surprising.

30. Φαμενώδ Σεβαστή: probably the 29th; cf. l. 37, which was most likely written on the same day, and 289. i. 2. On ἡμέραι Σεβασταί see P. Oxy. II. p. 284.

(c) PETITIONS.

484. PETITION TO THE STRATEGUS.

A.D. 138.

A petition sent to the strategus by Pausiris, who had been accused of fraud by a certain Didymus, requesting that a copy of the present libellus should be served upon the son of the accuser in order to compel his attendance at the next sitting of the praefect's court (conventus). The papyrus follows nearly the same formula as B. G. U. 226 and P. Brit. Mus. 358, on the juristic aspects of which documents see Mitteis, Hermes, xxx. p. 572, and Wenger, Rechts-historische Papyrusstudien, pp. 106 sqq.

The praefect mentioned is Avidius Heliodorus, whose tenure of office is thus carried back to January 138, a circumstance which necessitates a reconsideration of the date generally assigned to the praefecture of Valerius Eudaemon; cf. note on l. 22.

In the upper margin is an insertion by a different hand, perhaps a number.

‘To Apollinarius, strategus, from Pausiris son of Petsiris, from the village of Septhta, living at Namera. Since Didymus son of Amois has delivered to me an accusation charging me with defrauding his son Didymus in connexion with some wheat, I request that a copy of this memorandum be served upon his aforesaid son Didymus in order that he may have a written notice and appear wherever his highness the praefect Avidius Heliodorus holds his auspicious court for the nome or administers justice, and that he may attend until the trial takes place so that the facts may be proved. The 22nd year of the Emperor Caesar Trajanus Hadrianus Augustus, Mecheir 3. I, Pausiris son of Petsiris, have presented this memorandum.’

22. The earliest mention of Avidius Heliodorus as praefect has hitherto been in March A.D. 139 (cf. de Ricci, Proc. Soc. Bibl. Arch. xxiv. p. 64), and the previous year has generally been assigned to Valerius Eudaemon (40. 1; cf. P. Oxy. II. pp. 173-4), who was praefect about the end of Hadrian's reign or early in that of Antoninus. 484 now shows that Avidius Heliodorus was already praefect on Jan. 28, 138, and it is no longer possible to suppose that the date in 237. viii. 7 (έτους κβ θεοῦ Ἀδριανοῦ Μεχεῖρ κ, i. e. Feb. 14, 138) refers, as we suggested, to the proclamation of Eudaemon. This being so, it becomes practically certain that the date in 237. viii. 18 (έτους ι θεοῦ Ἀδελφου Ἀντωνίνου Ἐπιφ κδ) does, as is indicated by the arrangement in the papyrus, refer to the proclamation of Eudaemon, who was therefore praefect on July 18, A.D. 142. This conclusion produces a conflict between 237. viii. 18 and B. G. U. 113. 9, where if the editor's reading is correct Avidius Heliodorus is still praefect in the 6th year Pachon 21 (May 16, A.D. 143). But the reading of the crucial figure in B. G. U. 113. 9 is doubtful, and if γ be substituted for ε the whole difficulty is removed and Valerius Eudaemon takes his place between Avidius Heliodorus (A.D. 138-141) and Valerius Proculus (A.D. 145-7), being no doubt identical with the Eudaemon who tried the case recorded in P. Cattaoui iii. 16-iv (Bull. dell' Inst. di diritto Rom. viii. pp. 155 sqq.; cf. our revised text in Archiv, III. 1), on the 3rd intercalary day of the 5th year of Antoninus.

485. NOTIFICATION TO THE STRATEGUS.

30.5 x 12 cm.

A.D. 178.

Copy of a notification addressed to the strategus by Serenus, a freedman, of the fact that he had brought before the archidicastes a claim for the recovery of a debt, and that that official had authorized the strategus to forward this claim, of which a copy is added, to the alleged debtor—a proceeding equivalent to a summons to appear for the trial of the case. Appended at the foot are the authorization of the strategus that the claim should be duly forwarded as desired, and a corresponding acknowledgement of receipt on the part of the defendant. Similar documents are B. G. U. 578 and 614, the legal aspects of which have been discussed by Mitteis (Hermes, xxxii. pp. 644 sqq.), and Gradenwitz (Einführung in die Papyrskunde, pp. 35 sqq.), and especially 888, the text of which admits of several improvements (see the notes below). The dispute in the present instance was concerned with a loan of 900 drachmae on the security of a female slave from Serenus to Sarapias, a woman living at Psobthis which we learn from this papyrus was the name of the metropolis of the Small Oasis (Bahriyeh). Cf. 592.

'To Theon, strategus, from Serenus, freedman of Apollonius son of Sarapion, of Oxyrhynchus. Appended is a copy of the official response received by me from the record office. Antoninus also called Pudens, priest and archidicastes, to the strategus of the Oxyrhynchite nome, greeting. Let a copy of the petition which has been presented be served as follows. Good-bye. The 19th year of the Aurelii Antoninus and Commodus the lords Augusti, Phaopfi 7. Signed by me, Sarapion. I, Hephaestion also called Sarapion, wrote (on his behalf). To Antoninus also called Pudens, priest, archidicastes and superintendent of the chrematistae and other courts, from Serenus, freedman of Apollonius son of Sarapion, of Oxyrhynchus. I lent in accordance with a public deed, written in the record office at the said Oxyrhynchus in the past 18th year on the 11th of the month Sebastus, to Sarapias daughter of Podon son of Horus, her mother being Thaësis, of Psobthis, the metropolis of the Small Oasis, the capital sum of 900 drachmae of silver with interest at the rate of a drachma on each mina monthly, the capital to be repaid on the 30th of the month Caesareus in the same past 18th year, with the proviso that if she did not repay the money on the appointed day, instead of the capital sum and any interest that was not paid I and my assigns were guaranteed the possession and ownership of her slave Sarapias, then aged about 25 years, with the various conditions contained in the loan and the provisions therein written for my security concerning the flight or death of the slave. The appointed term having elapsed and the repayment not having been made, I request you to give instructions for a letter to be written to the strategus of the Oxyrhynchite nome to present a copy of this petition to Sarapias, if she is still living, and if not, then to her heirs being of age, and if they are minors, to their lawful guardians, whose names will be ascertained on the spot, in order that they may be informed and may make repayment to me or else may know that I shall take the proper proceedings to which I am entitled for entry upon possession, as is right. The 19th year of the Aurelii Antoninus and Commodus the lords Augusti, Phaophi. The strategus ordered that a copy should be served in the proper manner upon Sarapias.' Date. (Signed) 'I, Sarapias, daughter of Podon, received a copy of this petition.' Date. 'I, Musaeus also called Pausirion, son of . . . , am registered as her guardian having been (appointed) by the strategus, and wrote for her as she was illiterate. I, Syrion, assistant, served the petition upon Sarapias, as aforesaid.' Date.

3. οὐ ἐπὶ ἄρματα κ.τ.λ.: in B. G. U. 578 and 614 the formula used is οὐ παρέκμυστα ἀπὸ διαλογῆς δημοσιώσεως. In connexion with καταλογί(ν) here it may be noted that in B. G. U. 614 the copy of the petition to the ἀρχιδικαστής is headed γραφή καταλόγ(ν)ειν, indicating the office where it was originally drawn up. In the present case the reply of the ἀρχιδικαστής to the petitioner seems to have been issued through the same medium.

7. The letter of the archidicastes is in B. G. U. 578 signed, as here, by two persons whose titles are not given; cf. B. G. U. 888. 4, where the corresponding signatory is the νομογράφος ἄγορας.

28. μὴ γενομένης: so no doubt B. G. U. 888. 18.

29. τούτου ἀντίγραφ(αφον): the present papyrus is the actual copy made in accordance with this request, as is shown by the fact that the docket of the strategus (ll. 34-5) is in the same hand as the body of the text, as well as by the frequent abbreviations (cf. especially l. 1).

31. ἐπὶ τῶν [τῶν δηλωθῆσεται: δηλωθῆ]σεται is similarly to be read after τῶν in B. G. U. 888. 21. In l. 8 of the same papyrus we should suggest] . . . ος τοῦ Μύστου, ὀφειλομένων, in l. 13 ἐπὶ or ἐφ' ὑπ' ἀλλήμασι (cf. B. G. U. 86. 12, &c.), and in l. 26 Σεβ(αστῆ) for σεο(ημείωμαι).

33. ἐμβαδείας: cf. B. G. U. 101. 15-6 μὴ ἐξέιναι δέ μοι λυτῶσαι μηδὲ ἐμβαδεῖν, and Etyim. M. p. 334. 35 ἐμβαδεῖναι καὶ ἐμβαδεῖα ἔστιν ἡ νυκτὶ λεγομένη διὰ τοῦ δ ἐμβαδεία, τὸ τὸν δανειστὴν ἐμβαδεῖναι καὶ εἰσελθεῖν εἰς τὰ κτήματα τοῦ ὑποχρέου ἐνεχυράζοντα τὸ δάνειον.

34-5. In B. G. U. 578. 1 the corresponding formula is [Ἀμμόνιος στρ(ατηγὸς)] Ἀρσι(νίτου) [Ἡρακλείδου μερίθ(ος) Ἡραὶ ὑπηρέτη. μετὰδ(ος) ἐνόπι(ον) ὡς καθ(ε)ῖ τοῖς προστεταγμ(ένου) ἀκολουθῶς]. The present passage is more compressed, probably because the document as far as l. 41 is a copy of the original; cf. note l. 29. The word after σ[υντάξαντος is perhaps πο[ιείσθαι] and εἰς suggests ἐνεστώσῃ, but the reading is very doubtful.

44-7. The κύριος here associated with Sarapias is different from the person who acted in that capacity when the loan was contracted; cf. ll. 52 sqq. This circumstance explains the statement in ll. 46-7 that the second κύριος was assigned ἐνὶ τοῦ στρατηγού. For the competence of the strategus in the appointment of guardians cf. 56. 13-5, and the Geneva papyrus discussed by Erman in Zeitschr. d. Sav. Stift. xv. 241 sqq. For some reason—whether from death or other cause—the original guardian of Sarapias was not available, and a new one therefore became necessary.

486. PETITIONS TO THE EPISTRATEGUS AND PRAEFECT.

A.D. 131.

This petition to the epistrategus, enclosing a petition to the praefect with his answer, is concerned with the same subject as 472. Dionysia and Sarapion had had a dispute concerning the ownership of some land which Dionysia claimed to have bought from Sarapion's father, while Sarapion asserted that she held it only on mortgage, combining his claim with a charge of poisoning against Dionysia's mother, Hermione. The matter came before the epistrategus Claudius Quintianus, who referred it to the praefect and ordered the rival suitors to proceed to Alexandria. Dionysia complied with his instructions, but not Sarapion; and after waiting some time in vain, she petitioned the praefect Flavius Titianus to give her permission to return home (ll. 18-36). To this the praefect replied by referring her back to the epistrategus, who by this time was Julius Varianus (ll. 37-8). Accordingly Dionysia wrote to him re-stating her case, and enclosing her previous petition and the answer to it; and reiterated her request for leave to return to Oxyrhynchus and for the case to be decided there. On the verso in a small cursive hand is the rough draft of another petition of Dionysia on the same subject, but too much obliterated for continuous decipherment.

'To Julius Varianus, epistrategus of the Heptanomis and Arsinoite nome, from Dionysia daughter of Chaeremon, her mother being Hermione daughter of Chaeremon, inhabitants of the metropolis of the Oxyrhynchite nome. A dispute arose between me and one Sarapion son of Mnesitheus, who with regard to a vineyard and some corn-land which I bought from his father as long ago as the 11th year of Hadrianus Caesar the lord, having paid to his father himself and to a creditor of his the price agreed upon and having received the regular official contract of the sale, declared that I held this land on mortgage. Claudius Quintianus who was then epistrategus heard the case and referred it to his highness the praefect. Thereupon I attended at the praefect's court, and when my opponent paid no attention and failed to appear I presented his highness the praefect with a petition, of which I have appended a copy, narrating in full the state of the affair; and he sent me on to you, my lord, to have the case tried. Since my opponent even now is absent and the time for sowing is imminent and the repair of what has been swept away by the river requires my presence, I beg you, if it please you, to permit me to sail back and have the case decided by you on the spot, that I may obtain redress. Farewell. The copy of the petition which I presented to his highness the praefect is as follows:—

To his highness the praefect Titus Flavius Titianus from Dionysia daughter of Chaeremon, her mother being Hermione, inhabitants of Oxyrhynchus. A certain Sarapion son of Mnesitheus, of the said city, charged my mother Hermione before Claudius Quintianus, late epistrategus of the Heptanomis, with poisoning, and at the same time invented a claim with regard to certain property of which he said he was defrauded, but which I, Dionysia, bought in accordance with official contracts, having paid the price of it to his father when he was alive and to creditors of his said father who held the land in question on mortgage; and he asserted that it had been registered in security. The epistrategus referred the whole case to your beneficence, and it happened that my mother died before the trial, while I thereupon in consequence of the letter of the epistrategus ordering me and Sarapion to sail down to Alexandria presented myself here, but Sarapion has paid no attention to the instruction to sail down. Since therefore news has reached me while staying here that all my property has been lost through the excessive rise of the most sacred Nile, both buildings, lands, and dykes, I entreat you, my lord praefect, in the continued absence of my opponent, to permit me to sail back in order that I may obtain justice (there) and that I may not in addition to the loss of my property also perish of hunger, that I may obtain redress. Farewell. The 16th year of Hadrianus Caesar, Phaophi 12. (Endorsed) If this is true, petition the epistrategus, delivering (to him a copy of this).'

7. δημόσιον χρηματισμόν: i.e. the contract drawn up in the presence of officials at the registry office; cf. 89. 2.

37-8. These two lines which contain the answer of the praefect to the petition may be restored on the analogy of e.g. P. Tebt. I. 43. 44 [Διονυσία. εἰ οὕτω]· ἔχει ἐντυχὲ τῷ ἐπιστρατήγῳ ἀποδοῦσα τὸ ἀναφόριον].

487. PETITION TO THE EPISTRATEGUS.

'To his highness Statilius Maximus, epistrategus, from Nicias son of Harpalus, of Oxyrhynchus. The scribe of the city, Serenus, appointed me guardian of two minors, sons of Dionysius son of Dorion, aged about 25 years, who neither on their father's nor on their mother's side had any other persons who from ties of kinship could undertake the business of guardianship. Since I am weighed down by my official duties and have incurred debts, I request you, my lord, if it please your fortune, to instruct the strategus to compel the scribe of the city to appoint some one else in my place to act as guardian to the minors, in order that I may be able to attend to the cultivation of my property and be enabled to pay the debts to which I have become liable in connexion with my office, and that you may not make me an outcast from my property and home, so that I may obtain redress. Farewell. The 20th year of the Emperor Caesar Titus Aelius Hadrianus Antoninus Augustus Pius, the 18th of the month Hadrianus. I, Nicias son of Harpalus, presented this petition.'

1. Statilius Maximus is also addressed in B. G. U. 340, which document was written probably some years later than the 12th year mentioned in l. 5, since 487 is dated in the 20th year of Antoninus.

5. ἀφ' ἡλικίας: that persons aged twenty-five should be still minors is rather remarkable, but cf. 491, where the testator provides that his sons should have a guardian until the age of twenty and should be unable to alienate their inheritance before the age of twenty-five (491. 6, note), and 495. 10.

18-9. The writer has confused two constructions μὴ μετανάστατος . . . γένεσθαι (γενόμε) and μὴ μεταναστήσης με.

488. PETITION TO THE* EPISTRATEGUS.

26.5 × 15.5 cm. Late second or third century.

A petition from a woman whose home was in the Apollonopolite nome and who had bought some land in the Antaeopolite nome. The scribe of the local komogrammateus, the official specially concerned with the land-survey, had entered her purchase in the survey-lists at more than an aroura in excess of the correct amount, and the petitioner appealed to the epistrategus to set matters right. On the verso in a different hand is a message, probably written in the office of the epistrategus and apparently directed to a local official of the Antaeopolite nome, which calls attention to the petitioner's claim. The petition has been gummed on to another document on each side; the beginnings of a few lines of the right-hand one are preserved.

'To his highness the epistrategus Julius Julianus, from Senphibis daughter of Thortaeus, with her guardian who is her son Psais the elder, son of Lemos, from the village of Iblon Nemna of the lower toparchy of the Apollonopolite nome. I bought, my lord, a long time ago from Apollonius and Didymus, both sons of Origenes, of Lycopolis, $5\frac{1}{2}$ arourae of corn-land in the holding called the Diagraphē in the lands of the village of Krikis in the Antaeopolite nome. But a certain Artemidorus, scribe of the komogrammateus of Krikis, somehow registered me as having more land than I actually possess by one whole aroura and more in each year, and in consequence inflicts much loss upon me. I am therefore compelled, since the man oppresses me and I am in danger of abandoning the (land?), to take refuge with you, the lord and helper of all, and I beg you, if it please you, to order the strategus of the nome to see that the correct registration is made of my land in accordance with the securities which I possess, and not to let me be falsely registered by the komogrammateus, for last year also he made other false entries in his register concerning me besides this, that I may obtain relief. I, Senphibis daughter of Thortaeus with my guardian Psais the elder, son of Lamos (sic), have presented this petition.

(Deliver) into the hands of () of the Antaeopolite nome. She accuses the scribe of the komogrammateus with making a false entry and requests the correct entry to be made . . .

16. After παρέγραψεν the scribe began to write a word commencing ἡμι, either ἡμῶν or ἡμῶν, but changed it to με without, however, erasing the initial η.

17. μὲ καὶ πρὸς: cf. 68. 24, P. Amh. 79. 32, &c.

22. Neither γῆν, οἰκίαν nor κτῆσιν suits the vestiges and spacing.

37. The name of an official would be expected, but nothing is lost after εἰς χεῖρας.

43. The relation of this line to the preceding is not clear. Above the ε of μηδενός is what looks like ο, as if the scribe had first written μηδ. The doubtful π of ἐπεχομ(ένου) may be ν; but perhaps μηδενὸς ἐπε(ρ)χομ(ένου) 'if no one objects' should be read.

(d) WILLS.

489. WILL OF DIONYSIUS.

A.D. 117.

Will of Dionysius son of Harpocration. The testator bequeaths to his wife Diogenis an apartment rent-free in a house belonging to him, together with the furniture of the whole house and his slaves. After the death of Diogenis the whole property is vested in their son, who presumably was to inherit during his mother's lifetime whatever was not expressly reserved for her, though this is not definitely stated. The papyrus is dated in the reign of Trajan, and the number of the year, which is lost, can be fixed by the occurrence of the title Parthicus, which was assumed by that emperor in his 20th year. On Aug. 27, when the papyrus was written, Trajan had, as a matter of fact, been dead about three weeks. This and the following wills, except 494, are written across the fibres of the papyrus; cf. 583, 694, and 646-52. The seals of the testator and witnesses were attached to the outside of the roll, but these have not been preserved; cf. P. Tebt. I. 104 introd.

'The 20th year of the Emperor Caesar Nerva Trajanus Optimus Augustus Germanicus Dacicus Parthicus, the 4th intercalary day, dies Augustus, of the month Caesareus, at the city of Oxyrhynchus in the Thebaid, for good fortune. This is the will, made in the street, by me, Dionysius son of Harpocraton son of Sarapion, my mother being Esorsois, of Oxyrhynchus, being sane and in my right mind. So long as I survive I am to have power over my own property, to use it and make any arrangements or other dispositions concerning it in any manner I choose. But after my death I concede to my wife Diogenis daughter of Ptolemaeus, of the same city, for her lifetime the right to dwell in and use free of rent any one abode which she herself may choose in the stone house belonging to me in the North Quay quarter with exit and entrance. She shall also have the use for her lifetime of the effects and furniture left by me in the said abode and in the house and the service of and the profits from my female slave Ilarous and her children who are to be fed and clothed by the said Diogenis. After her death all my property shall belong solely to our children, which children shall not have the power to alienate what is inherited by them from me except only to their several families; nor shall any one be permitted under any circumstances to proceed against my wife Diogenis concerning any of the provisions of the will, and the person who does so shall forfeit a fine of 1000 drachmae and to the Treasury an equal sum. This will is valid.' There follow (1) the signature of the testator giving a nearly verbal recapitulation of the substance of the will, and written for him by Heracles son of Apion, (2) the signatures of six witnesses who add as usual particulars as to their ages, personal descriptions and seals, (3) the docket of the record office at Oxyrhynchus, and (4) on the verso the title of the will.

1. ἐπαγο(μένων) δ Σεβα(στῆ): it may be noted that the same day is not called Σεβαστή in 481. 22 and 29, written in the 2nd year of this reign. In 380 (reign of Titus) the 6th intercalary day is Σεβαστή.

31. From 684 it appears that nothing is lost before μνημονεύου.

490. WILL OF TASTRATON.

Height 16.5 cm.

A. D. 124.

Will of a woman named Tastraton, who bequeaths her property, consisting chiefly of a share of a house, to the son of a freedman. In the event of his dying childless and intestate, the property was to revert to the family of the testatrix.

The right-hand part of the papyrus is missing, but the amount lost at the ends of lines can be approximately determined, and though the lacunae are large they are mostly capable of satisfactory restoration. The supplement in l. 16 is practically certain, and on this basis the number of letters lost at the ends of ll. 2-7, where the hand is much smaller, is about sixty-five, the tear down the papyrus being, as far as l. 19, in a nearly straight vertical line.

The 10th year of the Emperor Caesar Trajanus Hadrianus Augustus, the 5th intercalary day of the month Caesareus, at Oxyrhynchus in the Thebaid, for good fortune. This is the will made in the street by Eudaemon son of Thonasuchis son of Thonis, his mother being Thaësis, of Oxyrhynchus, shrine-bearer of the most great goddess Thoëris and of Isis . . . and the other gods of the temple at the village Mouchinor, being sane and in his right mind. So long as I survive I am to have power over my own property, to make any further provisions or new dispositions I choose and to revoke this will, and any such provisions shall be valid. But if I die with this will unaltered I leave my sons Thonis and Horus and Eudaemon, all three sons of Ta . . . daughter of Harpaësis also called Horus, each of them, if he lives, and if not, his children, as co-equal heirs of all the buildings, estates and slaves that I may leave, but Thonis alone of all . . . whatever that he chooses on condition that the said Thonis pays any debts which may be proved against me and gives to his brothers Horus and Eudaemon, if they have at the time of my death completed 20 years, one year after my death, and if they are not so old, then to each of them when he has completed the 20 years, 500 drachmae, making for both of them together 1000 drachmae; and it shall not be lawful for the said Horus and Eudaemon nor for any one of them to sell, mortgage or otherwise dispose of what will come to them from me until each of them has completed 25 years. And if I die before the said Horus and Eudaemon have completed 20 years, their brother Thonis and their maternal grandfather Harpaësis also called Horus son of Thonis shall be guardians of each of them until he completes 20 years. If any of the three sons happen to die childless his share shall belong to his surviving brothers equally; beyond this no one at all shall have power to disobey these provisions and any person so doing shall forfeit to the party abiding by them the damages and a fine of 1000 drachmae of silver and to the Treasury an equal sum, and the foregoing provisions shall none the less remain valid. This will is valid.' Signatures of Eudaemon and six witnesses with details of their ages, distinguishing marks, and seals, and docket of the record office at Oxyrhynchus.

2. καὶ Σαραπίδος would be expected after Ἰσιδος (cf. 46. 8-9, &c.), and Σαραπίδος might indeed be read, but there is then no room for καί.

6. εἴκοσι ἔτη; cf. ll. 7 and 9. But though Horus and Eudaemon were to enter on possession of their inheritance on reaching 20 years they were not to alienate any part of it until 5 years more had elapsed. There is, however, a discrepancy here between the body of the will and the signature, where it is stated (l. 16) that the brothers were to remain under tutelage till the age of 25. This difficulty might be evaded by supposing that μέχρι δὲ τότε refers back to ἔτων κ in l. 14, but that is certainly not the natural interpretation. Possibly therefore εἴκοσι (πέντε) should be read throughout. 20 is the age when the period of tutelage terminated in another case (495. 10), but in 487. 5 we find a guardian being appointed for youths of 25.

492. WILL OF THATRES.

A.D. 130.

In this will Thatres daughter of Ammonius leaves as her heirs two half-brothers, whose relationship, if any, to herself, is not stated. The father of one of the brothers is expressly excluded from a house which formed the principal item in the property.

'The 14th year of the Emperor Caesar Trajanus Hadrianus Augustus, Mecheir 28, at Oxyrhynchus in the Thebaid, for good fortune. This is the will made in the street by Thatres daughter of Ammonius son of Sarapion, her mother being Tsenthotoumis, from Ision Tryphonis in the lower toparchy, now living at Oxyrhynchus, being sane and in her right mind, with her guardian the son of Thatres' cousin Heraclous daughter of Sarapion son of Sarapion, her mother being Tauseiris also called Sarapous, Horion also called Theon, son of Sarapion son of . . . , from Ibion Ammonii in the same lower toparchy. So long as I survive I am to have power over my own property, to make any further provisions or new dispositions I choose and to revoke this will, and any such provisions shall be valid. But if I die with this will unaltered and no further provisions made I leave on account of their affection towards me Ptolion son of Theon son of Ptolion, his mother being Isareus daughter of Theon, and his brother on the mother's side Theon son of Theon son of Theon also called Apollonius son of Theon, both of Oxyrhynchus, if they live, and if not, their children, as joint and equal heirs of the house, court, yard and fixtures belonging to me at Oxyrhynchus in the Knight's Camp quarter, and any slaves which I may leave and all other property of any kind whatever; and it shall nowise be lawful for my said heirs to receive into my house aforesaid the father of the second Theon, namely Theon son of Theon also called Apollonius son of Theon, his mother being Helene, for the whole of his life under any pretext, nor for any one else to disobey any of my dispositions, and the person attempting to set aside aught of them shall, while not disturbing their validity, forfeit a fine of 1000 drachmae and to the Treasury an equal sum and none the less (shall these provisions hold good); and I leave none of my property to any one else.' Signatures of Thatres written for her by her guardian Horion, and of six witnesses in the usual style, and docket of the record office.

3. The mutilated name is not 'Απίωνος, as would be expected from l. 16.

9. The vestiges before ἐκείνοι do not suit ἐν.

10. For the ellipse of κύρια μένειν τὰ προγεγραμμένα cf. 504. 32. It may here be partly due to the writer's recollection that this same clause had already preceded in the line above.

20. The name after ἐπικαλούμενο[s] is perhaps all one word; the doubtful κ may be μ.

493. WILL OF PASION AND BERENICE.

11.3 × 25.9 cm.

Early second century.

The following will is peculiar in being a joint deed by a husband and wife, who both have property to dispose of. The beginning is lost, but the remaining clauses suffice to show that the survivor of the two was constituted the heir of the other, with power to divide the whole property among the four children of the marriage; but the wife is, in the event of her outliving her husband, expressly authorized to retain the ownership if she chose to do so. The papyrus was probably written in the reign of Trajan or Hadrian.

494. WILL OF ACUSILAUS.

A.D. 156.

This long papyrus, which is in an excellent state of preservation, gives a copy of an elaborate and more than usually interesting will. The testator, Acusilaus, after conferring freedom upon five of his slaves, 'in consequence of their goodwill and affection,' leaves his son Dios heir to his property, subject to a life-interest reserved for Aristous, the wife of Acusilaus. The document is not the original will, but an official copy made at a later date; cf. l. 25, note.

'Copy. In the 19th year of the Emperor Caesar Titus Aelius Hadrianus Antoninus Augustus Pius, the 30th of the month Germaniceus, at Oxyrhynchus in the Thebaid; for good fortune. This is the will made in the street by me, Acusilaus son of Dios son of Dionysius also called Acusilaus and of Dionysia daughter of Theon, of the city of Oxyrhynchus, being sane and in my right mind. So long as I survive I am to have power over my own property, to make any further provisions and alterations I please and to revoke this will, and any such provisions shall be valid. But if I die with this will unchanged, I set free under sanction of Zeus, Earth and Sun, for their goodwill and affection towards me, my slaves Psenamounis also called Ammonius and Hermas and Apollonous also called Demetria and her daughter Diogenis and Diogenis, another female slave of mine. I bequeath to my wife and cousin Aristous also called Apolloniar, daughter of Heraclides son of Dionysius also called Acusilaus and of Herais daughter of Alexandrus, being well-disposed and showing entire faithfulness towards me, all that I may leave in the way of furniture, effects, objects of gold, clothing, ornaments, wheat, pulse, produce, and all my household stock, and my debts, recorded and unrecorded. I leave my son Dios by my aforesaid wife Aristous also called Apolloniar, if he lives, and if not, his children, heir to all the property that I leave and to my other slaves and the offspring that may hereafter be born to the female slaves aforesaid; but my said wife Aristous also called Apolloniar shall have during her lifetime, after the taxes are paid, the use of and all the revenues from the whole property, together with the service of and profits from those of them who are to receive their freedom after my death. My said wife shall supply to my son Dios every month at Oxyrhynchus for his sustenance and other expenses two artabae of wheat by the measure used for payment . . . and 60 drachmae and for clothing 200 drachmae yearly. My said wife Aristous also called Apollonarian shall have the right to sell and mortgage on her own authority anything she chooses of what I leave to my son Dios in property and slaves and to use for her personal requirements the money accruing from the sale or mortgage. My said wife Aristous also called Apollonarian shall pay all the debts that may be proved against me; and my wife, and after her death my son Dios, shall give to my slaves and freedmen for a feast which they shall celebrate at my tomb on my birthday every year 100 drachmae of silver to be spent. Anything that I append to the official copy of the will, whether cancelling or supplementing or making bequests to other persons or with any other purpose shall also be valid as if contained in the actual will; beyond this no one shall have power to disobey it, and anybody who does so shall forfeit to the party abiding by it the damages and a fine of 2 talents of silver and to the Treasury an equal sum, the above provisions remaining none the less valid. This will is valid. I, Acusilaus son of Dios the aforesaid, have made this will, the whole of which with all the above provisions is in my own writing. I am 48 years of age and have a scar on my right foot, and my seal is an image of Thonis. I, Didymus son of Onnophris also called Chaeremon son of Herodes, of Oxyrhynchus, one of the witnesses to the above will, recognized my own seal which is a figure of Hermes and sealed with the said seal.' There follow similar signatures of three other witnesses, whose seals represented respectively Sarapis, Apollo, and Heracles.

5-6. ὑπὸ Δία Γῆν Ἥλιον: cf. 48, 6, 49, 8; another instance of the manumission of a slave by will is B. G. U. 326. 17.

21. The word after ἔδωκεν could not be read as χρ[ε]ος, even if this were otherwise suitable. χρ[ε]ος would be possible, though not very satisfactory.

25. ὑπὸ τῷ ἐκδόσιμον; ἐκδόσιμα are mentioned in 34. ii. 6, where the keeper of the 'Nanaeum' is ordered not to give them without authorization from the Library of Hadrian:—ὁ ἐπιτηρητῆς τοῦ Ναναίου μήτε τὰ ἐκδόσιμα διδόντω μήτε ἐπισκεύασθαι ἐπιτρέπεται μήτε ἄλλο τι οἰκονομεῖτω πρὶν αὐτῷ ἐπιστελλεῖται κ.τ.λ. There the ἐκδόσιμα appear to be official copies of the deeds deposited in the archives; and in the present passage (cf. also 495. 15) the word has the same meaning, as is indicated by the contrast drawn between the ἐκδόσιμον and the actual διαθήκη. It is indeed most probable that this papyrus was itself an ἐκδόσιμον, for it is stated to be a copy and yet is signed by witnesses, who state that they had recognized the seals which they had affixed to the original document. We must then suppose that testators were permitted to use such official copies of their wills for the purpose of adding codicils without being put to the trouble of withdrawing and cancelling the original deeds. This however was of course sometimes done; cf. 108-7, which refer to the absolute revocation of wills.

27. ὡς ἐν τῇ or ὡς ἐν αὐτῇ τῇ would be expected but was certainly not written. The phrase recurs in 495. 16, but in a mutilated form.

31. Θώμιος: the mythical guard of the Canopic branch of the Nile; cf. Hdt. i. 114-5. Probably Ἐκατόμου in 684 refers to him.

38. Ὁξυρυγχιδῶν: this is an early example of the form Ὁξυρυγχιδῶν πόλις which is not found in common use before the third century. 478. 2 is in fact the only other instance in this volume.

44. προτέθη, if correct, presumably refers to the publication of the contents of the will after the testator's death; but the note may merely record the date at which the present copy was made. Perhaps παρτέθη, 'deposited,' should be read.

495. WILL OF PETOSORAPIS.

9.7 x 34 cm.

A.D. 181-9.

This will is much mutilated, but possesses an interest as a specimen from a somewhat later period than that to which the preceding group belongs; and its general tenour remains fairly clear. The testator Petosorapis leaves as his heir in the first instance his son Epinicus, a minor; and appoints his sister Apollonous to administer the estate, and take charge of Epinicus until he reached the age of 20 years. It may be inferred that the mother of the boy was either dead or had separated from her husband. A certain part of the property is appropriated to Apollonous herself, who was to pay the testator's debts; and the stipulation is made that she should not be asked to render an account of her trusteeship. A minor legacy was apparently made to a nephew of Petosorapis.

(e) CONTRACTS.

496. MARRIAGE CONTRACT.

A.D. 127.

A contract of marriage between Sarapion son of Eudaemon and Thais daughter of Sarapion, written on the recto of 34, the important edict of Flavius Titianus concerning archives. The ends of the lines, which are of extreme length, are lost throughout the papyrus, which has also suffered considerably from decay and discolouration; but the lacunae can almost always be restored by the aid of 265, 497, and the Fayûm contracts at Vienna and Berlin, and the sense is seldom in doubt. The result is a practically complete specimen of an Oxyrhynchus marriage contract of this period; the provisions have a general resemblance to those of documents of the same class from the Fayûm, but there are marked differences of formula. The chief clauses are:—(1) specification of (a) the dowry of Thais, comprising various articles of jewelry and dress and 1800 drachmae provided by her father, and a female slave presented by her grandmother (ll. 2-6), (b) the property brought into the common stock by Sarapion (ll. 7-8); (2) conditions of divorce (ll. 8-10); (3) provisions in case of the decease of either party (ll. 10-16). Cf. also 803-7.

'The 11th year of the Emperor Caesar Trajanus Hadrianus Augustus, Pharmouthi 24, at Oxyrhynchus in the Thebaid, for good fortune, on the day of Julia Augusta, in the street. Sarapion son of Sarapion son of Sarapion son of Sarapion, his mother being Thais daughter of Sarapion, of Oxyrhynchus, has given in marriage his daughter Thais whose mother is . . . to Sarapion son of Eudaemon son of Theon, his mother being Heras daughter of . . . and Didous, who has received from Sarapion, the father and giver of the bride, a pair of . . . weighing 3 minae 14½ quarters, a brooch of 8 quarters, a . . . of 6 quarters, a chain with 3 green . . . of stone, the gold weighing [.]¾ quarters, making altogether on the standard of Oxyrhynchus 5 minae . . . quarters, also 2 dresses, 2 girdles, one red the other rose-coloured, a . . . and a mantle, together worth 560 silver drachmae, and 1860 silver drachmae, the total value of the whole dowry being 4100 drachmae of silver of the Imperial coinage. Besides this the grandmother of the bride, Thais daughter of Sarapion and Heraclous, of the same city, with her guardian who is another son of hers and the full brother of the giver of the bride, Sarapion son of Sarapion, acknowledges in the same street that she has given away Thais in marriage, and she confers upon the said Thais (the possession of the slave) Callityche and her future offspring, the services of and the profits from her to be shared by the husband with the bride so long as they live together; and it shall not be lawful for the husband to . . . the slave without his wife's consent nor anything that is brought to him by his wife, nor to sell or mortgage or otherwise dispose of his property namely a house, yard and court and its fixtures and his slaves Sarapous and Nicarous and the children of Nicarous, Sarapous and Cerdon and Epicharmus, and the future offspring of them or others, or any additional property which he may acquire, without the consent of the bride. Let both live blamelessly together, and the husband shall supply the bride with necessities in proportion to his means; but if any difference arises between them and the bride wishes to separate from her husband, as soon as the separation takes place the bride shall withdraw the slave Callityche and the children that may be born to her, and the husband shall repay to the giver of the bride if he survives, and if not, to the bride herself, the 4100 drachmae of the dowry within . . . days from the day on which they are demanded or forfeit this amount increased by one half . . . And if the bride is at the time of separation in a state of pregnancy the husband shall give her on account of the birth 60 drachmae more. When they come together may they enjoy health; but if either husband or wife should chance to die, the husband shall have power over his own property to make any further provisions he pleases and to divide it among whom he will; but if he makes no further provisions the property shall after his death belong to their children. If the husband dies first the bride shall have . . . and she or her nearest relation on the one part and whoever shall be appointed by the husband on the other part shall together be guardians, the children being brought up with their mother until they come of age. If the husband appoints no guardian for the one part of the guardianship the bride or her nearest of kin shall act alone, and no one shall be permitted to deprive her of the guardianship nor any part of it. If the bride dies first without their having any children or when those that have been born have died childless, the husband shall repay the dowry namely . . . the 4100 drachmae of silver in 60 days and shall send to the said relations of the bride all the rest of her property. Similarly if the husband dies first without their having any children or when those that have been born have died childless, the bride shall . . . and withdraw the slave Callityche and the children that may be born to her, and until she has recovered them she shall have control over the whole property, and with regard to all the provisions the choice shall rest with the bride to have either if she prefers the aforesaid gold ornaments included in the dowry at the same weight or their equivalent value, and the bride and her agents shall have the right of execution upon both the husband and upon all his property in accordance with their agreement with each other. The certifier of both parties is Diogenes son of Hierax, scribe, of the same city, in the same street.

1. ἐπὶ Ἰουλίας Σεβαστῆς: cf. 604 and 284. 21 Κ[αίσαρ]εῖον τε Ἰουλῆ Σεβαστῆ, and note ad loc.

3. Apparently not ἐνωρίων ζεύγος. The mutilated word after δέκ[τ]ω is possibly [δλ]υσ[ε]ῖθιον, but the vestiges do not suggest this.

χλωρούς χ[ι]. -τρούς: cf. C. P. R. 24. 5-6 ἐνωρίων ζεύγος . . . τὸ δὲ ἔτερον διάχλωρον.

4. The whole dowry of Thais came to 4100 drachmae (ll. 9 and 14), of which 560 are accounted for by the articles of dress and 1800 were paid in money, leaving 1680 to be accounted for by the value of the jewelry. Since a μναία contained 16 τέταρται (9. verso 16), the items in l. 3 make 4 μναία 13 τέταρται + the number of τέταρται in the δλυσίδιον. A μναίον of gold is converted into 288 silver drachmae in C. P. R. 12, and at the same rate 1680 drachmae would represent $5\frac{8}{9}$ μναία. If the figure lost in l. 3 before ἤμισιν was δέκα (no higher figure is possible), the total weight of the jewelry was $5\frac{1}{3}$ μναία. The difference is due to variation either in the rate of exchange or in the weights.

6. τὴν (δὲ) δουλείαν: in the translation we have supposed that the genitives Καλλιγύχης κ.τ.λ. depend on a word like κυρίαν lost at the end of l. 5, but τὴν δουλείαν may be the word on which they depend (cf. 499. 8), in which case a relative (ἥς or ἧς) must be supplied in the lacuna before συνέξει in l. 6.

προσφερόμενον: προσφέρεσθαι is the word commonly used of property brought to the husband by the bride, e.g. in a first century fragment of a marriage-contract τὴν φερνὴν προσφερομένην.

7. For the supplement at the end of the line cf. e.g. 491. 8.

9. For the supplement at the end cf. 497. 16.

10. Some such word as συνβῆ is required before τινα; cf. 497. 11.

12. ἔστω μόνῃ κ.τ.λ.: cf. 265. 29.

13. τὰ ἐν φερνῇ: cf. l. 15. Or ἀνεχθέντα may be read; cf. C. P. R. 27. 18.

15. διασολῶν: sc. for the recovery of the dowry; cf. 497. 18. Cf. for the supplement C. P. R. 22. 23, 27. 19.

16. γνωστὴρ: cf. a Vienna papyrus cited by Hartel, Gr. Pap. Erz. Rainer, p. 66 τῇ βουλευτῇ Ἀντωνίῳ τῇ γενομένῃ μου γνωστὴρ ἐν τῇ ἐπικρίσει, and B. G. U. 581. 13 (a deed of surety) τὸν δὲ προγεγραμμένον . . . γνωρίζει Λούκιος Ὀκτάκιος Λόγγος ἀπολύσιμος ἀπὸ στρατείας. The γνωστὴρ of a person was a witness of his or her identity.

497. MARRIAGE-CONTRACT.

11.5 × 14.1 cm.

Early second century.

Contract of marriage between Theon and Ammonous, written in very long lines across the fibres of the papyrus, probably in the reign of Trajan or Hadrian. Though a mere fragment of the whole contract, the sense and construction are intelligible throughout, for the missing portions at the beginnings of the lines can be largely restored from the other Oxyrhynchus marriage-contracts of this period (265 and 496), and the Ptolemaic marriage-contracts from the Fayûm (P. Tebt. 104 and Archiv, I. p. 484). At the end are the signatures of the bridegroom and the bride's father, and of a third person who seems to have been concerned in receiving the dowry, but whose relation to the contracting parties is obscure.

498. CONTRACT WITH STONE-CUTTERS.

17.8 x 8.7 cm.

Second century.

A contract by which two stone-cutters agree to supply the stone required for building a house at Oxyrhynchus at different prices according to the size and nature of the stones. Food was to be provided for them while they were engaged upon the work, and wages were guaranteed to them if their services were required by the builders, but the ornamentation of the stone is excluded from their duties. The stone was to be brought from the 'northern quarry,' which is still a noticeable feature a little way to the north of the site on the edge of the desert. The papyrus supplies several new technical terms connected with stone-cutting.

'Copy. To Antonia Asclepias also called Cyria, through her guardian Apollonius, from Asclas son of Alexandrus and Apollonius son of Amois, his mother being Tauris, both of Oxyrhynchus. We undertake to cut the squared building-stones transportable by camel(?) from the northern quarry required for the house of you, Antonia, in the quarter of Pammenes' Garden, the rate of wages for the stone-cutting being for the outer squared camel stones at 4 drachmae for 16, for the inner ones at 4 drachmae for 30, for ἀντιβλήματα at 3 drachmae for 100 squared camel stones, and for oblong corner-stones at 8 drachmae for 16 outer squared camel stones and at 8 drachmae for 30 inner squared camel stones, and for chipped squared camel stones at 4 drachmae for 50 and for chipped oblong squared camel corner-stones at 8 drachmae for 50. All the aforesaid stones we will cut, but no ornamentation shall be required of us. Each of us shall receive for each day that he works both a loaf and relish. If the builders have need of our services in stone-cutting, we or one of us will provide them, each of us receiving as wages for each day's services 4 drachmae, and likewise each of us on each day a loaf and relish. Until the 22nd of the present month Epeiph you have the right to transfer to others this contract for cutting the aforesaid squared camel stones from the northern quarry . . .

8. καμηλικῶν: the adjective is new. The point of it seems to be that the stones were not to be too heavy for a camel to transport them.

16. [ἀντιβλημάτων]: these stones being the cheapest were presumably the smallest, and may have been used for inserting in vacant spaces between the larger ones.

23. πέλεκυμάτων: the stones under this heading are divided into two classes, ll. 24-5 apparently corresponding to ll. 12-5, and ll. 26-8 to ll. 18-23. The πέλεκυματα were much dearer than the ἀντιβλήματα, but cheaper than the others.

499. LEASE OF LAND.

30.5 x 6.5 cm.

A.D. 121.

Lease of 10½ aourae of land at the village of Senepta for one year, at the rent of 36 drachmae per aoura. The crop, which in the preceding year had been corn, was to be grass, of which part was to be employed for grazing, part was to be cut for hay. Other leases in the present volume are 500-2, 590, 598, 639, and 640.

'Tryphon son of Aristandrus and Sarapion son of Herodes, inhabitants of Oxyrhynchus, have leased to Apollonius son of Horus, of the village of Senepta, Persian of the Epigone, for the present 6th year of Hadrianus Caesar the lord from their property at the said village in the holding of Dion the $10\frac{1}{2}$ arouae upon which corn has been grown, of which the adjacent areas are on the east the land of Didymus, on the south that of the aforesaid lessors, on the north the same, on the west the land of Seuthes son of Potamon, which land is to be cultivated with grass for cutting and grazing at a rent for each aroua, without a survey being made, of 36 drachmae of silver, guaranteed against all risks, the taxes upon the land being paid by the lessor, who shall be the owner of the crop until he recovers the rent. If this lease is guaranteed, the lessee shall pay the rent in the month Pauni of the said year and shall forfeit any arrears increased by one half, and the lessor shall have the right of execution upon the said Apollonius and upon all his property as if in accordance with a legal decision.' Date and signature of Sarapion.

10. ἀπὸ επικαλάμου: cf. Wilcken, Archiv, I. p. 158, P. Amh. 91. 22, note, and P. Tebt. 115. introd.

17. μηδεμιᾶς γεωμετρίας γενομένης: the point of this clause is that $10\frac{1}{2}$ arouae were accepted as the accurate amount of the land, and there was to be no fresh survey which, if it brought out a different figure, might affect the rent to be paid.

500. LEASE OF DOMAIN LAND. -

26 x 9.7 cm.

A.D. 130.

An application addressed to the strategus of the Athribite nome by a number of persons who wished to lease jointly, for one year probably, some domain land, offering a higher rent than that paid by the former lessees. Cf. 279, a similar application addressed to the basilico-grammateus, C. P. R. I. 32, 239, B. G. U. 640, and P. Brit. Mus. 350. The papyrus has been gummed on to a series of documents, and is numbered at the top 13.

measure upon our mutual security into the public granary from the new crop of the said 15th year of Hadrianus Caesar the lord. The 15th year of the Emperor Caesar Trajanus Hadrianus Augustus, Phaophi 5. We, Horus son of Psenomoithas and Nekperhos son of Thaisous, of the village of Sinekthoieku in the eastern part of the Thostian district, have leased the aforesaid 20½ arourae of public land near Tetaphou at 2 artabae of wheat and for the addition upon the whole land 5 artabae of wheat, and near Pensarsiësis 1 aroura likewise of public land at 3 artabae of wheat, and we will measure . . .

11-2. The genitives in these lines probably refer to the previous lessees; cf. 279. 8. α[. λουδαίων] seems to be the termination of a compound word expressing a particular class of Jews. There is room for one or two more letters in the lacuna before εἰρημύζοντων, but the writer frequently leaves spaces between words. In l. 12 the termination -ιτων of ἡρονομιτων suggests a place-name.

13. δημοσί(ας) γῆς: in Osf. I. p. 646 Wilcken adopts the explanation of 'public land' proposed by Viereck (Hermes, xxx. p. 119) that it means land belonging to the commune ('Gemeindeland') as opposed to βασιλική γῆ 'domain land'; but in Archiv, I. p. 157 he speaks of P. Brit. Mus. 335, which is an application for a sub-lease of δημοσία γῆ, as if that papyrus referred to 'Domanialland,' i.e. as if δημοσία γῆ were the same as βασιλική. There is, we think, no doubt that the first theory is incorrect. The use of δημόσιος in papyri in connexion with λόγος, τράπεζα, and γεωργός, where it corresponds in the first case to Καίσαρος or κυριακός (cf. Osf. I. p. 645) and in the other two to βασιλικός, renders such a contrast between δημόσιος and βασιλικός as is required by Viereck's theory very improbable. When we hear of land belonging to a 'Gemeinde,' as e.g. in P. Gen. 16, C. P. R. 39 and 41, it is never called δημοσία, but land ἀπὸ τοῦ πολιτικοῦ λόγου or τῆς κομῆς. These instances all belong to the third or fourth century, and it is not at all likely that there were enough 'Gemeinden' previously to account for the frequent mention of δημοσία γῆ before the reign of Septimius Severus. It is far more probable that δημόσιος in the phrase δημοσία γῆ has the same meaning as in the phrase δημόσιος γεωργός (cf. P. Brit. Mus. 256 (ε) 1-2 δημοσίους γεωργοῖς εἰς ἣν γεωργοῦσι βασιλικήν] καὶ ἱερὰν καὶ ἐτέραν γῆν) and that δημοσία γῆ included βασιλική γῆ, without however superseding the older term in the manner in which the Roman δημοσία τράπεζα superseded the βασιλική τράπεζα of the Ptolemies. The evidence on which attempts have been made to draw a real distinction between δημοσία and βασιλική γῆ is extremely slender. In B. G. U. 560. 21 δημοσία and οἰσιακή γῆ are coupled together, but there δημοσία in the sense of the Crown lands of the Ptolemaic kings makes a better contrast with estates acquired by the Emperors from private persons than δημοσία in the sense of 'Gemeindeland'; and it is quite uncertain that the βασιλική γῆ mentioned two lines later is intended to be distinguished from the previously mentioned δημοσία. B. G. U. 188. 23, where the editors read γῆ κλ(ηρονομίας) βα(σιλικῆς) δη(μοσίας), if δη(μοσίας) is right (which is extremely doubtful; δη(μοσίαν), sc. for the δημόσια, is preferable), would rather tend to show that δημοσία γῆ coincided with βασιλική than that it was something different. In B. G. U. 285 where arourae δημοσίαν are distinguished from arourae βασιλικῆς, it is not certain that land at the same village is meant, nor is it at all clear that δημοσίαν is there feminine, as would seem to be the view of the maker of the index to B. G. U. Under these circumstances we abandon the view expressed in P. Fay. Towns 88 introd., since there is no reason for departing from the natural meaning of δημόσιος at this period or for regarding δημοσία γῆ as anything but a general term for land belonging to the State, i.e. the imperial domains¹.

14. ἐπιθέματος: for this word in the sense of 'higher bid' cf. P. Amh. 85. 21 and Wenger, Archiv, II. p. 61.

16. Θώστων: the supposed σ both here and in l. 27 is somewhat different from the form of that letter employed elsewhere in the papyrus. In the present passage Θώτων could equally well be read, or possibly Θώτην, but in l. 27 neither of these forms is possible.

26. The termination of the village-name is very cursively written, and might be -κου or -μουν.

501. LEASE OF LAND.

29.6 x 7.2 cm.

A. D. 187.

A brief description of this lease of a half share of five arourae in the Oxyrhynchite nome from Heraclides and Sarapion, acting through their guardian Hermes, to Harmiusis was given in Part I. 166; but since the formula presents some novel features both with regard to arrears of rent from the preceding lease and the use of the word θέμα (cf. 518-8), we give the text here in full. The papyrus is in the Bodleian Library, MS. Gr. class. c. 47 (P).

'Heraclides also called Diogenes and Sarapion also called Diogenes, both sons of Diogenes and ex-gymnasiarchs of Oxyrhynchus, and however they are styled, through their guardian Hermes, have leased to Harmiusis son of Heras and Taphibis, from Tischinakitoou, for four years dating from the present 27th year out of their property at Taampemou in the holding of Philonicus and Charas a half share of five arourae and the vacant spaces, owned by them in common with Demetria daughter of Antimachus with respect to the other half, to be sown and cultivated in each year the half with wheat and the other half with green stuffs, at the fixed rent for the said half share in each year of the four years' period of 8 artabae of wheat on deposit and 40 drachmae. And the lessee acknowledges that he owes to the landlords arrears upon the said land for the past year 3 artabae of wheat, which he will pay as a deposit in the present year together with the deposit of the rent, guaranteed completely against all risks. If in the succeeding years any of the land becomes unirrigated, an allowance shall be made to the lessee, the landlords being responsible for the annual taxes upon the land and retaining the ownership of the produce until they have recovered their yearly dues ...'

16. χλωροί: i. e. χόρτος and ἀρακος chiefly; cf. P. Tebt. I. pp. 563-4.

18. ἐν θέματι: i. e. the corn was to be deposited in the State granary to the credit of the lessor; cf. 518. introd.

34-41. Cf. the parallel passage in 101. 26-34, which is somewhat more detailed. The meaning is that the lessees actually paid the δημόσια to the State, but a corresponding deduction was made from the rent. αὐ in l. 37 is perhaps ἀνῆλθωσι, in which case ιδίαις is a mistake for ιδίοις. δαπάναις (cf. 101. 31) cannot be read.

502. LEASE OF A HOUSE.

A. D. 164.

Lease of a house and its appurtenances at Oxyrhynchus for eighteen months at a rent of 200 drachmae per annum, the tenant being bound to deliver up the buildings in good repair at the end of the lease, and the landlord being responsible for the police-tax and brick-tax (cf. l. 43, note).

'Dionysia daughter of Chaeremon with her guardian her son Apion also called Dionysius son of Diogenes, priest of Faustina Augusta, both of Oxyrhynchus, has leased to Ptolema daughter of Theon, of Antinoë, through Iulus son of Didymus, by adoption son of Demetrius also called Apollonius, of Oxyrhynchus, for one year and six months dating from the 1st of the current month Phamenoth of the present 4th year of the lords and Emperors Antoninus and Verus the house which she owns, and which previously belonged to her second cousin Chaeremon, of Antinoë, at Oxyrhynchus in the Temgenouthis quarter, with the court and two yards in one of which is a well, and the portico which adjoins the house and the other fixtures and the entrance and exit, at a rent for the premises leased of 200 silver drachmae a year. If the lease is guaranteed the lessee shall pay the lessor at the conclusion of each period of six months the proportionate amount of the rent, 100 drachmae, and shall together with her assigns have the use of the premises leased to her as aforesaid for the appointed time without hindrance, and thereafter shall deliver them up free from filth and with the doors and keys received by her of all the premises, and the reel of the aforesaid well provided with a new rope, and the two existing stone presses with the water-pitchers and trough, or shall forfeit the value of anything which she fails to deliver and any arrears of rent increased by one half, and the lessor shall have the right of execution upon the lessee and upon all her property, the lessor being liable for the police-tax and brick-making tax. This lease is valid. The 4th year of the Emperor Caesar Marcus Aurelius Antoninus Augustus and the Emperor Caesar Lucius Aurelius Verus Augustus, Phamenoth 5. I, Apion also called Dionysius, have been registered as my mother's guardian, and have leased together with the above-mentioned premises the chambers in the court. The same date.'

37. ὑδρίων καὶ ὀλμων: the genitives depend loosely upon ληνός, as if μερά had been written.

43. φυλάκτρον καὶ πλωθενομένης: the form φύλακτρον for the police-tax is also found written out in P. Cairo 10429 (Goodspeed, Univ. of Chicago Decennial Publications, V. No. 10), where it is coupled with λαογραφία. πλωθενομένη (cf. 574) is clearly also a tax, and probably the payments ὑπὲρ πλωθ() in some Theban ostraca of the second century (Wilcken, Ost. I. p. 280) are to be identified with it. It was very likely a payment in lieu of providing so many bricks to the government and may well be a variant for the ναύβιον tax, on which see P. Tebt. I. p. 337. The fact that in one of the ostraca the tax ὑπὲρ πλωθενομένης is calculated upon the aroura would be in keeping with such a view. In the Fayûm the manufacture of bricks seems to have been a government monopoly; cf. P. Fay. Towns 36, introd.

503. DIVISION OF PROPERTY.

A. D. 118.

An agreement for the division of a house and court at the village of Kerkethuris between four persons, of whom the first, Epimachus son of Harsisēs, received $\frac{2}{3}$ of the property, his two cousins Epimachus and Petosiris each $\frac{1}{6}$, and the paternal aunt of the three, Sepsarion, $\frac{1}{6}$. A free space was to be left as an εἴσοδος to the several parts, apparently on the east side of the court.

504. SALE OF CATOECIC LAND.

33.2 x 13.5 cm.

Early second century A. D.

Contract for the sale of $6\frac{2}{3}$ aourae of catoecic land in the Oxyrhynchite nome for 1000 drachmae, the seller being Aphroditous, a freedwoman, acting with her husband Adrastus as κύριος, and the buyer being Flavius Apion. The adoptive mother of the seller, Thaisous, who seems to have had some rights of ownership over the land, appends her consent. The formula of the papyrus differs somewhat from that found in similar contracts from the Arsinoite and Heracleopolite nomes (e.g. C. P. R. I. 1 and 6). The contract is dated in the third year of an emperor who was probably Trajan or Hadrian, and is written in a small cursive hand with several mistakes of spelling and grammar. Cf. 833.

‘The 3rd year of the Emperor Caesar . . . at Oxyrhynchus in the Thebaid. Aphroditous also called Demarous, freedwoman of Epicrates son of Epicrates son of Heraclides, of Oxyrhynchus, by adoption daughter of Epicrates and of his wife Thaisous also called Thaësis daughter of Heraclides, with her guardian her husband Adrastus son of . . . and Eudaemonis, of Philonicus in the . . . nome, agrees with Flavius Apion however he is styled, in the street, that she has ceded to him . . . the 6½ arourae of catocic land which belong to her near Psobthis in the eastern toparchy in the additional holding of Ptolemaeus son of Theodotus son of . . . , of which land the adjacent areas are stated in the documents dealing with the previous ownerships, and that she delivers to Flavius Apion, his children, and assigns the 6½ arourae which are ceded, together with the other . . . , by a valid deed for ever in accordance with the returns and orders concerning them, in lieu of the sum received by Aphroditous herself from Flavius Apion for the cession, namely 1000 drachmae of Imperial silver coin, in full, and that the contracting party Aphroditous also called Demarous will not violate this contract or any part of it under any circumstances, but will deliver all the 6½ arourae ceded to Flavius Apion and to his assigns for all time with every guarantee free from all public imposts and all other taxes from previous times up to the 5th intercalary day of the month Caesareus of the past and year including the 2nd year, because the produce of the present year belongs to Flavius Apion who shall be responsible for the public imposts from Thoth of the present year. If the contracting party violates any of these provisions, her action shall be invalid and she shall in addition forfeit to Flavius Apion or his assigns for each aggression both the amount of the damage and a fine of 1000 drachmae of silver and to the State the like sum, and nevertheless the contract shall be valid. The aforesaid adoptive mother of Aphroditous also called Demarous, Thaisous also called Thaësis daughter of Heraclides son of Olympus, her mother being Heraclea, of the metropolis of the Heracleopolite nome, with her guardian Heraclides son of Epicrates brother on the mother's side of her above-mentioned and deceased husband and father of Aphroditous also called Demarous, Epicrates also called Apion, gives her consent to all the aforesaid provisions and conceded the land upon these terms. This agreement is valid.' Signatures of Aphroditous written by her guardian Adrastus, and of Thaisous written by her guardian Heraclides, and a list of the persons concerned in the contract with their ages and distinguishing marks.

7. Φιλόνικον: a funerary inscription concerning an inhabitant of a village bearing this name was found by us at Hibeh in 1902. 'Ηρακλεσπολίτου should very likely be restored after τ[οῦ].

9. μένος may be the termination of παραχωρού|μενος referring to Flavius Apion. For ἱππικοί στοθοί at this period cf. 482. 18, note. The sense of ll. 9-10 corresponds to C. P. R. I. 1. 11 [ἐπιτετε]λ[έ]κται τὴν Πτολεμαίδα τὰς εἰς τὸν Μάρωνα [δὲ τ]οῦ κατοικικοῦ λογι-στηρίου τῶν παρα[κε]χωρημένων ἀρουῶν τριῶν οἰκονομίας.

12. προ|στέματος: the technical meaning of this variant for the usual word κλήρου is obscure. καὶ cannot be read after τοῦ in l. 44.

13. προκτήσεων: cf. C. P. R. I. 187. 6 καθὼς αἱ περὶ αὐτῶν προκτήσεις περιέχουσιν, and 4. 10 ὧν τὰ μέτρα καὶ τὰς γενιῆς διὰ τῶν προκτητικῶν τέτακται, where the editor wrongly reads στροκλητικῶν.

τὴν ὑπαρ[χ]. . . : no word but ὑπάρχειν in some form suggests itself, in which case τὴν refers to the land. But though the construction of ll. 13-6 is difficult (τὰς παραχωρουμένας ἀρούρας must under any circumstances be read in l. 15), it is probable that τὴν ὑπαρ[χ] refers to Aphroditous, meaning 'having delivered' and that ὑπαρ[χ] is a mistake for ὑπερ[χ].

32. μὴν ἦσσαν: for the omission of κύρια μένειν τὰ προγεγραμμένα cf. 492. 10.

57. The abbreviated word which follows the age in each case (cf. 633) is very cursively written, and might be read ἐνι or ἀνοι. The last letter is certainly ι not ρ.

‘Ophelas also called Besas son of Sarapas and Apollonous, of Oxyrhynchus, appointed as a representative by Artemidorus son of Amenneus son of Artemas, his mother being Thakoris daughter of Amenneus, also of Oxyrhynchus, by the terms of a deed of representation drawn up through the registry-office at Oxyrhynchus in the present month, of which a copy is appended, to Eudaemonis also called Plutarche stated as the daughter of Sinthonis daughter of Pekusis, and her mother Sinthonis daughter of Pekusis and Teenkegous, both of Tanais, jointly, each with her guardian, in the case of Eudaemonis also called Plutarche, Ammonius also called Dionysius son of Ammonius and Harasis, of Oxyrhynchus, and in that of Sinthonis, her full brother Pachnubis, greeting. I acknowledge that I have sold to you of the paternal house and yard and adjoining court which belong to the aforesaid Artemidorus, whom I represent, at the said city in the quarter of Pammenes' Garden, of the said court in the eastern portion of it 50 square cubits extending from north to south as far as the end of the whole court and from east to west as far as the said 50 square cubits reach. The adjacent areas of the portion of the court sold to you by me, by survey 50 cubits, are, on the south the land of Diogenes and others, on the north that of Sarapion stated as the son of Thaisous, on the east that of Lucius Herennius Crispus and others, on the west the remaining walls of the said court. The sum mutually agreed upon between us as the price of the said land sold to you by me, by survey 50 square cubits, namely 500 drachmae of Imperial silver coin, I have received on the spot from you from hand to hand in full . . .

506. LOAN OF MONEY ON SECURITY.

(a) 16×17.7 cm., (b) 10.7×14.2 cm.

A. D. 143.

Contract for the loan of 1000 drachmae for two years and nine months at 6 per cent. per annum, from Sarapion to two sisters called Thatres and Teteorion, and their mother Demas, upon a mortgage of $1\frac{4}{8}$ arouae of land belonging to the sisters. The document being a copy of the original deed the signatures are omitted. For other examples of loans upon security cf. 507, P. Brit. Mus. 311, and the Florence papyrus cited on p. 172. The papyrus is in two pieces of which the exact relation to each other is uncertain, besides a small detached scrap.

'Copy. The 7th year of the Emperor Caesar Titus Aelius Hadrianus Antoninus Augustus Pius, the of the month Hadrianus, at Oxyrhynchus in the Thebaid. Sarapion son of Herodes son of Exacon, of Oxyrhynchus, his mother being Caecilia Polla, has lent to Thatres and Teteorion, both daughters of Apollonius son of . . . , and to their mother Demas daughter of Apollonius son of Panechotes, her mother being Philotera, all three Persians from the village of Pela, each with her guardian, of Thatres her husband Peteuris son of Ammonas son of Sagathes, his mother being Panechotis, of Oxyrhynchus, of Teteorion her maternal uncle Panechotes son of Apollonius and Philotera, of the aforesaid Pela, and of Demas her paternal uncle Hatres son of Panechotes son of Apollonius, of the said Pela, in the street, a sum of 1000 drachmae of Imperial silver coin, to which nothing has been added, at the interest of 3 obols for each mina per month dating from the present month Hadrianus. The borrowers shall pay to the lender the interest at the conclusion of each twelvemonth, the lender having security for everything for which they do not produce his written receipt, and the principal on the 30th of the month Caesareus of the 9th year of Antoninus Caesar the lord together with the interest for the remaining 9 months without any delay. If they fail, Thatres and Teteorion concede that the borrower and his assigns in place of the principal and of all interest which he may not receive shall from the time when the payment falls due have the possession and ownership for ever out of the land owned by them in equal shares near the said Pela in the cavalry-soldier's holding of Diocles and Ptolemaeus, Persian, namely the third part of what was previously a vineyard but is now dry vine-land, in the most northerly portion of the said third part 14½ arourae with all their contents, of which the adjacent areas are, on the south the land of Stephanus . . . and Thatres the aforesaid, daughter of Apollonius, on the north . . . , on the east a canal . . . and the land of Stephanus, on the west . . . ; and (the borrowers) are compelled to deliver this land to the lender or his assigns guaranteed for all time against all risks with every guarantee and free from obligation to cultivate Crown land or Imperial estates and from all kinds of imposts and all State requisitions and taxes dating from previous times up to the period of Sarapion's ownership. And until the borrowers repay to the lender the principal and the interest, Thatres and Teteorion have no right to sell this land or mortgage it or dispose of it in any other way or register any one as owning it, while the lender has the right at the expiration of the term of the loan, if he fails to recover it, to assume the ownership of this land in place of both the principal and whatever interest at 6 per cent. he may fail to recover and interest for overtime at the equal rate of 6 per cent., and to make an execution upon the borrowers who are security to each other for payment and upon whichever of them he chooses and upon all the aforesaid land and upon the rest of their property as if in accordance with a legal decision, the lender having the right whenever he chooses to register his mortgage at the property record-office . . . , and the said lender shall incur no loss in his right of execution for the other sums which Thatres and Teteorion owe him in respect of another loan drawn up through the said registry-office in the present month Hadrianus for which their mother is security upon the mortgage of the aforesaid 14½ arourae of wheat-bearing land, namely a principal sum of 1 talent 600 drachmae and interest, but all the provisions of that deed are valid. This contract is valid.'

24. Πέροντον ἑπτακοῦ ὀλίηρον: cf. notes on 482. 18 and 483. 5.

37. γεωργίας βασιλικῆς καὶ [οδοι]ακῆς γῆς: cf. P. Amh. 95. 4, where βασιλικῆς alone is found in a similar context. We there suggested either γῆς or γεωργίας as the word to be supplied, and Wilcken (Archiv, II. p. 132), comparing C. P. R. 6. 16 where γῆς is found, decided in favour of the first alternative. The present passage shows however that, though βασιλικῆς refers to γῆς, γεωργίας when not expressed is to be understood; cf. 577 and 633.

42. For the restoration of the lacuna cf. 491. 8. P. Brit. Mus. 311. 13-4 should similarly be restored ἄλλως [καταγοημα]ρίσαι.

44. κυριεύειν is rather short for the lacuna, which admits of one or two more letters; but cf. 270. 30, &c.

54. Probably [ἐξ ἐγγυή]σεως or [ἐξ ἀναπεί]σεως.

507. LOAN OF MONEY UPON SECURITY.

A. D. 169.

An acknowledgement, addressed to Diogenes, a gymnasiarch of Oxyrhynchus, by Harmisius, of the loan of 260 drachmae at 12 per cent. interest per annum. The money was employed in the purchase of hay, upon which the creditor was by the terms of the contract given a mortgage; cf. 506. In the left-hand margin are some notes in a different hand, which seem to have no connexion with the loan and are not reproduced.

On the verso is a draft of a contract (509).

I acknowledge that I have received from you the sum of 260 drachmae of silver to which nothing has been added, at the interest of 1 drachma upon a mina for each month from the current month Pharmouthi. And I will repay the principal with the interest on Phamenoth 30 of the coming 10th year of Aurelius Antoninus Caesar the lord without delay, or if I fail I will forfeit the amount increased by one half together with interest for the overtime at the same rate of 1 drachma a month for each mina, for which you are to have the right of execution upon both myself and all my property. The aforesaid 260 drachmae I have employed in buying up hay which is to be stored in the camel-shed of Similis at Oxyrhynchus which I have on lease, and it shall not be lawful for me to remove or sell or pledge this hay until I repay you the principal and interest, because it is mortgaged to you. And if any accident should happen to the said hay no damage shall accrue to you, because the sum and the interest are

509. MODIFICATION OF AN AGREEMENT.

19.7 × 8.7 cm.

Late second century.

This draft-agreement, in which the names of the principal parties are not given, is a modification of a previous contract by which the writer had appointed a representative to collect a debt owed to him at Alexandria. The debt having been paid in the meantime, the writer now limits the duty of his representative to issuing a receipt for it. For contracts appointing representatives cf. 94, 97, and 261. The document is written on the verso of 507.

'A to B, greeting. To-day I appointed you by a public deed drawn up through the record-office here as my representative to collect from Gaius Memmius Cornutus also called Polydeuces, who is at Alexandria, my share of the sums owed by him to my said father's heir, his nephew Heraclides also called Amoitais, but it happens that I have been paid the debt in full. I acknowledge that the contract of representation has been made with you for the sole purpose of your issuing a receipt to the officials without receiving anything, and for cancelling the mortgage, because I have, as aforesaid, already received the money as stated in the autograph receipts which I have issued, and I make no claim on any matter whatever.'

7-9. The relationship of the different persons mentioned in this contract is rather difficult to make out, especially owing to the omission of the names of the principals. Apparently the father of the man who speaks in the first person had bequeathed certain sums owing to himself at his death to his nephew Heraclides with the stipulation that half of them was to be paid to his son. τοῦ αὐτοῦ in l. 8 refers to the father (of τῆς), whose name would be given in the actual contract. αὐτοῦ in l. 9 also refers to the father.

'... her mother being Tausiris daughter of . . . , from Psobthis in the eastern toparchy, with her guardian her said husband Dionysius, acknowledges the receipt from them (the agreement being made in the street) of the capital sum of 472 silver drachmae of the Imperial coinage, lent by him to them in accordance with a contract of loan executed through the record-office in the same city of Oxyrhynchus in the month Caesareus of the 3rd year of Trajanus Caesar the lord, and to be repaid on the 5th intercalary day of the following 4th year, on the security of property of Dionysius in the aforesaid Psobthis consisting of a half-share of some open plots of land and shares of a house that has fallen in and a half-share of a second house and its fixtures and shares of another house and court and open plots and the house and yard and other fixtures formerly belonging to Claudius Theon at the said Psobthis. Artemidorus accordingly in release of the mortgage has forthwith handed over to the other parties to the agreement the binding contract of loan and the tax-receipts to be cancelled, and acknowledges the further receipt from them of the interest upon the capital sum and the taxes which have been demanded from him, and that neither Artemidorus himself nor any other person on his behalf either makes or will make any claim or will proceed against the other parties to the agreement . . .'

7. τελειωθήσαν: cf. 239. 9, note.

19. τὴν ἐπίφορον τοῦ δανείου συγγραφῆν: cf. 266. 14 ἤ[ε] (sc. συγγραφῆς) τὴν ἐπίφορον αὐτοῦθεν ἀναδεωκέναι. This use of ἐπίφορος is derived from the common formula at the end of contracts of loan κυρία ἡ δμολογία πανταχὲ ἐπιφερομένη καὶ παντὶ τῷ ἐπιφέροντι (cf. 269. 12, &c.).

20. τελῶν: the tax on mortgages is meant; cf. 511. 4-5, note.

511. ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF LOAN.

13.3 × 7 cm.

A. D. 103.

A receipt for 16 drachmae lent by Didymus to Harmiusis to enable the latter to pay the amount of the tax upon a mortgage. The loan was only a temporary accommodation, to be returned immediately. The writing is across the fibres of the papyrus.

'Harmiusis also called Heraclas to Didymus son of Sarapion, keeper of a public ἀφροδίσιον, greeting. I have received from you the remainder of the tax upon a mortgage of the 3rd year of Trajanus Caesar the lord, namely 16 drachmae of silver, total 16 drachmae, which I will repay to you when I arrive on the spot without delay. The 7th year of the Emperor Caesar Nerva Trajanus Augustus Germanicus Dacicus, Thoth 6.'

2-3. δημοσίῳ ἀφροδ(ισιαστῇ ?): the papyrus is rubbed and the reading somewhat uncertain, but though ἀφροδισιαστῆς does not seem to occur elsewhere it is a likely enough word. On the ἀφροδίσια of the Ptolemaic period cf. P. Tebt. I. 6. 29, note. The present passage supports the view that the supply of ἐταῖραι in Roman times was a monopoly of the government; cf. P. Grenf. II. 41 and Fay. Towns, pp. 149 sqq.

4-5. τέλος ὑποθήκ(η)ς: cf. 348, 510. 20. The amount of the tax upon mortgages, which is also known by the more general term ἐγκύκλιον, is shown by 243 to have been 2 per cent., payable by the mortgagee.

6. γ (ἔτους): the receipt being dated in the 7th year, Harmiusis' payment was four years in arrear. This seems a remarkably long period, but the figure before (ἔτους), though rubbed, is certainly γ and not ζ.

512. PAYMENT FOR FODDER.

An acknowledgement to Apion, an ex-gymnasiarch, from Dorion, an ex-exegetes, that he had bought green-stuff produced by Apion for 1720 drachmae. Of this sum 600 drachmae were paid to Apion, and the rest was to be paid to the agents of the heirs of Aurelius Antiochus, who were no doubt Apion's landlords and thus received approximately $\frac{2}{3}$ the value of the crop.

513. RECEIPT FOR SALE OF CONFISCATED PROPERTY.

A. D. 184.

An acknowledgement from Diogenes to Serenus of the receipt of 705 drachmae 3 obols 3 chalci. This sum had been paid by Diogenes to the State in A.D. 181 as the price (including extra payments) of some confiscated house-property, which had been sold to him by the strategus at an auction. Two years later however a much higher bid for the property, amounting to three times that of Diogenes, was made by Serenus, to whom it was assigned by the dioecetes, the arrangement of the strategus being thus overridden. In the present document Diogenes acknowledges that he has been repaid by Serenus the sum which he had expended on the purchase. The papyrus throws some interesting light upon the methods of the government in dealing with confiscated property, and incidentally provides important information with regard to the banks at this period; cf. notes on ll. 7 and 37.

'Diogenes also called Dionysius, son of Sarapion son of Hermias, of the Phylaxitha-lassian tribe and Althaeac deme, to Serenus son of Philiscus son of Sarapion, his mother being Helene, of Oxyrhynchus, greeting. Whereas I was assigned by Nemesianus, then strategus of the nome, in the 22nd year of Aurelius Commodus Antoninus Caesar the lord in the month Hadrianus from the unsold property of the Treasury a house, yard, and court with the fixtures, situated in the quarter of the Lycians' Camp, previously owned by Sarapion, late . . . , at 600 drachmae according to the valuation and the extra payments, and whereas I was registered by the basilico-grammateus of the nome, Pericles, as owing this sum together with the additional payments, making 637 drachmae 3 obols, and likewise for interest for the 22nd year 39 drachmae 3½ obols 3 chalci, and as interest for the 23rd year 28 drachmae 2½ obols, making a total of 68 drachmae 3 chalci for interest, and whereas I paid into the public bank for the price of the house in all 637 drachmae 3 obols and likewise for the interest debited to me the sum of 68 drachmae 3 chalci, the receipts for which payments with the signature of me, Diogenes also called Dionysius, I have delivered to you, Serenus, because you have made a higher bid for the aforesaid house and have raised the price to 1800 drachmae, and the property has been made over to you by a letter of his highness the dioecetes, Ventidius Rufinus . . . , ex-strategus, in the present 24th year on Mecheir 30 for the 1800 drachmae and extra payments, and the basilico-grammateus has debited you in accordance with the supplementary note which he has issued, after reckoning the 600 drachmae paid by me, with the remaining 1200 drachmae and the additional payments: I acknowledge that in accordance with a communication of Epimachus who farms the bank at the Serapeum at Oxyrhynchus
 I have received from you the sums which I paid as aforesaid, for the price and the additional payments 637 drachmae 3 obols and for interest 68 drachmae 3 chalci, making a total of 705 drachmae 3 obols 3 chalci, and that I neither have nor will have any claim against you with regard to this or any other matter whatever up to the present day, and if any action is brought against you or your assigns with regard to this, I will take the responsibility upon myself. My father Sarapion son of Hermias son of Hermias, of the Sosicosmian tribe and Althaeon deme, being present consents to the aforesaid. This receipt is valid. The 24th year of the Emperor Caesar Marcus Aurelius Commodus Antoninus Augustus Pius Armeniacus Medicus Parthicus Sarmaticus Germanicus Maximus . . . I, Diogenes also called Dionysius, son of Sarapion, of the Phylaxithalassian tribe and Althaeon deme, have received from Serenus the aforesaid total of 705 drachmae 3 obols 3 chalci in full, and I have no claim against him with regard to this or any other matter whatever, as aforesaid, and if any action is brought against him or his in connexion with this, I will take the responsibility upon myself. I, Serenus son of Philiscus son of Sarapion, my mother being Helene, consent to the aforesaid provisions and have received the receipts with your signature as aforesaid. I, Sarapion son of Hermias son of Hermias, of the Sosicosmian tribe and Althaeon deme, consent to all the aforesaid provisions. Epeiph 4, executed . . .

1. [Φύλα]ξιθα[λ]ιάσειος δ καὶ [Ἀλθα]εύς: cf. l. 52 and 477. 7-8, note. It is curious that the father of Diogenes belonged to a different tribe; cf. l. 48 Σωσικόσμιος δ καὶ Ἀλθαεύς. Since the Phylaxithalassian was in all probability an Alexandrian tribe (cf. Kenyon, Archiv, II. p. 78) it is most likely that the Sosicosmian was also Alexandrian.

7. ἀπράτων τῆς διοικήσεως: the present passage serves to explain B. G. U. 18, a papyrus which caused Wilcken some difficulty; cf. Ost. I. pp. 505-6. The ἐν ἀπράτοις ὑπάρχοντα there were no doubt, as here, confiscated land and houses, and the commission appointed by the basilico-grammateus was limited to the assessment (συντιμήσασθαι B. G. U. 4; cf. l. 11, here) of this particular kind of property and has no reference to a valuation of private property in general. The συντίμησις was a kind of reserve price serving as a basis for higher offers; cf. the distinction drawn in 500. 13-4 between the regular rent of δημοσία γῆ and the ἐπίθεμα or increase.

11. The vestiges of the first word would suit [ἀρ]χυνεα[ρ]γοῦ; cf. 477. 4. But we hesitate to introduce that rare and curious title here, especially as τεταρτῇ is quite obscure.

12. For ἐπομένῳ in connexion with the purchase of confiscated property cf. P. Amh. 97. 14. We explained the ἐπίθεμα there as referring to the πρόσδοσις, or yearly payment to the State, mentioned in P. Brit. Mus. 164. But it would also be possible to refer the ἐπίθεμα to the προσδιαγραφόμενα and τόκοι which are added on here in ll. 14 sqq. to the original 600 drachmae of the συντίμησις. The προσδιαγραφόμενα here amount to $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on the 600 drachmae.

16. τόκου: though Diogenes bought the property in Hadrianus (Choiak) of the 22nd year, he seems not to have paid the purchase price until towards the middle of the 23rd year. Hence the necessity for interest.

37. ἀρχολοιμῶν ὡν τῆς . . . τραπεζῆς: this passage which clearly indicates that the bank at the Serapeum was farmed out by the government throws quite a new light upon the relation of the State to the banks in the Roman period. From Rev. Laws lxxiii sqq. it was known that under the Ptolemies the banks other than the βασιδικοί τράπεζαι were farmed out by the government; cf. Wilcken, Ost. I. p. 635. But in the absence of any indications in the Roman period that the banks called by names of individuals were anything but private banks, it has generally been supposed that the bank-monopoly enjoyed by the Ptolemaic government had been abolished (cf. op. cit. p. 647). But it is clear that in the case of this bank at any rate the privilege of administering it had to be bought from the government; and it is noticeable that in 91. 8 sqq., written four years later than 513, ἐπιτηρηταί of the bank at the Serapeum are mentioned, and the Epimachus who issues the ὑπόσχεσις (91. 11) is probably identical with the Epimachus here. Since ἐπιτηρηταί are commonly found in connexion with ὄναλ (op. cit. p. 599), the two papyri point to the same conclusion, and raise the problem how far the banks which are simply called by the name of an individual were really private. The bank at the Serapeum is mentioned in previous reigns (cf. 98. 8, 264. 7) under the names of different persons, and more probably they were either the ἀσχολούμενοι or the ἐπιτηρηταί of it than the owners. If this be granted, the persons who elsewhere give their names to banks may well be to a large extent, if not wholly, in the same position, and the condition of the banking business in the Roman period would not differ very much from that in the Ptolemaic. One change however can be traced; the δημοσία τράπεζα plays a less important rôle in Roman times than the βασιλικὴ τράπεζα had done previously, for most private transactions were in the Roman period conducted through the ιδιωτικαὶ τράπεζαι (cf. 305), whereas under the Ptolemies the existence of banks other than βασιλικάι is only known from the Revenue Papyrus. A tax called τραπέζικόν (?) occurs in 574, being perhaps a charge for the maintenance of the official banks.

514. RECEIPT FOR SALARY.

6.4 X 12 cm.

A. D. 190-1.

A receipt for an ὀψώνιον of 400 drachmae, addressed to two collectors of the corn-revenues by an unnamed person who was very likely a σιτολόγος, since he undertakes the registration (καταχωρισμός) of the account-books; cf. 515. The writer has made so many erasures and interlinear additions that the construction is in parts obscure. The papyrus was written in the 31st year of Commodus.

2. It is not clear with what $\epsilon\pi(\iota\rho)$ is to be connected. The analogy of l. 5 suggests that it governs $\tau\omega\sigma$, but from its position after $\delta\phi\epsilon\iota\lambda\acute{o}\nu\tau(\omega\sigma)$ it would seem to refer to $\gamma\epsilon\eta(\mu\alpha\tau\omicron\varsigma)$.

5. α with a stroke over it may be either $\alpha\upsilon(\tau\omicron\upsilon)$ or $(\pi\rho\acute{o}\tau\epsilon\rho\omicron\nu)$.

Cf. P. Philiscus and Herodes, keepers of the public records, to Chaeremon and Papontes, sitologi of the Monimus district, and Heraclides, sitologus of the Sink . . . district, and Dionysius, ex-sitologus of the M . . . district, greeting. There has been registered with us through the scribe Apollonius on Phamenoth 30 of the 18th year of Hadrianus Caesar the lord the detailed list for each sitologus-district of the supplementary payments of wheat-produce for the 17th year, and by Chaeremon and Papontos for the Monimus district and by Heraclides for the Sink . . . district the monthly summary for Mecheir, and by Chaeremon and Papontos only for the Monimus district both the monthly summary for Phamenoth and the secondary detailed list of receipts. Signed by me, Theon, scribe.

2. Σωκε() τέπ(ων): no doubt identical with Σωκε() in 517. 6.

Μεμ(): the second letter is more like ν, but the μ above the line is fairly certain, being just like the second μ of Μομίμ(ον).

3. Apollonius was probably the scribe of the sitologi, since the scribe of the βιβλιοφύλακες, who appends his signature at the end, is called Theon.

7. μεταλόγιον(ν): this word, which is new, would seem to be connected with the phrase μετὰ λόγον which occurs in Fayûm tax-receipts (cf. P. Fay. Towns 53. 2-3, note), and to indicate a second tax-list giving the details of the individual payments, as contrasted with the μηνιαίων which only gave the totals.

516. ORDER FOR PAYMENT IN KIND.

A.D. 160.

Authorization addressed to the sitologi by Dionysius, a victor in the games and late exegetes, for the payment to Apion of a quantity of wheat. 619-82 are a series of similar notices to the sitologi, another specimen of which is 88. These διαστολικά (cf. 533. 4) appear to be, so far, peculiar to Oxyrhynchus; and clearly indicate that the sitologi, besides receiving dues to the government, undertook the storage of grain for private individuals, the public granaries thus presenting the closest analogy to the public banks. The correlatives of these orders on the sitologi are found in the receipts issued by them stating that a certain payment had been made, e.g. 517-8. Those two documents are clearly concerned with private transactions, notwithstanding the opening formula μεμέτρη(νται) εἰς τὸ δημόσιον; and they show that caution must be exercised in the explanation of other sitologus receipts from the Fayûm and elsewhere, which need not refer to payments to the government of rent or taxes in the absence of an express statement to that effect. Cf. also 501. 18, 24, 26, and 533. 24.

‘Dionysius son of Faustus also called Amphion, a victor in the games and sometime exegetes of Oxyrhynchus, through Horion, scribe, to the sitologi of the district of Kerkeurosia in the middle toparchy, greeting. The 24th year of Antoninus Caesar the lord, Athur 21. (Signed) Presented by me, Apion son of Apion.’

2. τῶν ἱερωνικ(ῶν): a ἱερωνίκης or victor in one of the great games had special privileges; cf. 59. 12-3, where a ἱερωνίκης claims exemption from the duty of attending the praefect's court at Alexandria, and P. Brit. Mus. 348. 6 τῶν ἱερωνικῶν καὶ ἀτελῶν.

5. Κερκευ(ρώσεως): cf. 625, where the name is written out.

517. RECEIPT FOR PAYMENT IN KIND.

10.5 x 5.6 cm.

A. D. 130.

Copy of a receipt issued by a sitologus and others stating that 30 artabae of wheat had been transferred from the account of Papontos to that of Sarapion. As explained in the introduction to the preceding text, both this papyrus and 518, which is similar in contents, have every appearance of referring to transactions between private individuals; and they are to be regarded as certificates from the sitologi corresponding to orders for payment such as 516. Cf. 612-7.

Ἡ Psobthis, paid in the 14th year from Senepta, 30 artabae. Measured into the public granary, from the produce of the 14th year of Hadrianus Caesar the lord through Theon sitologus of Sink . . . and Horus and Ptollas, lessees of Heraclides son of Antias, to Sarapion son of Herodes out of the deposit of Papontos son of Dorotheus, cultivator, 35 artabae of wheat, total 35 art. of wheat. (Signed) I, Horus, through Stephanus, clerk, have certified the 35 artabae of wheat, total 35 art. of wheat. I, Ptollas, through Diomus, clerk, have certified the 35 artabae of wheat, total 35 art. of wheat.

1-2. Whether these two lines have any connexion with what follows is uncertain. They appear to have been written by the same hand as the rest of the text, but this fact does not establish any essential relationship since the handwriting of the signatures in ll. 14-20 shows the receipt to be only a copy.

(g) ACCOUNTS.

519. ACCOUNT OF PUBLIC GAMES.

(a) 8.9 x 6 cm., (b) 11.1 x 6.6 cm. Second century.

Two fragments, apparently in the same hand, though the writing is a little larger in one case than in the other, from accounts of receipts and expenditure in connexion with the public games at Oxyrhynchus. (a) gives a list of payments on Mecheir 23 for a theatrical entertainment, including the high sums of 496 drachmae to an actor, and 448 drachmae to a Homeric rhapsodist, besides payments for music and dancing. The other fragment (b) contains the end of a list of receipts which amounted to 500 drachmae 1 obol in all, the exegetes and cosmetes contributing 95 drachmae 1 obol. There follows (ll. 4-13) a list of payments in connexion with a religious procession (κωμασία), which amounted to 124 drachmae 96 obols, the silver and copper being, as often, added up separately, and then (ll. 14-6) another list of payments to gymnastic performers.

1. L (cf. ll. 10 and 19) is the sign for subtraction.

18. παλμῶν: probably from a Graecized form of palmā.

520. ACCOUNT OF A SALE.

22.4 × 17 cm.

A. D. 143.

Report of a sale of articles from a miscellaneous store (παντοπώλιον) belonging—or lately belonging—to a man called Chares. The fact that the report is rendered to three overseers (ἐπιτηρηταί) and that the result of the sale was paid over to them renders it extremely probable that the goods had for some reason been confiscated by the government, and sold by auction. For ἐπιτηρηταί in this connexion cf. B. G. U. 49. 5 ἐπιτηρητῆς γενημ(ατογραφουμένων). The account was originally glued on the left side to another document, now lost.

(Signed) Certified by me, Claudius Dionysius.

2. The mutilated word at the end of the line is not λεγόμενον.

6. διπλ(ών): cf. 141.5 (of the Byzantine period), where the διπλ(ών) is a measure of wine. The form διπλοκέραμος or διπλοκεράμιον is found in Wilcken, Ost. II. 1166. 4-5, and this may also be meant here.

9. Κερκενη() apparently gives the name of the place at which Ammonas lived. The word after χω() does not seem to be διπλ(ών). Possibly χω should not be separated from the following letters.

13. σελίω(ν): an unknown word, but cf. Hesych. σάλια· πλέγμα καλάθῃ ὁμοῖον δ' ἐπὶ τῆς κεφαλῆς φοροῦσιν αἱ Λάκαιαι.

521. LIST OF OBJECTS.

Second century.

Part of a list of articles, which is of interest on account of some rare words. Statuettes or shrines of Isis, Osiris, and Harpocrates are mentioned, and the list perhaps refers to the property of some temple; cf. the mention of ιδιωται (?) in l. 10. This supposition is strengthened by the contents of a fragmentary account on the verso in which occurs a payment of 800 drachmae γεγε[σ]ίω(ν) θεοῦ Οὐεσπ(ασιανῶς) and another amount] γεγεσίω(ν) θεοῦ Νερούα αἰ[(cf. B. G. U. 1. 9, 392. x. 9, &c.). To the left of the list on the recto are a few letters of the ends of lines of an account in a different hand.

7. λοῦσκιον Pap.

6. ξολονάσκιον is a new compound.

11. 25 artabae seems rather an incongruous item, but we can find no alternative.

13. βάδλλος occurs in Suidas, but the meaning was unknown. L. Dindorf remarks (ap. Stephanus s. voc.) nisi potius nomen est proprium factum a βάδος... corruptum videri potest ex βάδιμος. The present passage disposes of this criticism by showing conclusively that βάδλλος means a vessel or instrument of some kind, in this case made of iron, and Mr. Smyly is no doubt right in identifying it with the Latin batillum or batillus, 'shovel'; cf. the mention of 'tongs' (καρκίνος) in l. 14.

18. ὑδρῆν is for ὑδρεῖον.

22. γαλακτο[] is probably a compound word meaning a receptacle for milk; it recurs in l. 24.

522. ACCOUNT OF CORN-TRANSPORT.

30.8 x 18 cm.

Second century.

An account, probably rendered by an official to his superior, of expenses connected with the dispatch of several boat-loads of corn by river, no doubt to Alexandria. The papyrus is written in a large cursive hand, resembling that of 520.

1. Triadelphus, like Horion son of Ammonius and Pausiris, was probably the owner of an ἀπόστολον. The payments in ll. 2 and 14, which are at the rate of slightly more than 1 obol per artaba, seem to be the charge for transport to the vessel's destination, probably Alexandria. Why in the first case there was an extra payment (l. 3) of 4 drachmae per 1000 is obscure. The calculation of the 712 and 12 dr. is not quite accurate. The correct figures would be 714 and 13 $\frac{1}{2}$.

4. ἐξώσει: if this word is not corrupt, it would seem to be a technical term connected with the fuller's trade.

6. στρ(ατιώτη): for soldiers accompanying the corn-vessels as ἐπίπλοοι cf. 276. 9.

11. The figure after ὡν τὸ (ἥμισυ) has not been filled in; cf. ll. 23-5.

15. ναυτικ(ῶν): this if correct means a payment to a ναύτης. Perhaps ναυτικ(ᾶ) (masculine) should be read. Horion 'the pilot' is probably different from the Horion in l. 12.

18. ἀρ(ων?): cf. 498. 31, &c.

21. παρὰ τὸ (ἥμισυ) (ἀράθης) is very obscure. The order is in favour of constructing it closely with ἐπηρ(ε)τοῦν(ι), and against making it mean 'in addition to the $\frac{1}{2}$ artaba received by the workman.'

10 τ[ελ]ίου] Ἰσιδος τοῦ ἐν τῷ Σαρα-π[ιε]ίῳ.]

'The voyage past the Antaeopolite nome is most troublesome; every day I am burdened on account of it and I am extremely worn out with the matter. If a gratuity must be given to the brother of the mother of Achilles' sons, please get some lotus (?) for him from Sarapion at my expense. Remember the night-festival of Isis at the Serapeum.'

7. $\sigma\pi\alpha\lambda\lambda\acute{\alpha}\rho\iota\omicron\nu$: cf. 610 and 101. 19, where in a lease 12 drachmae $\sigma\pi\omicron\nu\delta\eta\varsigma$ are an item in the rent. An additional payment of some kind is there meant, but the precise significance of the word is not clear. In 653 $\sigma\pi\omicron\nu\delta\eta$ is coupled with $\alpha\pi\omicron\mu\omicron\iota\omicron\alpha$ and $\epsilon\pi\alpha\rho\acute{\alpha}\upsilon\omicron\iota\omicron\nu$, which suggests that the charge 'for a libation' was primarily imposed upon vine-land (cf. Rev. Laws xxxvi. 19, where the $\epsilon\kappa\tau\eta$, i. e. $\alpha\pi\omicron\mu\omicron\iota\omicron\alpha$, is devoted $\epsilon\lambda\iota\varsigma$ τ[ὴν] $\theta\upsilon\sigma\iota\alpha\nu$ κα[ὶ] τὴν $\sigma\pi\omicron\gamma\delta\acute{\iota}\eta\nu$), though, as 101 shows, its application became extended.

10. There would perhaps be room for τῆς in the lacuna before *Ισιδος.

526. LETTER OF CYRILLUS.

16.2 x 11.9 cm.

Second century.

This letter is badly written and obscurely worded, and the writer was evidently a person of little culture. It contains a brief apology for a departure occasioned by the desire to recover a loan.

10. 1. ἀνέ[βα]ναι.

12. 1. παρέβαινον.

'Greeting, Calocaerus: I, Cyrillus, address you. I was not so unfeeling as to leave you without reason; for though a man gets his interest in Tubi tenfold, he still does not recover his capital. I am going up with the dancer; even if he were not going I should not have broken my word. Farewell. (Addressed) 'Deliver to Calocaerus.'

5-8. The meaning is that no amount of interest will satisfy a man who desires the repayment of the capital sum.

9. ὀρχηστῇ: cf. 519. (a) 6.

527. LETTER OF HATRES.

8.2 x 13.9 cm. Second or early third century.

A short letter from Hatres to his brother Heras, telling him to send and fetch a certain fuller if he required the latter's services.

'Hatres to Heras his brother, greeting. Do not neglect this, as I am keeping him. I pray for your health and prosperity. (Addressed) Deliver to Heras.'

6. The round bracket at the end of this line (cf. critical note) appears to indicate a wish on the part of the writer to cancel the first ἐπεὶ γὰρ . . . κατέχω, which is superfluous; but he should have been more explicit.

528. LETTER OF SERENUS.

18 x 12.8 cm.

Second century.

This curious and amusing letter, written in very bad Greek, is from Serenus to his sister (and probably wife) Isidora, who had gone away, but whom the writer wished to return.

'Serenus to his beloved sister Isidora, many greetings. Before all else I pray for your health, and every day and evening I perform the act of veneration on your behalf to Thôeris who loves you. I assure you that ever since you left me I have been in mourning, weeping by night and lamenting by day. Since we bathed together on Phaophi 12, I never bathed nor anointed myself until Athur 12. You sent me letters which would have shaken a stone, so much did your words move me. Instantly I answered you and gave the letter sealed (to the messenger) on the 12th, together with letters for you (?). Apart from your saying and writing "Colobus has made me a prostitute," he (Colobus) said to me, "Your wife sent me a message saying 'He himself (Serenus) has sold the chain and himself put me in the boat.'" You say this to prevent my being believed any longer with regard to my embarkation (?). See how many times I have sent to you! Whether you are coming or not, let me know. (Addressed) Deliver to Isidora from Serenus.

23. The ἐμβολή seems to refer to ll. 21-2, but the point of the allusion is obscure in both cases.

529. LETTER TO ATHENAROUS.

12.2 x 8.2 cm.

Second century.

A letter to a woman called Athenarous, announcing the dispatch of oil and fruit. The writer, whose name is lost, seems to have occupied some official position, for he mentions that he was about to accompany the praefect to Coptos.

I am going to Coptos with the praefect. (Addressed) To the house of Pausanias, ex-clerk of the city, for Athenarous daughter of Cerdon.'

530. LETTER OF DIONYSIUS.

19.8 x 12.2 cm.

Second century.

A letter from Dionysius to his mother Tetheus, chiefly concerned with money matters. The writer states that he has paid certain taxes, while some others for which his mother was being troubled had been omitted by an oversight; and he announces the dispatch of 112 drachmae, 108 of which were to be devoted to the redemption of his wardrobe from the pawnbroker. The letter is written in a well-formed uncial hand with occasional lapses into cursive. An example of Ξ formed with three distinct strokes occurs in l. 13.

'Dionysius to Tetheus his mother, greeting. I have received all the letters concerning which you write, and with regard to the wheat which the collectors have demanded from you it is admitted (?), but I had forgotten to make any order for payment; I have however paid in full the naubion and other taxes. Do not be concerned that the matter about which I wrote to Theon has not been carried out and that I have so long been engaged with Pausirion's business to no purpose . . . Please receive from Chaeremon the bearer of this letter 112 drachmae of silver of which you will give to my friend Sarapion son of Apei 100 drachmae and redeem my clothes, with 8 drachmae on account of interest, and keep 4 drachmae for yourself for the expenses of the festival. If I had had more I would have forwarded a further sum; I have borrowed to send even this. So pay him the money and get my clothes back safe, and put them in a secure place. Do not be anxious about us, for there is nothing the matter with us and we are at harmony with each other. Theonas salutes you. Salute the boys Apion and his brother Hermatois, Dionutas, those with Nice and the little Thaisous, all those with . . . , Heras and his household, Leontas the proud and his household, those with Taamois, and Thermoutharion. Good-bye. The 20th of the month Caesareus. (P.S.) Send me word about this immediately after the festival, whether you received the money and whether you recovered my clothes. Salute Dionutas and Theon. (Addressed) To my mother Tetheus.'

4. ὁμολ[ογο]ι: it is difficult to see what other supplement can be found for the lacuna, in which there is not room for more than four letters; of πτωτοί is probably the subject rather than οἱ πράκτορες. For ὁμολογος in connexion with the poll-tax cf. note on 478. 22.

10. Perhaps οἰδὲ ἀπαξ μ[ό]ν.

'Cornelius to his sweetest son, Hierax, greeting. All our household warmly salutes you and all those with you. Regarding the man about whom you write to me so often, claim nothing until I come to you auspiciously in company with Vestinus and the donkeys. For if the gods will I shall arrive quickly after Mecheir is over, since at present I have urgent affairs on hand. Take care not to offend any of the persons at home, and give your undivided attention to your books, devoting yourself to learning, and then they will bring you profit. Receive by Onnophris the white robes which are to be worn with the purple cloaks, the others you should wear with the myrtle-coloured (?) ones. I shall send you by Anoubas both the money and the monthly supplies and the other pair of scarlet cloaks. You won me over by the dainties, and I will send you the price of these too by Anoubas; until however Anoubas arrives, you must pay for the provisions of yourself and your household out of your own money, until I send you some. For the month of Tubi there is for yourself what you like, for Phronimus 16 drachmae, for Abascantus and his companions and Myron 9 drachmae, for Secundus 12 drachmae. Send Phronimus to Asclepiades in my name, and let him obtain from him an answer to the letter which I wrote to him, and send it. Let me know what you want. Good-bye, my son. Tubi 16. (Addressed) To my son Hierax from his father Cornelius.'

15. μουρσίμων: μυρσίμων seems to be intended, but μόρινον ('mulberry-coloured') occurs as an epithet of a σουβριμοσπάλλιον in C. P. R. I. 27. 8, and may be the word meant here.

18. The punctuation and meaning of this line are a little difficult. Of the known meanings of ἐξαλλάσσειν that of 'amuse' seems to be the most suitable and we refer τούτων to the δψάρια, making it depend on τιμὴν. If τούτων is connected with ἐξήλλαξας it must refer to the cloaks, and the sentence means that these were in exchange for the δψάρια.

19. For μέντοιγε as the first word of a sentence cf. P. Amh. 135. 11, where a comma should be placed after ἀναπλείν.

532. LETTER OF HERACLIDES.

21.5 x 10 cm.

Second century.

A letter from Heraclides to Hatres, reproaching him for not sending 20 drachmae. The letter is on the verso of the papyrus, the recto containing parts of nineteen lines from a taxing-account.

You ought without my writing to you to have sent me by Saētas the 20 drachmae, for you know that I paid them here to my partners; but you have waited all this time without paying me. Be sure therefore to give this sum at once to the bearer of this letter, that you may save me too from trouble. Mind that you do not fall and thereby cause me to come to you and dispute with you about it; for indeed I found you at Paomis the other day and wanted to welcome you; but you would not stay, being oppressed by an evil conscience.’

'Apion to his son Apion and his dearest Horion, many greetings. Before all else I pray for your health and for that of your children and wives. All that I wrote in the other letter, in order that I may not repeat it, consider that I wrote also to Horion. I have sent you by Eutyches of Ision Tryphonis 3 orders for payment, two for the cultivators of Maximus, the third for Diogenes son of . . . Issue them at once before Phaophi that they may not be later than the due time. Others were sent to Panechotes the lawyer; get these from him and pay him 64 drachmae. Sell the grass-seed and ask . . . whether he wants the man from Tampitei. Let my revenues which are paid through the cultivators either be placed on deposit at the store-house or be kept in safety in the possession of the cultivators, in order that if the gods will, we may, if they are neglected, have no complications with our adversary, or the cultivators must bear the risk. Do not lease the house of . . . to any one except to a woman who intends to live in it, for it is (wrong) to expose such a house to youths, that we may not be caused vexation and annoyance. Tell Zoilus the cultivator from Sento that in accordance with the agreements he must look after the money. Tell the twins also to be careful about the small change, and likewise tell Apollonius and Dionysius if you can send to Faberke in the eastern toparchy to Pausiris the donkey-driver, that, as they arranged, they are to pay me the jars of wine and must keep their pledge. Get from Harthionis the priest the 20 artabae of wheat, and from Zoilus the cultivator from Sento the 5 artabae of wheat which he borrowed from me. Look out at the office of the strategus a letter of the dioecetes written in the month of Thoth about the substitution of other names for mine in drawing lots for the post of collector. Tell Serenus at the camel-shed that he is to take care of the money. Tell Hermias, scribe of the collectors of money-taxes at Ision Panga, that he is to issue an order for the wheat which he owes me or for the amount which he approves. Let Heraclides son of Hermaiscus pay the 6 artabae of wheat on deposit. Tell Dionysius son of Epimachus, ex-chief-priest, that I petitioned the dioecetes about the revenue in order that a reduction might be made in the fine of Sarapion son of Phantias. Salute Statia my daughter and Heraclides and Apion, my sons. Salute little Serenus and Copreus and all our household individually. Amarantus and Zmaragdus salute you. I pray for your health. (Addressed) Deliver to my son Apion and Horion.

3. καὶ Ὁρίωνι γράφω seems to be a compressed way of saying λέγω καὶ Ὁρίωνι γεγραπμένοι.

4. For an example of a διαστολικόν see 516.

5. Βελεη. (): above η is what looks more like a rough breathing than any letter.

14. στομάχου[s]: this use of the word in the metaphorical sense of the Latin stomachus seems to be new.

17. Πα[β]ερκε ἀπηλιώτου: sc. τοπαρχίας; cf. 101. 4-5, and for the omission of τοπαρχία 510. 3.

λήμψονται ὃς παρακολουθῶν τῇ Ὀνοράτου κρίσει τὴν Κανωπίτιν ἐξετάσει ἵνα μήτε ὁ δανιστὴ[ς] καρ[πο]ν μὴτε ὁ χρεώστης, μηδέτερος δὲ ἐν κέρδει γένηται." Ὀρεστίνου πάλιν λέγοντος μὴ εἶναι παρ' ἑαυτῷ τὰ ὑπάρχοντ[α], Μαικ[ι]ανὸς εἶπεν " θε[λ]ῶν καὶ μὴ θέλων ἀποκαταστήσεις αὐτῷ. ὅπερ ἐὰν μὴ ποιήσης οὐ μόνον κατακριθήσει ἀλλὰ καὶ δαρήσ[η]. . .] μό[σ]ον εἴ τις δὲ ἄλλοι ἐνόχους ἑαυτοῖς νομίζουσιν εἶναι τὰς ὑποθήκας αὐτοὶ ὄψονται 24 letters [δι]καστὴν λαβεῖν." Κρηπίδου λέγοντος
" ὃν ἐὰν σὺ ὄψ[η], " Μαικιανὸς εἶπεν " ὁ χιλιάρχος ὃν μεταπέμψει δικα[ιο]ῦμεν."

The remains of the date show that the trial took place before the end of the reign of Antoninus Pius, and the praefecture of L. Volusius Maecianus, which has been the subject of much dispute (cf. P. Meyer, Hermes xxxiii.
p. 262 and Stein, Oesterr. Jahreshefte ii, Beiblatt Col. 107 and ibid. iii, Col. 222), therefore began before May A. D. 161. The supposed praefecture of Postumus (B. G. U. 388) in A. D. 161 may now be finally dismissed (cf. P. Meyer in Beiträge zur alten Geschichte I. p. 478), but some doubt is thrown upon the date assigned by De Ricci (Proc. Soc. Bibl. Arch. 1902 p. 65) and P. Meyer (l. c.) to the praefecture of T. Furius Victorinus, since the praefecture of L. Volusius Maecianus may occupy the whole period between the praefectures of M. Sempronius Liberalis and M. Annii Syriacus. 29 lines.

EGYPT EXPLORATION FUND.

GRAECO-ROMAN BRANCH.

THE EGYPT EXPLORATION FUND, which has conducted Archaeological research in Egypt continuously since 1883, in 1897 started a special department, called the Graeco-Roman Branch, for the discovery and publication of remains of classical antiquity and early Christianity in Egypt.

The Graeco-Roman Branch issues annual volumes, each of about 300 quarto pages, with facsimile plates of the more important papyri, under the editorship of Drs. B. P. GRENFELL and A. S. HUNT.

A subscription of One Guinea to the Branch entitles subscribers to the annual volume, and also to the annual Archaeological Report. A donation of £25 constitutes life membership. Subscriptions may be sent to the Honorary Treasurers—for England, Mr. H. A. GRUEBER; and for America, Mr. F. C. FOSTER.
